SCORES WILL BE ARRESTED

Warrants Issued for Participants in High Bridge Riot.

WOUNDED RECOVER

The Man Who Shot Charles Kelly Known to Authorities and Will Be Captured.

BALL PLAYERS SURRENDER

Vigorous measures will be taken by the county authorities to bring the High Bridge rioters to justice. Last night eight warrants were sworn out before Alderman John Groetzinger by County Detective Robert G. Robinson, charging spectators at the Sunday baseball game with inciting a riot. The man who carried the Stevens rifle with which Charles Kelly was killed is known to the officers and his arrest will soon follow, together with that of more than a score of men who participated in the attempted lynching. The three colored men who were wounded in the shooting are expected to recover.

At the post-mortem examination held over the body of Kelly it was discovered that he was killed by 22-caliber bullets. The Stevens rifle which was taken from the house of William B. Hays, on whose premises the fight took place, was the only 22-caliber weapon used in the battle, and the county detective says that he will have no trouble in getting his man. William Reisfar, a brother-in-law of Hays, was arrested yesterday, but made a satisfactory explanation of his actions and was released.

MAN WITH THE GUN IS KNOWN.

"Angel Dave" Cawley of McKain street, who made a grandstand play to have William Davis protected from the fury of the mob after the siege of the chicken coop had been raised, and John Grotty of Brownsville avenue, gave important testimony and were released by District Attorney John C. Haymaker on the promise that they would appear as witnesses at the inquest.

Grotty will be the commonwealth's star witness. He told the district attorney that he saw a strange man seize the rifle from Reisfar's hands and run to the small outbuilding where he shot Kelly.

"We know who this strange man is," said County Detective Robinson last night, "and we expect to capture him without delay. Late this afternoon I made informations against eight of the rioters, and the warrants were given to Constable Frank Cavanaugh, of Alderman Groetzinger's office to serve. On Tuesday I expect to catch the murderer of Kelly. We will not be obliged to depend upon circumstantial evidence because the testimony of Cawley and Grotty, as well as the report of the physicians who conducted the post mortem examination, show conclusively that the negro was killed by a bullet from the rifle taken from Hays' house. Wholesale arrests will be made and the prisoners will be held on charges of rioting and as witnesses of riot."

WHAT THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY SAYS.

District Attorney Haymaker also stated that there would be no opportunity for the guilty parties to escape. He said:

"The first charge to be made will be that of participating in riot. Every man who took part in the mob that surrounded the chicken coop, or who pursued the negroes up the hillside, will be guilty of the charge, and beside this, every man who had any part in the attack will be guilty of felonious assault. It is a serious offense and there are doubtless many who will stand convicted. The man who shot Kelly is guilty of murder notwithstanding the provoking incidents which may have led to the perpetration of the deed.

"I cannot say who will be arrested or against whom the informations have been made. Their names will be made public when the men have been caught. However, we are working and doing all in our power to carry out the investigation. Every effort will be put forth to punish the guilty, and to put an end to a repetition to such lawless acts in the county."

CAVANAUGH HAS HIS TROUBLES.

At 7 o'clock Constable Cavanaugh started out with his eight warrants. In West Liberty he found few persons who would admit that they knew anything about the riot. Those who said they had been there told the officer that they had witnessed the fighting from the front porch of their homes or had arrived after the trouble was over. Those who admitted being on the ground stated that they had seen no person of their acquaintance and were as dumb as oysters when asked for the details of the shooting. Cavanaugh picked his way over the hills and succeeded in finding some of his men. Others he deferred seeing until today, and on his return trip is likely to have assistance. More than a score of men are expected to be arrested before the sun goes down tonight. All the members of the ball team promised to visit the district attorney today.

In the South Side hospital yesterday Davis and "Sandy" Garrett, the colored officer who was wounded over the heart, were resting easy and were making good progress toward recovery. Garrett was visited late on Sunday night by Detective Robinson and Alderman David J. McGarey, when he was believed to be dying. A 38-caliber bullet had pierced his left lung in the region of his heart, and the fight is as follows:

"About 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the

CHICAGO-MILWAUKEE WIRELESS TELEGRAPH NOW IN WORKING ORDER

Mayors of Two Lake Cities Exchange Felicitations by Marconi System.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Chicago, June 1.—Wireless telegraphy between Chicago and Milwaukee is an accomplished feat. Mayor Harrison of Chicago sent a message to Mayor Rose of Milwaukee today as the first public communication by the Marconi system between any two cities of the United States. The message was transmitted from the station at Oak street, under the direction of W. W. Bradfield, Marconi's chief engineer. Mayor Harrison was present when his message was flashed northward.

In a few minutes the tape in the sending office caught the taps of the receiver. The answer of Mayor Rose had come. In the Oak street office were Mayor Harrison, Samuel Insull of the Edison Company, John Crerar and H. W. Beauclerc, the western representative of the Marconi interests. At the Milwaukee station were Mayor Rose, F. G. Bigelow, president of the First National Bank of Milwaukee; John I. Beggs, president of the Milwaukee Street Railroad Company, and E. C. Lewis of New York, a director of the Marconi Company.

It is probable that the connection between Chicago and Milwaukee will be made a permanent commercial venture. The board of trade is negotiating with the company for the transmission of commercial messages and quotations.

"This is the first time that two cities of the United States have been connected by wireless telegraphy," said Mr. Beauclerc. "Just what we shall do with our service we do not yet know. The chances are that we shall put it to commercial use soon. Lake steamship lines are to carry our instruments, and the system may be said to be well established locally."

In the station at Oak street the messages are received by the Morse code on a tape. The pole supporting the wires is 230 feet high and is kept firm by heavy guy wires.

FIFTY-SIX MOORS KILLED BY FRENCH

SAIDA, ALGERIA, June 1.—It is officially stated that the Moorish tribesmen had 56 killed and 20 wounded in their attack on M. Jonnart, governor general of Algeria, near Figuig. The condition of the 17 French sharpshooters, who were wounded in the fighting, is satisfactory. A detachment of French cavalry has left Ain Herra, for Beniounif. Gov.-Gen. Jonnart has arrived here. He received assurances of loyalty and devotion to France from numerous native chiefs during the journey.

CZAR OF RUSSIA HANGED IN EFFIGY

BALTIMORE, June 1.—(Special.)—An effigy of the czar of Russia was riddled with shot and burned at 5 o'clock this morning by a crowd of Bohemian berry pickers, who are engaged on a farm along the Patapsco road near Curtis Bay. Anne Arundel county. The foremost of the pickers led the crowd of indignant Bohemians and Poles, who only learned of the massacre of Kishineff Sunday afternoon.

Gayley Dines Steel Managers.

NEW YORK, June 1.—(Special.)—James Gayley tonight at the Waldorf gave a dinner to the heads of departments of the United States Steel Corporation. Pittsburghers present were Judge J. H. Reed, D. H. Clemson, D. J. Kerr and W. E. Corey.

NEW TRIAL IS REFUSED HAWAIIAN

Justice Harlan Sharply Criticises Verdict in Important Case.

TWO OTHERS DISSENT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Washington, June 1.—The United States supreme court, in an opinion by Justice Brown today, decided the case of the territory of Hawaii vs. Osaki Mankichi, a Japanese who was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment in Hawaii under the laws of the old Hawaiian republic, adversely on the claim of the prisoner that his conviction was illegal and invalid.

The decision was sharply criticised in dissenting opinions by the chief justice and Justice Harlan, in which Justices Brewer and Peckham concurred.

In dissenting Judge Harlan said that under the majority's opinion congress could keep in force the Hawaiian laws relating to criminal matters even though in direct conflict with the provisions of our own constitution. This, he said, assumed the possession of power of congress quite as omnipotent as that of the English parliament. In his judgment congress had no power to withhold the fundamental guarantees of life and liberty from any people over whom we exercised sovereignty.

Justice Harlan said further: "Thus will be engrafted upon our republican institutions a colonial system entirely foreign to the genius of our government and abhorrent to the principles that underlie the constitution. I stand by the doctrine that the constitution is the supreme law in every territory as soon as it comes under the sovereign dominion of the United States for purposes of civil administration and whose inhabitants are under its entire authority and jurisdiction."

OFF TO THE WOODS.

Quay, McAfee, J. Hay Brown and Others Start for Maine Fishing Grounds.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—(Special.)—Senator Quay, accompanied by United States Marshal Stephen Stone, reached Philadelphia tonight in the senator's special car "Rambler." Here the senator was joined by Naval Officer Water Merrick and Capt. Ben Soocy, fisherman and guide.

Banking Commissioner McAfee, accompanied Col. Quay from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg, and from the capitol to Lancaster Justice J. Hay Brown was a guest. Senator Quay and party left for New York at 8 o'clock. Their car will take them to Greenville, Me., where they will strike out into the woods.

UNION MEN WILL VISIT ROOSEVELT

BUTTE, MONT., June 1.—Six representative Butte labor union men will go to Washington in the near future and sojourn at the White House for a week or ten days as the guests of President Roosevelt. The president was entertained by the labor unions in this city and invited some of the labor leaders to Washington to talk over the labor question.

GOULD PLANS INCLUDE IMMENSE TERMINAL AT MISSISSIPPI'S MOUTH

'Frisco and Rock Island Systems in Deal to Deflect Pennsy's Traffic.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

New Orleans, June 1.—It is confidently believed here by those in a position to know that the Goulds, Southern 'Frisco and Rock Island railroads have determined upon a vast development of this port, and an expenditure of over $10,000,000 here for facilities, in retaliation against the Pennsylvania railroad, because of the latter's attack upon the Western Union Telegraph Company. They propose to make this southern port a more powerful competitor of the east.

Every move of the 'Frisco at this port indicates that some gigantic project of the above nature is on. That the Goulds are in the deal is practically certain. The Texas & Pacific and the new west bank line of the Goulds are to figure in the undertaking.

Before leaving for Texas last night General Agent Berg of the 'Frisco announced that the interests he represented would spend $10,000,000 in this city. They have already acquired vast terminal properties at Port Chalmette.

It is learned authoritatively that the 'Frisco and Rock Island will use the Gould tracks part of the way into the city. The fact that the Goulds have failed to secure all they wanted in grants from the city and that the 'Frisco had the luck to sweep everything before it and get priceless concessions, makes the compact all the more desirable and useful to all parties concerned.

STUDENTS FATALLY CRUSHED BY A TRAIN

One Killed and Four Injured at Railroad Crossing in Tiffin, O.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

TIFFIN, O., June 1.—One man was killed and four persons injured by an accident at the East Market street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city tonight, when west-bound passenger train No. 439 ran into a carriage. The dead:

JOHN BRADLEY, skull crushed.

The injured:

CHESTER BRADLEY, fatally crushed.
ALBERT BALMER, skull fatally crushed.
IDA ABBOTT, both legs crushed; not expected to recover.
ADA ABBOTT, severely bruised about face and body.

John Bradley was the driver of the party, all students at Heidelberg college. The train was late and running rapidly to make up time. The crossing is poorly lighted and the students did not see nor hear the approaching train. Bradley attempted to jump, but the locomotive crashed into the carriage before the track could be crossed. All are residents of Tiffin and two of the students were in the graduating class.

MANY ARE MASSACRED BY TURKISH TROOPS

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 1.—In spite of official statements to the contrary, the consular reports maintain that there were no revolutionists at Smerdesh, south of Lake Presba, May 21, at the time the Turkish troops attacked that place, and assert that 200 of the inhabitants, men women and children, were massacred in cold blood by Fashi-Bazouks. The porte has appointed a commission of inquiry to investigate the consular statements.

A Sudden Swirling Wind Leaves Path of Death in Georgia City.

BIG BUILDINGS RAZED

Nearly One Hundred Bodies Strewn Among the Debris.

RESCUERS ARE AT WORK

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Gainesville, Ga., June 1.—A tornado of terrific force struck Gainesville this afternoon out of a clear sky, causing fearful loss of life in this city, New Holland and White Sulphur. As near as can be calculated the results are 85 men, women and children dead and perhaps 40 were fatally injured, with a property loss of something like $300,000. The death list is yet imperfect, not all the bodies having been recovered and identified. Many of them were mangled beyond recognition, the only means of identification being the records of the two cotton mills in which most of the victims worked.

The list of the dead so far as obtainable at the Gainesville cotton mills and in and around the vicinity of the Southern depot follows:

Homer Ash, Gordon Ash, Maud Gordon, Miss Loggans, Mary Duncan, Miss Woody, ——— Knowles, Miss Loggins, Edward Nabors, Mrs. J. M. Camp and baby, ——— Waddell, Ethel Lyle, Lula Jackson, Miss Clark, Claudie Shedd, Annie Garrett, Jack Murphy, Grady Lee, Dorothy Sloan, Edward Nagles, ——— Thompson, W. O. Miller, Mrs. Talley, Bessie Talley and Lula Edmunson.

Those who were killed at the Pacolet mills at New Holland and whose bodies have been recovered are: Mrs. H. H. Nelson, Will Tatum, Mythrice Westmoreland, Maggie Westmoreland, Mrs. H. L. Nix., Mrs. Neeley, Mrs. Janice Ledfred and baby, Mrs. J. R. White and two children, baby of Mrs. Magee, Mrs. M. W. Boro, Mrs. Bryan and little son, Benny Hindrix, Mrs. T. A. Coker, John T. Mayne, Mrs. Marvon, Will Banks, two children of H. L. Philips, Mrs. Tom Truelove, Mrs. Westmoreland, Mrs. Nathan Jones and baby of Mrs. Howington.

The fatally injured are Nathan Jones, W. T. Henderson, Maude Gordon, Claud Gordon, Bessie Skinner, Joe Shubert, Daisy Bryson, Mary Connor (colored), Miss Willie Broome, Dock Stivall (colored), Alonza Ford (colored), J. E. Summerville, Ola Miller, Mrs. Doc. Clark, John Simpson, James Simpson, General Cummings, Miss Noel, Miss Loggin, Alice Sobers, Will Addison, Gertie Addison, Bill Baickshear, Ada Skinner, Albert Lloyd, Mrs. Okely, Mrs. O. H. Pass and little son, and Mrs. Agle, a negro woman, name unknown, and one other, a white man, whose name has not been ascertained.

Those fatally injured at New Holland number about 10, including Mrs. Hendrix and two girls, Bryer Anderson, colored; Mrs. T. J. Ivey and Mrs. Pass.

Besides these, eight men, six white and two colored, were killed in the demolition of Joseph Logan's store near the Southern depot, and one man and one woman met death in the store of George Jones, the woman being the wife of the proprietor.

Unconfirmed reports from White Sulphur, seven miles from Gainesville says that about 12 persons were killed there. Their names are not yet obtainable and hopes are expressed that this report is unfounded.

The tornado did its appalling work in such an incredible short time that it is difficult to obtain a description of its character. It appears to have swept down from the southwest striking the Gainesville mills with a roar like the report of artillery. After lifting two stories from this structure it swept on to the northward leaving a trail of destruction along Summit street which is inhabited almost exclusively by negroes. Nearly a hundred cottages on this street were leveled, but by a fortunate circumstance the tenants were all absent.

The furious wind next descended on the plant of the Pacolet cotton mills at New Holland, two miles from the Southern railroad station, employing more than 600 hands. The factory escaped, but 100 cottages were destroyed. Here the fatalities were greatest, upwards of 35 persons being buried in the ruins. Bodies were blown hundreds of yards, and many of them when picked up bore no semblance to humanity.

At New Holland the tornado swept onward to the west in the direction of White Sulphur, a town of about 100 persons. The extent of its destruction there cannot now be definitely told, but reports so far received indicate considerable loss of life.

The property loss, it is now estimated, will reach about $500,000. The most serious are the Gainesville cotton mills, $90,000, and the Pacolet mills, $100,000. The other losses of individuals and firms range from $1,000 and less upward.

FEAR OF CONTAGION

Receding Waters May Cause Much Sickness Among Homeless.

MANY DESERT HOUSES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Topeka, Kan., June 1.—At 8 o'clock tonight the water in the Kansas river had gone down 14 inches. The river is falling at the rate of half an inch an hour. From Manhattan, up the river, comes the report that the water there is slowly falling. At Wamego the same condition prevails, and it is now reasonably certain that the waters here will steadily recede. At this time there are 34 known dead. They are as follows:

HENRY JORDAN, colored.
— WARD, old soldier.
— GARRETT, five-year-old son of Fireman G. R. Garrett.
FOREST KUTZ, teacher.
MRS. FOREST KUTZ.
LOUISE SEAHAVEN.
— STORY, infant of George M. Story.
MRS. JACKSON, widow, caught in her home by flood.
JOHN L. ADAMS, left on roof when his family was rescued.
MRS. D. MONTGOMERY, who lived back of the Citizens bank on Kansas avenue, drowned in her room Saturday morning.
ANDREW PRETZEL, a market gardener, living east of Oakland.
HENRY LUDINGTON, Oakland, was last seen hanging to the branches of tree in North Topeka Saturday morning.
TWO DEAD BODIES, seen by Mulvey family floating past their home.
WOMAN and BABY, seen by Carl Goff, Jr., to fall from house roof, bodies being swept away by current.
TWO UNKNOWN MEN, seen by Associated Press reporter to fall from house top.
UNKNOWN GIRL, died soon after being taken to hospital after her rescue Saturday night.
UNKNOWN WOMAN, seen by Milton Holt of Cincinnati, swept down river and drowned, Saturday morning.
UNKNOWN WOMAN, slipped from housetop and drowned before boat could reach her.
UNKNOWN FAMILY OF SEVEN, seen by Rescuer Smith floating in the water in second story of a West Side house.
UNKNOWN WOMAN and CHILD, drowned while crossing to Oakland.
FOUR seen to fall from trees by watchers at Sardou bridge.

RELIEF WORK IN PROGRESS

The distress of the sufferers is being relieved. Those who are still in North Topeka are being supplied with food and they are in no danger, unless from sickness. One of the distressing features of the situation is the possibility that there will be a spread of contagious diseases. People of all classes are huddled together in small houses surrounded by water.

This afternoon a case of diphtheria was reported from the woolen mill in North Topeka, where there are a large number of children, in addition to the adults. There is also a case or two of scarlet fever among the refugees on the North Side. Hundreds of cases of measles are prevalent among the children and on account of their exposed condition will result fatally in many cases.

The physicians of the city, under the direction of the city health board, are making heroic efforts to check the threatened calamity. In this work they are being well aided by the health boards of the state and county. An emergency board of health has been appointed by the mayor to co-operate with the city physicians.

Dr. Grubbs, president of the emergency health board, says that the sanitary con-

CITY WITHOUT LIGHT

Twenty Thousand People Are Homeless in One Stricken City.

NEWS OF THE SUFFERERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Kansas City, Mo., June 1.—With gas and electric lights extinguished, the water works shut down and the city practically at the mercy of the first fire that should break out; with railroad transportation uncertain, Kansas City is at the mercy of the elements. The rain is falling heavily and the river is stostly holding its own. It is practically stationary tonight and there is no certain promise when it will recede. The stage tonight is 34.9 feet. Chief Conner of the weather bureau says that while the outlook is for continued rains it would necessitate a very heavy fall if the present high water is to continue.

The first authentic information from Kansas City, Kan., was received tonight. In that district 20,000 people are homeless. Many have been drowned, but the number cannot be estimated. The property loss has been heavy.

There is no great probability that there will be further loss of life. All through the wholesale district and in the west bottoms there are people still in houses. The police have probably brought 250 of them safe to the high grounds since sunrise. One hundred and fifty of these were brought to the viaduct at Twelfth street and the others were saved in the east and the west bottoms by boats. Twenty people were taken from the Martin school and 20 from O'Brien's lodging house in the east bottoms. Tonight in the east and west bottoms a number of obstinate people are still clinging to their homes. It is utterly impossible to form any estimate of dead in Kansas City.

In the Missouri river's surplus waters, known locally as the "East bottoms," many difficult rescues were made today. Lieutenant of Police Adams, assisted by 10 policemen, removed 75 people to places of safety.

Nearly 2,000 sightseers were saved from drowning last night by Lieut. Adams and his police. They were lined along an embankment and had hardly been driven away when it tumbled into the water.

News from the surrounding towns was received today, and the reports show that all have suffered severely from the flood. Armourdale reports all of its packing plants submerged, but notwithstanding this very little of the live stock was lost. Large numbers of refugees are awaiting the arrival of rescuers. At Argentine, Kan., 4,500 people are homeless and two-thirds of the town is under water.

Not one inhabitant of Argentine is missing. No further damage can be done there, except that more houses will be carried away, the channel having shifted to the south, so that the swiftest current is just north of the Santa Fe round house.

Mayor Case Set for December 14.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The United States supreme court today granted the motion made by Solicitor-General Hoyt two weeks ago to advance the case of the Northern Securities Company. The court fixed December 14 next as the date for argument.

ST. LOUIS NOW IN DANGER FROM SWEEPING FLOODS

Weather Forecast Officials Announce the River Is Doomed to Pass the Danger Limit.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

Washington, June 1.—No attempt was made at the weather bureau tonight to belittle the gravity of the flood situation in the central west. "It will be worse before it is better," in a sentence covers the conclusions of Dr. Frankenfield, the forecast official. St. Louis will probably be the next city to report calamities, because the river there is doomed to pass the danger line. Here is a bulletin from the weather bureau tonight:

"Although the crests of the flood in northeast Kansas and northwest Missouri were apparently reached today, yet the extreme gravity of the situation cannot be overestimated. The water at Kansas City this morning was 35 feet, but two feet lower than the great high water stage of June 20, 1844. At 6 p. m. the water was stationary, 34.9 feet, with light rain still falling.

"Conditions could not become worse even though the waters were to rise a few feet higher. They now extend from bluff to bluff and business of every description is practically demoralized, there is neither electric light, water or street car and little or no railroad service. The flood wave is moving steadily down the river below Kansas City and general warnings have been issued for dangerous stages for several days to come. The danger line of 30 feet will be passed at St. Louis within 36 hours, and a stage of possibly 34 feet is indicated within the next four days with the water now in sight.

The Mississippi, from Keokuk to the mouth of the Missouri is also above the danger line generally, and some damage has resulted. The stages, however, will not be excessive."

SPLENDID HORSE GIVEN PRESIDENT

Animal Fell on His Knees at Command and Saluted His New Owner.

ROOSEVELT GRATIFIED

Asks Permission of Donors to Change Name from "Ragalona" to "Wyoming"—Fine Exhibition of Rough Riding.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NORTH PLATTE, NEB., June 1.—President Roosevelt is speeding homeward. He left Cheyenne, Wyo., shortly after noon today, and made but one short stop between that place and this. He ran into a rainstorm here but notwithstanding that a large number of people turned out to greet him. He was taken for a drive about the city and made a short address. The president will spend tomorrow in Iowa and Wednesday and Thursday in Illinois.

The wild west exhibition in honor of President Roosevelt at Frontier Park today in Cheyenne, Wyo., was a big success. The first event was the presentation to the president of the beautiful saddle gelding, Ragalona, supplemented by a complete riding outfit. The present was from the people of Cheyenne and Douglas. The president said the gelding was the best riding animal he had ever been astride, and asked permission of the people of the state to re-christen the animal "Wyoming." The animal at the command of Senator Warren fell on its knees and saluted his new owner. The president made an address, expressing his appreciation of the entertainment, and his train then left for North Platte.

President Roosevelt telegraphed today from Cheyenne to Gov. Bailey of Kansas as follows:

"Am inexpressibly shocked at reports of dreadful calamity that has befallen Topeka. If there is anything the federal authorities can do, of course, let me know."

Governor Bailey wired this reply:

"Our people deeply appreciate the solicitude shown by your dispatch. Topeka is heroically meeting situation thus far. Later developments will show extent of need."

RECEDING WATERS AT NORTH TOPEKA

dition of North Topeka, when the water recedes, will not be fit for habitation for some months. He thinks the best plan would go to get tents from the state and establish a tent city on some plot of high ground.

Provisions of all sorts are becoming scarce in Topeka. No freight trains have entered the city for several days and as large quantities of groceries were destroyed in North Topeka, there will be a famine if the present situation last much longer. It is charged that certain of the merchants have formed a combination for the purpose of controlling the prices of provisions.

A prominent miller said this morning: "We do not intend to raise the price of flour, no matter what the grocers are thinking of doing. Unless the markets go up our flour will be sold at the same price." It is reported that a local commission firm bought up all the potatoes in town last Saturday and advanced the price 50 cents a bushel.

It will be at least a week before freight trains from the east can enter Topeka. An effort will be made to secure a stock of provisions from the smaller towns south.

A Rock Island relief train reached North Topeka last night. It brought 60 boats and two steam launches. Boatmen from Lake Contrary are in charge, and they are doing splendid work in rescuing flood victims.

A long train of Rock Island passenger coaches were also brought, and in these the people will be taken to Atchison and St. Joseph.

CROATIANS CELEBRATE.

Thousandth Anniversary of the Founding of Their Kingdom Commemorated.

Local Croatians yesterday held a jubilee and festival in celebration of the 1,000th anniversary of the foundation of the Croatian kingdom in Turner hall, Allegheny. It commenced at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued until last night. In the morning a service and high mass were held in the Croatian St. Nicholas Roman Catholic church in Fifth Ohio street. The afternoon exercises opened with an overture by the Tamburica orchestra. Ivan Salopic delivered an oration on "Croation Today and a Thousand Years Ago." A tableau showing Austriga relieving Croatia followed this address.

The Rev. Dr. Mato Matina, pastor of St. Nicholas church, delivered an address in which he told of the growth of the Croatian race during the last 2,000 years. He paid a glowing tribute to America as the refuge for downtrodden Croatians. Peter Pavlihac, president of the Croatian society of America, delivered an address on "America As We Find Her." Z. V. Muzina made an address of a historical nature. The Croatian Singing society closed the exercises with the singing of "God Save the Country." The jubilee ended with a dance and supper.

SHOT HIMSELF ON HIS WIFE'S GRAVE

John Itunik, 38 years old, of Harmarville, yesterday afternoon went to the grave of his wife in a Polish cemetery at Natrona about 4 o'clock and shot himself. He purchased the revolver earlier in the afternoon. He was found some time after he shot himself and brought to Pittsburgh. While on the way to the Passavant hospital in the ambulance last night he died. Itunik was despondent over the loss of his wife, who died several weeks ago. She was supposed to have committed suicide.

FATALLY INJURED AT ELIZA FURNACES

Andrew Vichman, employed at the Eliza furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company in Second avenue, was probably fatally injured at the furnace plant last night. While walking on a bridge in the furnace yards he fell, breaking his right leg and nose and also fracturing his skull. He was taken to Mercy hospital.

Arrested at Labor Carnival.

Nellie Morgan, who says her home is in Allegheny, was arrested at the united labor carnival in the Allegheny arsenal grounds last night on a charge of being a suspicious person. She was arrested by Detectives John Lally and Edward McGuigh. The detectives allege that the woman was mingling in the crowds and acting suspiciously.

One Textile Strike Ended.

TUNKHANNOCK, PA., June 1.—The Winola Worsted Yarn Company's mill, which had been idle for nearly two weeks on account of a strike, resumed today, the strikers nearly all going back at the old scale of wages. A change to piece work may be made soon.

SCORES WILL BE ARRESTED

Baltzhoover baseball club hired me to keep order and keep people back off the lines. Some boys came running up and said that people were gambling down the hollow. I went down with a crowd of boys and the negroes ran up the hill. They hid in a chicken coop. I pulled a door open and they shot me."

When asked who did the shooting Garrett professed ignorance and said that he could remember little from that time until he was carried to the hospital.

Davis, who was the companion of Kelly in the fight around the chicken coop, also believed that he was about to die. While he lay on the hillside after the mob had taken vengeance on his person, Andrew Doyle, a Wylie avenue saloonkeeper, went to him and did what he could to relieve the man's suffering. Doyle had known Davis for several years, and when the wounded man saw a friend he prepared for the fate which he believed was rapidly approaching.

"I want to make my will," said Davis. "I will you my pool room and my horse and buggy. Take everything I have and see that I am decently buried."

Doyle told Davis not to be alarmed and tried to encourage the wounded man. Davis then asked Doyle to take his rings and cuff buttons. He said that the mob had robbed him of his diamond stud and his money. Doyle called several witnesses and took the negro's valuables. After this he telephoned to County Detective Robinson and was responsible for bringing the authorities to the scene.

FOSTER TELLS HIS STORY.

Nelson Foster, a colored hack driver of No. 44 Chatham street, who is lying at Homeopathic hospital recovering from several wounds received in the melee, made the following statement:

"For 12 years I have gone to the grounds at High Bridge on Sundays. There were five of us in the party and we did not intend to disturb the peace. I had a chuck-a-luck table and we were playing among ourselves, one of the other men having a crap outfit. We were told to move away and went down the hollow in the direction of West Liberty. Here we were again ordered to move away.

"At this we hesitated. A fight took place and we ran up the hill in the direction of the West Side Belt Line railroad and separated. Kelly and Davis ran toward the Mays house, while I ran up the ravine. About 15 men followed me. I soon was out of breath and the crowd pursuing me grew larger at every step. I was struck by stones and clubs and soon fell unconscious to the ground. I had lain there perhaps half an hour when a man who lives in the vicinity came along and carried me to his house. He tied up a deep cut on my head and was on the point of calling a doctor when his wife came running in and said that two of my companions had taken refuge in Mays' house and that the mob was burning the building. This frightened the family and they advised me to catch a Mt. Lebanon car and go to the city.

KELLY TO BE BURIED TODAY.

"I was dazed as I started across the fields toward the street car line and once I fell exhausted and did not recover for almost an hour. When I recovered sufficiently I ran toward the run and bathed my wounds with cold water. I then jumped on the first car that came along and rode to Second avenue where I jumped off and made my way to the Homeopathic hospital. I would know some of the men who attacked me, but do not know who the fifth colored man was."

Joseph Tumetha and Leo Kerin, the two boys who were shot, had greatly improved yesterday and were reported to be out of danger. Coroner Jesse M. McGeary has not fixed the date for the inquest and action by him is likely to be deferred until the injured have recovered sufficiently to testify. All the negro survivors will be held as witnesses.

The funeral of Kelly will be held tomorrow in the Ebenezer Colored Baptist church. There will be but one mourner, Kelly's aged mother, who last night was prostrated by the shock following her son's tragic end.

"Charlie was a good boy to me," she moaned. "I still believe that he was a good boy, because any son who is good to his mother cannot be classed with evil men. They say he gambled. I did not know that. He was always good and kind to me."

CONSTABLES LECTURED IN COURT.

Constables John Patterson of West Liberty and William Smith of Baldwin township yesterday were examined by Judge McFarlane in criminal court relative to the affray at High Bridge, and he ordered them to make an investigation. Patterson said that he was kept away by sickness in his family and informed the court that his life had been threatened by the gamblers. Smith complained that the riot had not occurred in his balliwick.

The neighborhood of High Bridge has been the scene of Sabbath desecration and disorder for more than 30 years, and several murders have occurred there, the most atrocious being that of Joseph Gunsaulis, who was killed and robbed at a lonely spot in the hollow about 12 years ago.

Residents of Hays borough, near Homestead, yesterday asked the authorities to stop Sunday ball playing in the borough, as it is claimed large crowds gather at the ball games and all manner of gambling is indulged in. The people fear a repetition of the West Liberty riot.

DEALERS ARE CHARGED.

Business People Supposed to Have Unknowingly Bought Stolen Goods.

Informations were made yesterday before Alderman David McKelvey of Allegheny against four retail dealers who are alleged to have bought hundreds of dollars' worth of goods which W. F. Hancock of Beltzhoover is alleged to have stolen from Renwick Brothers, the Liberty avenue wholesale milliners, on the charge of receiving stolen goods. Warrants on the charge of receiving stolen goods were issued last night for the arrest of Mrs. Anna Stein, milliner, No. 1025 Fifth avenue; H. I. Goldstein, milliner, No. 717 Fifth avenue; H. Saul, woman's tailor, No. 1015 Fifth avenue, and Henry Andursky, skirt manufacturer, No. 1022 Fifth avenue. As they are reputable business persons they were not arrested, but merely instructed to appear at a hearing before the alderman today.

Hancock was arrested two months ago. He had been a salesman for Renwick & Co., and after the firm had missed goods his arrest followed. He implicated Barry Cohn of Vine street and Charles Heller of Federal street and they were arrested a week later. They are said to have had an agreement with Hancock to divide with him the proceeds of their sales.

Drunken Man Nearly Drowned.

Persons crossing the Smithfield street bridge were startled by cries of help about 7:30 last night. The sound came from under the bridge near the shore on the north side. A large crowd hurried to the place and found a man spluttering in the water. In his fight for life he had forced himself under the barge. A grappling hook was secured and the drowning man extricated. When dragged out of the water he said his name was "Big Jake." He said he had been drinking and had fallen into the river while sleeping on the barge.

Government to Give Aid.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—By direction of the war department the military officers in the flood distressed region will not only provide tents to shelter the homeless, but will be allowed to exercise their judgment as to the issue of such military supplies and rations as can be spared from the military posts.

GREAT HONOR AND PRAISE GIVEN MAN WHO TRAINED LOCAL SINGERS

PROF. T. J. DAVIES.

In the general chorus of congratulation over the winning of the first prize of the eisteddfod on Decoration day, by the Pittsburgh Choral Union, one person in particular is receiving much attention for the part he took in bringing about that result. This is Prof. T. J. Davies, the instructor of the successful choir. Only seven weeks were given him in which to organize and drill his body of singers, but he brought about a wonderful result, giving to this city the honor of taking first prize in a competition of nine splendid choirs.

Mr. Davies was born 47 years ago in the Swansea valley near Craig-y-Nos, Madame Patti's mountain home in Wales. His parents came to this country in 1860 and settled at Scranton. At a very early age he evidenced a notable aptitude for music and as a boy was considered a musical prodigy. He studied under Dr. Mason of Wilkesbarre, and J. W. Parson Price of New York. In 1885 he was sent abroad to study music under Dr. Joseph Parry of Cardiff. After two years with that noted instructor, he studied under Dr. Frederick J. Karn and D. Davidson Palmer of London.

One of Prof. Davies' principal compositions, "Cambria's Song of Freedom," was selected for the chief contest of male choirs at the Chicago World's Fair Eisteddfod and created a sensation.

Among those who have been Prof. Davies' pupils are William Rhys Herbert, Mus. Doc., St. Paul; B. Percy James, Mus. Bac., Scranton; Daniel T. Beddoe, Pittsburgh; Catharine McAllister, recently soprano at St. Paul's cathedral, and Thomas Byron of New York.

He located in Pittsburgh in 1898 as a teacher of music, making a specialty of voice culture, harmony and composition. His ability was soon proved in the eisteddfod held at Cleveland in 1898. He ranks among the finest instructors in the country.

GALLOWS SHADOW DAUNTS FEUDISTS IN BREATHITT CO.

Judge Redwin Says There Are Not Enough of Hangings and Will Grant Change of Venue to Secure Justice.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Jackson, Ky., June 1.—A change of venue will be granted in the cases of Jett and Tom White, charged with the murder of J. B. Marcum. The announcement of Commonwealth Attorney Byrd that he would ask for a change of venue came as a thunder clap to the defense. On top of this came the statement by Judge Redwin that if such a motion was made he would name some other judicial district in which the cases could be tried. This will clean his hands of the whole affair. How the Hargises will take the action of Byrd and Judge Redwin remains to be seen. They had all along, it is claimed, had things going nicely toward acquittal, but this has upset all their plans.

A grand jury was impanelled and instructed. Judge Redwin said: "Breathitt county is full of crime which has resulted in few convictions. I have never believed that homicide should be tried by a jury from the vicinity of the crime, but it is the law and must be followed.

"There has been but one hanging in the history of Breathitt county, out of the many trials for murder. There are some cases in this court that I will not risk a Breathitt jury to try, but will go outside to procure jurors."

It is believed that tonight is the dangerous period for the troops. If change of venue is granted tomorrow, the prisoners will be taken away. Once out of the influence of their friends in Jackson it is feared that Jett and White would make confessions and implicate half a score of others.

JAIL GUARDS DOUBLED.

In anticipation of trouble the jail guard was doubled tonight and three men have been placed on the inside of the jail so they can report anything which might be going on there in the way of tunneling out or cutting through the walls. The gatling gun is at the jail door and the Hotchkiss brought yesterday by the Louisville recruits is half way between the jail and the court house and can be moved to any point instantly. Crews of both guns are lying by ready for any emergency and if Jett and White fail to reach the hangman in good condition it will not be the fault of Col. Williams and the state militia.

R. L. Ewen, the principal witness against Jett in the assassination of Marcum, got on the train at Stanton today and went to Natural bridge. It appears that Capt. Ewen has been staying at Stanton in hiding from Jackson assassins who have been hounding him because he knew the assassins. Ewen had expected to come to Jackson tomorrow to testify. He may come home if the trials are sent to some other county, but it is believed he is making arrangements to give up his extensive business here and make his home elsewhere. Tom Cockrill today went from Stanton to Wilson. He is shifting position to avoid assassination.

MRS. MARCUM FEARS MURDER.

Mrs. Marcum tonight declared she feared there would be several persons assassinated should the troops be withdrawn at this time.

"I hope if the cases are taken some where else, the governor will let the troops stay here at least till the people who have been before the grand jury in these cases can dispose of their property and leave the town," she said. "I am certain they will be assassinated."

Lieutenants Clements and Evans were sent out tonight with a party of 20 men to capture the searchlight that has been of so much annoyance to the soldiers and citizens. Lieutenant Frye and a party of soldiers located the machine last night, but had no orders to bring it into camp. It is feared it has been moved and is in a position tonight where it will send its searching rays into the jail yard by which the men there can be shot with Winchesters from the mountains. If the men are found that are operating the concern, they will be taken unless they prove better men than the soldiers, as the orders to the two lieutenants are to bring men and searchlight into camp at any cost.

DEATH LIST DECREASES.

Claims Now Made That Flood Victims Will Not Exceed Twenty.

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 1.—The story from St. Joseph that 200 persons were drowned Sunday by a tank of the Standard Oil Company, is untrue. The tanks have been submerged since early Sunday morning, but there has been no great loss of life, either at that point or within a mile of there.

The total death list in this vicinity, according to the statements of the chiefs of police of both Kansas Cities, will not exceed 20. These deaths occurred at different points.

Iowa Situation Improved.

DES MOINES, IA., June 1.—The flood situation in Iowa is improving and the Des Moines river has been falling rapidly, eight feet being reported at Boone in 12 hours. In Des Moines 5,000 are homeless. Provisions and clothing have been contributed in large quantities and it is believed by all here that the worst has passed and that no further trouble will be experienced.

Preparing for Saengerfest.

The Verein Frohsinn gave a concert and dance in the hall at No. 424 Sixth avenue last night. The affair was to raise money to defray the expenses of the glee party attending the national saengerfest in Baltimore. The prize song, "Des Grigors Heimehr," and others, were sung. A large crowd was present.

WILL KEEP HANDS OFF.

Senator Hanna Says He Will Not Interfere With Work of Ohio Convention.

CLEVELAND, June 1.—(Special.)—Senator Hanna declared today that he intended to keep his hands off and allow the state convention to work its own will.

It was rumored about the senator's office today that his support had been given to Sheets for the supreme bench and Boothman for lieutenant governor. At a meeting held last night of the Cuyahoga delegation the senator was elected chairman and the resolution was adopted to vote the delegation as a unit in the convention. There was some objection to the latter, but it was finally carried, the delegation preferring to intrust its votes entirely with the senator.

Explosion Causes Panic.

CHICAGO, June 1.—One man dead, two others severely injured, and 200 employes in a panic was the result tonight of an accidental explosion of fireworks in the wholesale merchandise house of Butler Brothers, 7 West Randolph street.

SAID MANY TEACHERS WERE NOT COMPETENT

Principal Morrow of Allegheny Declared "Pulls" Kept Some in Places.

Principal James E. Morrow of the Allegheny high school last night at a meeting of the high school committee of the board of school controllers declared that a number of teachers under him were incompetent and that they had held their position and owed their election to the fact that they had "pulls" with the controllers. He asked that in future teachers be elected on merit and not because of political or personal influence.

The result of this blunt speech was that Mr. Morrow was asked to talk plainly in regard to those under him and he did. William Begnell, for several years head teacher of composition and rhetoric, was dropped, and his successor will be elected at the next meeting. Robert L. Van Dyke, assistant teacher of grammar and history, was let go, and Miss Mary L. Ross was elected in his place. Some other changes are promised at the next meeting of the committee.

Bids were opened by the committee on supplies of the board of controllers for desks, stationery, etc., and were referred to a sub-committee for tabulation.

LET CHURCH CONTRACT.

Plans for a Handsome $55,000 Structure for Mt. Washington Congregation.

The contract for the new Mt. Washington Methodist Episcopal church was let last night. Work will be started at once and the terms of the contract provide for the church being completed by December 1. It will cost, completed, $55,000. It will be a handsome structure of brick with stone trimmings.

The main auditorium will be on the second floor. The first floor will contain 14 rooms, each being assigned to some department of the church work, including the Sunday school, the rooms for church societies, a reading room, etc.

The church will have a $4,000 pipe organ. On the organ in the old church, which burned, there was $2,500 insurance. This was supplemented by a gift of $1,500 from Andrew Carnegie for the new one. The Rev. L. S. Wilkinson is pastor of the church.

A. B. CHASE PIANOS

And Their Magnificent Record.

In the first place the makers of the A. B. Chase piano exert every effort in their power to get the best results from their workmen. A system of prizes for excellence of workmanship has wrought wonders in this respect. It has made the workmen perfect; it has made the A. B. Chase piano perfect.

The consequence is the A. B. Chase piano stands at the top of the list of all makes of pianos. It is the best piano made. It is the best because its tone is the purest, sweetest, most powerful, most sympathetic. People who love music fall in love with the A. B. Chase piano the first time they hear it played. And, like a good friend, you grow fonder of it the longer you have an A. B. Chase piano.

It is an important matter to select a piano for your home. It does not pay to buy an inferior piano. It will soon play out. While you are about it you should buy the best. You will have reason to regret it if you don't. There's nothing harsher or more inharmonious than a "cheap" piano after it has been in use a year or so. Buy an A. B. Chase piano and you will have reason to congratulate yourself ever afterward.

Today's Interesting Special Sales.

Without again going into details of the special sale of Muslin Underwear, the special sale of Women's Summer Garments, the special sale of Millinery and of dress materials, we simply throw out the admonition not to let these sales slip your memory. The reduced prices should be stamped upon your memory for we have given them ample publicity. This morning we take up new lines and they, together with the special sales already in operation, have interest enough to enlist your attention.

Special Sale of Linens.

Damask for tablecloths, the Napkins to accompany them, and some Bed Linens, all for greatly reduced prices: A summary:

At 50c a yard instead of 60c and 65c—two widths of bleached Table Damask, 62 and 64 inches.

At 75c a yard instead of 85c and 90c—finer grades of bleached Table Damask, choice of either 68 or 72-inch widths.

At $1 a yard instead of $1.25 and $1.35—72 and 81-inch widths of bleached Table Damask.

At $1.25 a yard instead of $1.50 and $1.75—72-88-inch widths of bleached Table Damask.

At $1 a dozen, a $1.25 grade of bleached Damask Napkins, 18x18 inches.

At $1.25 a dozen, a $1.50 grade of bleached Damask Napkins, 20x20 inches.

Silks and Their Little Prices.

Rarely has there been a time in recent years when Silks could be purchased anywhere for so little money as we are now quoting for many desirable grades. This is true of both black and colored silks. In many cases the difference between our original price and our selling price is really amazing. Take the following quotations as illustrative of present reductions:

We are selling a Checked Silk with taffeta and louisine broche effects, very soft of finish, for 98c a yard, that formerly sold for $1.25. As this silk is very desirable for shirtwaist suits, and as shirtwaist suits are now the most fashionable of garments, it seems to us the saving of 27c on each yard is worth considering.

In the Foulard family we have a pretty duo of these Foulards in satin and twilled effects that we are selling for 69c a yard, former prices 85c and $1. One has black grounds with white figures, the other blue grounds with green and tan dots and small rings.

For 50c a yard we have a 75c grade of Checked Silks in pretty green and blue effects.

Black Grenadines, always dressy, always lending a refined look to the wearer, are sold here in 40-inch widths for 55c a yard.

At 95c a yard we are selling a $1 grade of black Waterette Taffeta which has our guarantee as well as the maker's.

Sparklets—A Demonstration.

An old friend ready to make life in hot weather extremely pleasant—nothing more nor less than a miniature soda fountain by the aid of which you can commingle carbonic acid gas with every sort of drink that you like.

Sparklets should be in your lunch basket when you go on an outing. It should be in the sick room, where it is practically invaluable, and for making sparkling drinks of every kind it should be a specialty in the household. Its usefulness cannot be exaggerated.

To the right as you come in the lower Penn Avenue entrance you will find the Sparklets booth. Stop and name your favorite drink and see how agreeable it is.

Odd Pieces of Furniture.

Without saying anything about what this furniture is worth, leaving the prospective purchaser to judge that, various price ranges are quoted on odd pieces of furniture.

Particular attention is asked to the Dressers, or as some people prefer to call them, bureaus. Sometimes it is quite a difficult matter to get a separate dresser. In this case choice is had in either dressers of mahogany or birdseye maple.

Mahogany Dressers, beveled French plate mirrors, prices beginning at $35 and running easily to $150.

SCHEMPP GOES BACK

Head of the Citizens Party Is Selecting the County Ticket and Will Then Have Committees Indorse His Judgment.

Thomas S. Bigelow announced yesterday that he expected councils to hold a joint session Monday night and elect E. W. Hassler and H. B. Davis city clerks to succeed E. J. Martin and W. C. Gearing. The Citizens claim that Select Councilman William Schempp has returned to their fold.

With the return of Schempp, the Citizens will have 20 votes in select, if George S. Fleming of the First and Fourteenth wards is permitted to participate in the meeting. It may be that proceedings to oust Fleming will be instituted prior to Monday, and in that event he cannot occupy his seat. The Republicans say that even giving the Citizens Schempp, Evan Jones and Fleming, it will be possible to prevent Bigelow from securing enough votes in select to force a joint session. It is claimed that one or two Citizens members are ready to disobey orders.

Schempp had a conference with T. S. Bigelow yesterday and after the meeting it was announced that the Thirteenth ward councilman would again affiliate with the Citizens. The Republicans did not expect to hold him. Joseph Jones, a brother of Evan Jones, the Thirty-sixth ward member, was yesterday given a position in the department of public works.

SELECTING HIS TICKET.

Bigelow is selecting his county ticket, and when he has decided on it its personnel will take the Democrats into his confidence. So far he has not even invited the Democracy to join in a fusion movement. The machine Democrats say that they do not expect to be consulted until Bigelow is prepared to tell them who he wants nominated. They consider the proceeding entirely regular and in keeping with reform and one-man rule.

Bigelow was asked yesterday about the slating of D. M. Miller for district attorney. He said that it was a question between Miller and Harry L. Goehring. Then he added: "But Goehring lives in Allegheny, and as the Allegheny people want Charles Geyer for sheriff, I don't know how it would be to take both candidates from the same place. It might make us stronger in Allegheny."

This announcement that he has practically decided upon Geyer for sheriff is characteristic of the chief of the Citizens' party. It is his custom to select the tickets and then have his Citizen and Democratic committees indorse his judgment. He says that Mayor James G. Wyman will be recognized as the boss of Allegheny, and Wyman wants Geyer for sheriff to put him out of the way. It will be a great surprise if any other office goes to the North Side and the chance of Goehring getting a nomination is slight.

PLAN TO SIDE TRACK BRENNEN.

William J. Brennen would like to secure the fusion nomination for district attorney, but Bigelow does not propose to give this office to a Democrat. In order to sidetrack Brennen Bigelow wants him made one of the Democratic conferees. In this capacity it is believed that Brennen could not insist upon his own nomination. One of the Democrats who will have much to do with the formal selection of the ticket says that Miller is the man for district attorney. He remarked that Bigelow had been for Miller for several months.

The Democratic bosses, allied with Bigelow, are looking for a country Democrat to nominate for prothonotary. Charles B. Payne of Duquesne, who had been slated, has declined to take the nomination. To balance the ticket geographically, a country man is wanted. 'Squire L. F. Holtzman of Braddock is considered as the ideal candidate, but an examination of his record shows that he is one of the prominent Democrats who has not taken orders from Bigelow. For this reason his name has been scratched from the list of eligibles. It is probable that some city Democrat will be ordered to find a suburban residence and take the nomination. Timothy O'Leary has this plan in mind.

WARD CHAIRMEN IN.

Bigelow had many of the ward chairmen in to see him yesterday. There are numerous fights in the organization and effort is being made to smooth some of the rough spots. The primaries for the city and county committees will be held at 8 o'clock this evening and the ward, borough and township organizations will be perfected later.

E. J. Frauenheim took charge as city treasurer yesterday morning, D. R. Torrence retiring. Frauenheim was appointed two months ago, but delayed assuming his duties until the March installment of taxes had been collected. He was sworn in by Mayor Hays and his bond for $100,000, with A. O. Frauenheim and Charles A. Fagan as securities, was approved. Treasurer Torrence turned over $8,200,000 of city money.

The new treasurer announced that he had retained R. W. Thompson as chief clerk and Frank C. Dorrington as cashier. Patrick Cavanaugh was appointed messenger to succeed A. T. Hall and Henry Voskuhl was named night watchman, succeeding William Anthony.

Several changes were made in the different city departments. The most important was the removal of Supt. John Cashmore of the municipal hospital and the naming of Henry M. Kruger of the Thirteenth ward as his successor. In the assessors' office, W. J. Moore and John A. McKelvey were dismissed and S. H. Hill of the Twentieth ward and Elmer R. Osborne of the Thirty-fifth ward appointed. Patrick Callahan of the Twenty-third ward was made messenger. Henry Colwer and Harry Irons, clerks in the bureau of water supply and distribution, have resigned.

The managers of the Union party expect to hold their state convention in Harrisburg. They say that the state capital is selected because the city has a Democratic mayor who controls the police force.

Three new police officers yesterday assumed their places in the East End police station. They are Capt. Robert Boyle, Lieut. Reed Jenkins and Sergt. George O'Neil. O'Neil was formerly sergeant at the Central police station, was dismissed by the new administration and then reinstated. He lives not fo: fram the East End station.

THREE CONVENTIONS HERE.

The Funeral Directors, Dancing Teachers and Zionists to Gather This Week.

Delegates to three conventions will gather in this city this week. The Normal School Association of Masters of Dancing of the United States and Canada will meet in the South Highland avenue auditorium, where William F. Braun, vice president of the association, holds his classes; the Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' association will hold their first session tomorrow in the Monongahela house and the Federation of American Zionists will begin their sixth annual gathering Sunday. Each of the bodies has large programs mapped out, and besides the business to be transacted there are many sociky sessions and sight-seeing trips arranged.

One of the features of the undertakers' convention will be a practical demonstration of embalming at the new morgue Thursday. A large ball and vaudeville performance and cotillion are among the attractions of the dancing teachers' meeting. About 300 delegates from all parts of the country are expected to be here for the Zionists' meeting and among them are the following: Richard Gottheil, William Morris, the Rev. S. W. Delnard, Lewis A. Dembitz, Dr. Marcus Jastrow, the Rev. B. Leventhal, the Rev. Isidore Myers, Moses Klein, Dr. H. Pereira Mendes, Abraham Radin, Dr. S. Schaffer, Dr. Stephen S. Wise, B. Horwich, B. Abel, Dr. B. L. Gordon, G. H. Mayer, Dr. S. Moesson, S. Margolies, Benjamin F. Levy, Dr. F. Fox, William R. Scharton, Louis Lipsky, Miss Henrietta Szold, Julius Rottenberg, Leon Zolotkoff, the Rev. Masliansky, D. F. Morrison, Jacob deHaas, Dr. S. Chechter and Dr. M. Gaster. The convention proper will meet at the Central Turnverein hall, Forbes street.

CLAWSON ARRESTED AGAIN.

Wife Made Another Charge Against Husband Who Bothers Her.

Harry Clawson of No. 625 North avenue, Allegheny, was committed to jail yesterday by Constable O. F. Mills, of Alderman A. J. Brinker's office. Clawson is sued by his wife Mary for surety of the peace. A week ago his wife had him arrested for disorderly conduct after he had tried to take his life by drinking carbolic acid and stabbing himself, because she would not live with him.

According to Mrs. Clawson's story her husband went to the home of Harry Swauger, No. 604 Nelson street, Allegheny, where she is living, on Sunday night and attempted to set fire to the house. He will be given a hearing today.

West Penn Nurses to Graduate.

The West Penn Hospital Nurses Alumnae association will give an excursion up the Monongahela on the steamer Francis J. Torrance on the evening of Thursday, June 18. Miss Thompson, Miss Brinley and Miss Beatty form the committee in charge of arrangements. The proceeds will be devoted to the sick fund of the organization.

FRANCIS J. TORRANCE DECLARES THAT HE IS STILL REGULAR

North Side Republican Chairman Is Not With Mayor Wyman.

NOT FOR SHAM REFORM

Believes the Republican County Ticket Will Be Elected This Fall—Says Citizens Are Ruled by a Boss and Fool People.

Francis J. Torrance in last night accepting a re-election as chairman of the Allegheny Republican city committee denied that he had deserted the party and joined hands with Mayor James G. Wyman. He predicted victory for the Republican organization this fall and the disintegration of the "reform party that is ruled by a boss and that has not kept faith with the people."

Many of the men who made possible the Citizens party victory in Allegheny last fall were at the meeting last night. Many of the strongest Allegheny workers are again allied with the Republican party. Mayor Wyman has disgusted hundreds who expected him to enact reforms and they have returned to their old party.

There was no opposition to Mr. Torrance and he was elected by acclamation. John Henderson was elected vice chairman, E. L. Braun secretary and Charles F. Kirschler treasurer. The meeting was harmonious. Of the 88 members of the committee about 60 attended. Robert K. Cochrane of the Sixth ward acted as temporary chairman. A vote of thanks was extended to Charles W. Neeb, the retiring secretary.

WOODBURN PREFERS FLINN.

Dr. S. S. Woodburn said that since the last fall campaign Thomas S. Bigelow had put the organizers of the old Citizens party of Allegheny in the light of deceivers before the public by violating all rules of decency in politics and by usurping the cloak dropped by William Flinn.

"When it comes to a choice between Thomas S. Bigelow and William Flinn," said Dr. Woodburn, "give me Mr. Flinn."

Other speakers were E. L. Braun, Charles F. Kirschler, John Henderson, ex-Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner, Richard M. Kopp and Representative John Francies.

In regard to the rules recently adopted by the Republican county committee, Representative Francies said: "Had such rules been in vogue and been enforced during the past three years there would never have been any Citizens party, nor any of the strife that has marked the political contests in this county during that time."

The rules referred to by Mr. Francies were last night adopted by the Allegheny city committee with a few amendments and minor changes. In the future there will be two registry officers in each voting precinct in Allegheny, who will be appointed by the ward committee.

IMPORTANT RULE ADJUSTED.

A ruling that is regarded as important that was adopted last night at the suggestion of John Henderson, is to the effect that in the future all delegates in conventions must vote for the candidate they are pledged to support. In the event of an infraction of this rule the permanent chairman is empowered to declare the vote void and to cast the ballot as it was pledged. Such a rule is regarded as valuable, as it prevents any possibility of a candidate being sold out by his delegates.

Chairman Torrance appointed Dr. James Dixon, John Henderson, John Kiser, Dr. S. S. Woodburn and John Francies a committee to arrange for a permanent headquarters for the Republican party of Allegheny. A meeting of all the district chairmen will be called and from now until the fall election similar meetings will be held for the purpose of instructing ward and district workers, and for the further purpose of keeping the city committee in close touch with every voting precinct in the city.

AN ORDINANCE—Fixing a schedule of rents to be charged for the use of Carnegie Music hall.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the following amounts be charged for the use of Carnegie Music hall:

For churches and Sunday schools using the hall temporarily for their ordinary services on the Sabbath, ten ($10.00) dollars for each session.

For each entertainment or meeting where an admission fee is charged, and where the proceeds are not devoted to charity, fifty ($50.00) dollars for each session.

For each entertainment or meeting where an admission fee is charged, and where the proceeds are applied entirely to charitable purposes, twenty-five ($25.00) dollars; but no permission shall be given for such entertainment or meeting unless a certificate be given to the director of the department of public works by a responsible officer of the church or charitable institution for the benefit of which said entertainment is to be given, certifying that the proceeds thereof are to be applied entirely to charitable purposes.

For entertainments or meetings of all kinds where no admission fee is charged, twenty-five ($25.00) for each session.

Provided, That any meeting or entertainment of any kind which begins during the day time and lasts until evening, occupying the hall for a part of the day and the evening also, shall be regarded as two sessions or meetings, and shall pay double the amounts above set forth.

For entertainments of an educational nature where an admission fee is charged, the sum of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars.

No rent shall be charged for entertainments given in said hall and held under the auspices of the board of school controllers of the city of Allegheny; this shall not include entertainments under the auspices of the local school boards.

Those making application for hall must pay the required fee in advance or at the time the date is assigned.

Sec. 2. No reduction or rebates from the above schedule of prices shall be allowed.

Sec. 3. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing be and the same is hereby repealed.

Tuesday, June 2, 1903.

Not an echo remains of opposition to President Roosevelt's candidacy for renomination. Every party manager is in line; newspapers who have been opposing him abandon the task as hopeless; the storm cloud that once loomed portentously in the region of Wall street has dissolved and left not a rack behind. The New York Sun, the sharpest of the president's critics, philosophically remarks: "Such is the compelling force of a fixed purpose, backed by legitimate self-confidence, a frank disregard of all the conventionalities and enormous personal popularity."

The great number of workers now out of employment through disputes over terms is now augmented by a strike of textile workers in Philadelphia involving about 90,000 operatives. Thirty-nine branches of the textile trade are affected, and an investment estimated at $100,000,000 is made unproductive, while the daily loss of wages is estimated at $125,000. The Massachusetts textile strike has been going on for nine weeks, and although a number of mills have started the bulk of the operatives stand aloof. No way of settling labor disputes could be devised that would not be better than fighting out the issue by means of strikes and lockouts.

The Voters' Civic league has a good subject for its activity in the invasion of select council by Superintendent McTighe to get out a member and prevent a quorum. It is reported that the league is in correspondence with Mayor Hays about the matter and it is hoped that they will press it to an issue. If the manipulation of councils is part of the functions of the superintendent of police we have a system of government of which graft syndicates and protected resorts are an inevitable annex. When police favor is part of the political game its commercial value is eventually systematized in the sale of immunity from prosecution.

Heligoland, which England ceded to Germany in 1890, is gradually crumbling away. Its acquisition by Germany was regarded as giving that empire a valuable naval outpost for the protection of the mouths of the Elbe and Weser, but the wash of the sea and the beating of the rains is disintegrating its rocks. Large masses have recently fallen on the western side. In order to preserve the island the German government has been forced to undertake extensive works. Sea walls are to be built, caves will be filled with cement and everything possible done to make the island tight and durable. If these measures fail it will be only a matter of time when it will be valueless from the wear of its surface and the shoaling of its waters.

While Kansas river towns are being drowned by floods a tornado has been doing ghastly work at Gainesville, Ga. The long death list is chiefly made up of cotton operatives, the upper stories of the mills being suddenly lopped off as though by the swing of a giant scythe. The calamity was peculiarly appalling in its suddenness. The tornado came without warning and without attracting notice until suddenly buildings began to rip and collapse in its path. So concentrated was its tremendous force that persons working in the lower story of a mill were unhurt, while those in upper stories perished. It was soon over and the sun shone brightly on a scene of wreck and death where but a little while before there was the hum of busy industry.

The element of exaggeration in certain newspaper publications concerning matters that have not been as yet disclosed officially is indicated in the fact that whereas it has been published that the amounts paid by the government for rentals in New York state exceeded by $500,000 per year what they should be, the postmaster general points out in reply that the rentals paid in New York last year aggregated only $466,811 83. Of course, this does not wholly dispose of the allegation that the government may have been charged excessive rent for quarters occupied by postoffices, but it makes it clear that matters in the department are not so bad but that persons can be found to make them appear vastly worse. However, at the end of the volume, thanks to the postmaster general and others, the government will be paying no more for anything than it ought to pay, and will be getting the worth of its money in all directions.

Germany is developing a great alcohol industry from which American enterprise is excluded by our revenue laws. At a recent exposition in Berlin a great variety of alcohol apparatus was exhibited, among them alcohol lamps, which by means of a mantle produce an incandescence rivaling the arc light in brilliancy. Numerous alcohol stoves and motors were also shown. Spirit motors are being extensively substituted for steam and horse power throughout Germany and are being introduced into farm work. Alcohol motors for farming purposes cost but two cents an hour per horse power. Cheap alcohol is moreover the basis of the vast chemical industry of Germany and enters into numerous technical processes. The extensive industrial use of alcohol is made possible by the fact that it costs only from 15 to 17 cents a gallon, whereas the government tax in this country is 90 cents a gallon, an impost which is a heavy clog upon numerous manufacturing industries, disabling them from competition with like industries abroad.

It Points a Moral.

If the region around the high bridge on the Castle Shannon railroad had been a part of the city of Pittsburgh it is probable that there would have been no such scenes there on Sunday as marred the day and stained the annals of Allegheny county with a record of riot and murder and attempted lynching. The territory is adjacent to the city and is virtually an outlying part of it. The persons who engaged in the disturbance on Sunday afternoon had gone there from the city to escape the restraints imposed by municipal regulations. They were there because they knew themselves safe from molestation by the city police and because they also knew that the local authorities were not strong enough to cope with them. They knew that although the proper county authorities were aware of the weekly scenes enacted in that region they had taken no steps to prevent repetition. If the region had been a part of the city it may be assumed that the gambling, baseball playing and the disorders that have attended them, culminating in bloodshed, would have been prevented, or at least held within bounds, and the newspapers would not have had such a shocking story of crime to tell as filled their pages yesterday.

An adequate county force to patrol the outlying districts would be a good thing, as we have pointed out, but the union of the nearer suburbs with the city of Pittsburgh would more certainly accomplish for them the same result that would be accomplished by an adequate county police force. There ought to be one or other of these two things—either a policing of the county by a county police force or the extension of the authority of Pittsburgh beyond its present limits by the annexation of the territory that for its own good ought to be a part of the municipality. A county police force capable of dealing properly with the occasional inflow and overflow from the more populous into the less populous districts is difficult of realization, but the protection that would be given by an adequate county force may be obtained by adoption of the other alternative. When it is said that the reckless and the lawless from Pittsburgh may now go into the suburbs where the police of the city lose control over their movements and doings, and when it is added that the people of Baldwin township and of West Liberty borough would have been spared a day of terror if the police of this city could have controlled the crowds that assembled there and thereabout on Sunday, the easy way out of a present dilemma is disclosed. The residents of that section and of others similarly situated ought to see the point that has been so forcibly impressed and petition for annexation to Pittsburgh. The legislature has provided means to enable them to come in and be adequately protected. The proximity of the city now brings perils to them that the city authorities are powerless to avert. They ought to claim the city's protection in the one way open to them.

Chambers of Commerce.

If the new cabinet department of commerce and labor is to develop real functional importance, a more thorough organization of commercial interests must take place directly connected with the work of the department. There are plenty of commercial organizations in this country. Chambers of commerce and boards of trade are found all over the land, but they are loose voluntary associations acting in accord with their own taste and fancy and varying greatly in their character and activities. In some cases they possess a genuine representative character; in many cases they consist of some little coterie who act with amateur fussiness upon matters which happen to interest them and really represent only themselves. When it is reported that the chamber of commerce has done this or that, it is usually taken as meaning that the clique who got up the meeting took the action, and what they did expressed their own views and not that of the entire body of the membership, the majority of whom may have been indifferent, and if not hostile are at least uncommitted by the action taken. A much more effective organization is necessary to give commercial interests distinct expression.

The work that chambers of commerce are capable of doing is impressively shown by the great part which German chambers of commerce have taken in developing the trade and commerce of that empire. They are credited with having done more to accomplish the vast increase of German commerce than any other one factor. This is not due to any superiority which they possess in quality of membership, but because of the definite functions assigned to them by law and encouraged by law. The German empire is divided into chamber of commerce districts, in direct connection with the government department of commerce. Each chamber controls its own finances, but is required by law to appoint an able and experienced man as secretary. The chambers are expected to represent the commercial and industrial interests of their districts and to report to the government in regard to them. They exert a powerful influence on legislation, as the government in its treatment of commercial questions always obtains the opinions of merchants and manufacturers through the mediums of the chambers of commerce. Hence when a German manufacturer desires to have his interests considered in tariff legislation he does not go to the member of the reichstag from his district, but to his chamber of commerce. The member also looks to the chamber for accurate information as to the sentiment of the business community. The system provides for the clearly expressed and thoughtful utterance of business interests, to which our chambers of commerce are quite inadequate, and so we have instead a confusing bubbub, while actual legislation is the outcome of a scuffle of individual interests working through lobby solicitation.

Whether or not the new department becomes a mere statistical annex to the government or develops into a real department of government will probably be determined by the way in which it addresses itself to the organization of commercial interests. If it can build up a representative system, of which it will be the head, it may eventually become the chief formative influence in tariff legislation and industrial regulation, fulfilling the function of the permanent commission which President Roosevelt has recommended for the care of such matters. That may have been in mind in creating the department.

Bridges and Boats.

The mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny represent the sentiment of a vast majority of the people of the two cities, numbering half a million souls, in the protests which they filed yesterday with Capt. Sibert against the raising of the bridges between the two cities. This is a matter in which the business interests of Pittsburgh and all persons employed therein have a large concern. The question is not now one of discrimination against shipments by water, but of unnecessary discrimination against shipments over the bridges and against property interests that would be adversely affected by the changes of street grades necessarily incident to raising the bridges. Whatever form the subject under discussion may have taken in the earlier representations pro and con, it has been given a much different aspect recently by the march of progress in river navigation, which river men with strange fatuity insist on ignoring. The arguments that have been made by the advocates of bridge raising and which they adhere to, have had the ground cut from under them by the circumstance that boats are now in use that accommodate themselves to the bridges as they are with any stage of water on which it is safe to navigate. The demand that the bridges go up not only fails as previously to take into account the injury that would be done to the traffic over the bridges, but is based also on the relation of the bridges at their present grade to the river boats with which use has made the public familiar. But it has been demonstrated in actual work of boats of a newer type that better service may be obtained from boats that do not tower so high above the water line. The work done by these boats has been fully set forth in The Gazette, and as they continue in service their superiority to the older type is easily ascertainable. With the fact of their entire acceptability in evidence the continued demand that the bridges be raised appears to have no better foundation than an unwillingness of the petitioning river interests to adopt improvements, and a determination to have the bridges, the traffic over the bridges and the owners of real estate pay for their unwillingness. The unreasonableness of such a spirit is apparent. If the worst should come to the worst it would be cheaper for the people of the two cities to buy the old boats from their owners and make them a present of new ones than to permit themselves to be taxed and handicapped as is proposed. But we do not imagine that the worst will come. The secretary of war is a reasonable man, if persons who demand the raising of the bridges are of another type. We expect him to have regard not only for the traffic over and under the bridges, their relative importance and the direct effect of bridge raising on each and its incidental effect on realty interests, but also we expect him to have regard for the entire feasibility of accommodating river transportation to established conditions.

The Kansas Flood.

The flood ravages in Kansas have attained the proportions of a national calamity. President Roosevelt has offered the state authorities the assistance of the federal government and the shipment of army tents for the use of the flood sufferers has begun. The extent of the loss of life and property is a matter of conjecture, for the ordinary channels of communication are swept away by the floods. In the Kaw valley alone a strip of country 200 miles long and from 3 to 15 miles wide is submerged from 1 to 50 feet in depth. Towns that stood on river banks are now in mid stream. At one place a new channel 25 feet deep has been cut by the floods, where formerly stood a town, and the top of a railroad roundhouse is all that remains to indicate where 6,000 people lived a few days ago.

The latest reports from Topeka show that in the alarm and excitement the losses were exaggerated. While a score of persons have been drowned no one was burned to death. To be in peril both from fire and water at the same time was certainly a peculiar experience for any community, but it now appears that the fire destroyed only eight buildings and that without loss of life. The fear is that many persons have been drowned in the smaller communities and in isolated places outside of the reach of relief measures, and not until the flood subsides will the full extent of the calamity be known. The present prospect is discouraging, as rain was falling yesterday over the greater part of Kansas, Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska, thus maintaining flood conditions.

The worst of such disasters is their inevitable nature. Towns naturally seek river courses, and when the rivers forsake their ordinary channels and spread over the adjacent country havoc ensues. And yet to keep out of danger would be a sacrifice of ordinary advantage such as no enterprising community would make. The only practicable remedy is to make systematic provision for such emergencies by keeping on hand municipal supplies of boats and provisions.

Looking Backward.

It may be inferred from some things that appear in the Post that when the time is ripe it will be for Cleveland, the antithesis of Bryan, as strenuously as it was for Bryan and as strenuously as it was for Cleveland before the silver shield of Bryan appeared above the horizon. The Post gives evidence of turning to the sage of Princeton in the manner of its treatment of Roosevelt's western speeches. Mr. Roosevelt, it says, has made 250 speeches in the last 20 months, and "he fans the war spirit by constant reference to future international struggles, to times when the Pacific must be dominated, and when immense ships of war must protect our commerce." It will be recalled that when Mr. Cleveland was president he did not want to dominate the Pacific. When Hawaii, an outpost in the western ocean, knocked, Mr. Cleveland sent a paramount commissioner to make progress retreat. Since Mr. Cleveland retired we have gathered in Hawaii and made a farther stride across the waters to the Philippines. It is a far cry backward to the former policy of crawling into a hole and then pulling it in, and the cry of the Post may portend a look forward to presidential nomination possibilities. But such remarks as President Roosevelt makes concerning our interests in the Pacific ocean are probably not made without knowledge of the attitude of the American people, the majority of whom are as willing to have the United States a power to be reckoned with in waters that wash its western coasts as they are to retain the lands of the Louisiana purchase. It isn't that Americans are ambitious to have their morning drum beat go with the sun on his course, but that they think it a good American policy to have American commerce and influence proceed with him around the world.

He has been a priest of the church only five and one-half years, having gone over from the Methodist church. Dr. Fawcett was born in New Hartford, Ia., November 1, 1865, and is not yet 38 years old. He took a theological course at Northwestern university, and was ordained a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church in 1885. He resigned his Methodist charge in 1896 and was immediately appointed a lay reader of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer at Elgin, six months later a deacon, and one year later was ordained a priest and appointed rector of the same church.

IN JUNE.

A dimpling silver sea of rye,
A curved arm of purple hills,
A high, thin tent of pale blue sky.

A vale dew-beaded, misty white,
A silence while its deep bowl fills
To running o'er with mellow light.

A flute-like trill—a matin song,
A trembling in the grass below,
And larks upspring in joyous throng.

A touch as of a hand unseen,
The sun! and herds that grazing go
Up shadowed slopes of pastures green.

Rank after rank of martial corn,
A host of burnished spears and greaves,
Rich hannered from the tents of morn.

A cloud sail white—an idle breeze
That whispers secrets to the leaves
And blossoms of the locust trees.

An upward glance of merry eyes,
A look that lovers understand;
Soft questions, and as soft replies.

A world that fades in sweet eclipse,
The tender clasp of hand in hand,
The long, close meeting of the lips.

An' de pillers so comfy an' sof
At I don't fink it's wight for nobody to come
An' des pull all de comforters off.

—Jack Bennett.

There's a boy who knows what's what, and you can't deny it, and won't try, if you ever were a boy.

Wonder, when he gets to be a man and becomes the father of a boy, will he forget all this, and ruthlessly rout him out of bed at the very time it is most comfortable—a very bed of roses, metaphorically speaking?

When people grow up and become heads of families they seem to have forgotten so much which they had at various times promised not to forget when they got big. And some really appear to make a special effort to forget the times—the offtimes—while yet suffering from a welting, they had vowed and declared and solemnly pledged themselves they never would do the same to a boy of theirs, not even if there should be a dozen of them, and every one had—not mean or ornery, but just bad, as a wholesome boy is naturally.

Hence these observations on the boy, lest you forget.

+ + + +

You say the boy is noisy?

Of course, he is. Noise is one of his chief constituents, a prime ingredient in his make-up. If he is destined to become a man who does things he must have action, motion, force. And when you get all these together in the rough you are bound to have noise of some sort, and a-plenty.

You wouldn't expect a competent boy to go long without a stubbed toe, a broken bone, or a swelled jaw. These, if worth having, excite more or less noise.

And what use is a fellow, anyway, unless he makes a noise in the world, creates a stir of some sort, or catches the eye of the public? And isn't a boy a fellow—a little fellow? But, oh, dear! how big he sometimes appear—big as an elephant. At least you would about as lief have an elephant on your hands.

There was in Chicago, once upon a time, a man who claimed to have been a boy at a somewhat remote period of his existence, but not so remote that he couldn't recall it. The Chicago boy caught his attention and held it with such a variety of noises that this man made a list of sounds that had most deeply, if not favorably, impressed him. Here follows the list, to which you may add any other noise or sounds that he has omitted:

Here are some of the things a boy can do;
He can whistle so loud the air turns blue,
Make all the sounds of beast and of bird
And a thousand noises no one ever heard;
He can crow and cackle and also cluck
Just like a rooster, a hen or a duck;
He can bark like a dog, low like a cow,
And a cat itself can't beat his "me-ow."
He can roar and puff like a railway train,
Whistle down brakes, then be off again,
And with the vocal powers at his command
He can make of himself a full brass band,
And with all the instruments ever played
He is the whole show and a street parade.
It's a pretty sure sign that a boy is ill
If he's wide awake and is perfectly still,
But earth would be minus half of its joys
And a dreary spot were there no boys.

—Chicago News.

+ + + +

Speaking of the absence of boys from the face of the earth recalls a story, a true story, as you will see:

This story starts nearly 100 years ago. The characters are two men, one man's sister and thirteen supers.

Both men were ardently religious—and that meant much more early in the last century than it does now—but they were hopelessly divided as to a certain schism. The young physician loved the sister of the young minister. This love, being returned by the sister, seemed to grow in intensity as the arguments with the brother became more bitter. That which laughs at locksmiths hardly could be expected to balk at a little thing like the difference of opinion between two men, although each of the latter felt sure that the point upon which they differed would be the means of sending the other to a land of perpetual fire and brimstone. It might be added that so religious were they that each privately hoped his position would finally be justified by such an outcome.

The marriage took place in the good old way in spite of the brother's protests. When the divine repaired to his chamber that night he prayed: "Oh, Lord! Give ear to the voice of Thy humble servant and aid him with Thy divine power in this the hour of his great sorrow. Grant Thou, O Omniscient One, that no male child shall ever bless the life of this couple. Let their name become extinct upon the face of Thy footstool."

The preacher was a righteous man, and his prayer was certainly fervent. It is also thought by some to have availed, for no son was born to that couple, although the writer hereof is the son of one of 13 daughters who were the fruit of the marriage.

This story goes to show what may happen when an effort is made to cut out the boy.

You may suppress him today, but tomorrow he is more numerous than ever, and just as much alive, and just as active—pernicious activity perchance, but that is hardly his fault. Every boy has good in him, but it requires good management to bring it out.

By the way, how are you making out with your boys? Have you located the good there is in them? Have you got on to their curves so well that you can stop them at any stage of the game? Assumpire, are you the whole thing?

+ + + +

When you come to think, there isn't a man on earth, nor ever was, who didn't begin life as a boy, nor will there ever be one who amounts to anything as a man who doesn't have to pass through the boy state, as well as that of the hobbledy-hoy, etc. Doesn't it strike you that the boy is quite an institution—that is, he cuts some ice on this mundane sphere? As to how much ice he cuts, and how well, that depends largely on the way he is brought up.

And right there the responsibility drops back onto your shoulders. Should he fail to do his work well, he can afford to point to you. And can you afford to answer back by pointing to him as the author of his own failure?

This is getting pretty serious, don't you think? And who would have thought that a boy—just a noisy, riproarious boy, could become such a serious proposition.

And that is about the way of it, and to make matters worse still the girl is trotting right along with him—with him through every changing condition, with him to the good or with him to the bad. This is what complicates the case and causes it to become so intensely serious—at times sadly, painfully serious.

+ + + +

Some parents are continually worrying about their daughters, just as though nature hadn't arranged for their living on earth.

A scary, fussy mother may succeed in making her girls too timid to face life as it is. In this case the girls must suffer, for life will go right along, just the same.

Do you understand the girl?

What makes the little 12-year-old in short dresses and pinafores blush and look conscious when Tom offers to open the gate for her or help her over the brook?

Don't say, in explanation, "It's nature." It is not nature. It's the French governess or the silly schoolmate, who tells her that she's "Tom's girl," or even the anxious mamma, who warns her that she is too big to play with the boys now.

Let nature alone for guarding a girl's play with a boy, and she can brighten his campus or share his work desk forever if need be, without a passing danger to any of the fine trusts committed to her or him.

Left to herself she would never force or violate the fixed and orderly voices of her soul, and if, perchance, some special Tom should waken a new consciousness in her heart she'd know how to guard that, too, be sure, and all the better because she had not been led to look for or imagine it in every boy who glanced at her.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 1.—New York is about to enjoy what will be probably one of the most exciting criminal trials of the season. The defendant will be the well-known ex-Pittsburgher, Col. Robert A. Ammon, lawyer, raconteur, bon vivant, literateur and man of the world. Opposed to him will be the young man who is known the country over as "Syndicate" Miller, who showed to thousands of "come-ons," including a great many from Pittsburgh and its suburbs, how to invest a few dollars which would bring them in a return of 200 per cent. Miller was brought down from Sing Sing today. He is pale, sickly and has almost lost his voice. Altogether, he is a pitiable object. He charges Col. Ammon with being the principal figure in the huge conspiracy which brought millions of dollars to the mean looking little house in Brooklyn where Miller had his "get-rich-quick" headquarters, and with taking a large share of the proceeds of the illicit business. Ammon is out on bail and is attending to his legal affairs from day to day with the aplomb which always has characterized him. He intimates that he is not afraid of the trial or its outcome, because he never has done any business which was not strictly lawful. As for Miller, he does not say anything. He is in the hands of the district attorney, and, of course, has been instructed not to talk about the case. Col. Ammon has always been so popular in Pittsburgh that his troubles over the Miller affair have kept the interest of his old neighbors on the qui vive ever since his name was first mentioned in connection with it. I saw him in the street today and he looked as big and jolly as ever and as if he had not a care in the world.

Duss Draws Large Audiences.

John S. Duss has opened his season at the Madison Square garden with a burst of harmony and under the most agreeable auspices. There is a very large crowd at his Venetian fairyland tonight, and evidently he will be the great attraction of the summer for jaded New Yorkers and visitors from other cities who come to this city for a new sensation.

Japanese Valets in Demand.

In a large, rich city like New York, where the parvenu in particular flourishes on all sides, there is always a demand for valets, butlers and men servants generally. Of late years this demand is filled largely by Japanese young men who have come over to study the country, but have no means except what they derive from their labor. It is becoming the thing now to employ a Jap for a valet whenever one can be procured, in preference to a Frenchman, Englishman or German. These three European nationalities formerly had almost a monopoly of this kind of employment. It never suited an Irishman or an American, although a Scot makes a fairly good "man" for a millionaire. Andrew Carnegie's entire household is Scottish, for instance. A Jap seems to be peculiarly suited for this service. He is neat, clean, respectful and self-respecting, and he is always a gentleman. There are hundreds of Japanese servants in the big houses uptown and their number is increasing year by year.

Another Woman Burned to Death.

Stirring up a mass of burning paper and other rubbish in a yard, a woman was burned to death in this city today. Several persons who tried to rescue her were also dangerously injured, and one of them, an artist named Reicke, may lose his right arm. The woman was doing what so many women do about house cleaning time in Pittsburgh and other cities as well as New York. Her dress caught fire and—there you are.

Panorama and a Dinner.

This is the kind of weather which the restaurants along Broadway, where they serve a good, well-cooked luncheon, with attentive waiters, flowers and an unobstructed view of the panorama of upper Broadway, all for 50 cents, are patronized to the utmost. There are half a dozen such places between Herald square and Forty-second street, and tables are not easy to get at any of them between 12 and 2 in the afternoon.

Chivalry Among Yachtsmen.

New York certainly is yacht mad. The big event of today was the ocean race of 248 miles of six schooners, under the auspices of the Atlantic Yacht club. The idea of a spin on the open sea appeals to most people as something free and delightful, and there was a large number of people to see the start off the end of Coney Island, which is known as Seagate. With a fresh wind and everything on the big fliers shipshape and taut, there was nothing to interfere with a race on its merits. Yachtsmen are first of all sportsmen, and each one is as anxious that his opponents shall have a fair chance as he is for himself.

Greene an Active Commissioner.

Commissioner Greene cannot be charged with showing lack of interest in the affairs of the police department. He is the most active commissioner the city ever has had since Theodore Roosevelt dropped out of the police board to become governor of the state and thence to be president of the United States. The newest change by Gen. Greene is to shift patrolmen in each precinct every two weeks. He will place them so that they will not be too well acquainted with other policemen while on post, too. That is to say, when he takes a man from post No. 1, he will go to No. 3, and not to No. 2, so that he will be in new territory. The plan is to be tried in one precinct in Manhattan and another in Brooklyn. If it works satisfactorily it will be put in operation all over the city. Most of the changes made by the commissioner and his deputies have been for the increased convenience of the public, and New Yorkers are getting more and more confidence in the big men of Mulberry street.

Unveiling of Hobart Statue.

Paterson, N. J., will be the point toward which many distinguished men will make their way on Wednesday. A statue of Paterson's greatest citizen, Garrett A. Hobart, will be unveiled with impressive ceremonies, and all Paterson will make holiday. Fontaine Bell will unveil the statue, and the orator of the day will be Gen. John W. Griggs, formerly United States attorney general. Mayor Hinckliffe will accept the statue on behalf of the city. The memory of the former vice president of the United States is held in the warmest affection in Paterson and the people of the city have been looking forward eagerly to the day when a fitting monument to him should be set up for all to admire.

May Appear in Awful Disguise.

From the Philadelphia Record.

It is stated that not less than a hundred French cooks are on the way to the United States in defiance of the contract labor law. This will require increased vigilance on the part of the immigration authorities at Ellis Island. There is no telling how many cooks may attempt to land disguised as French, English and Italian policemen seeking rich American wives.

Political Drift.

The one large fact that emerges out of the dust raised by the Ohio episode, says the New York World (Dem.), is that President Roosevelt has made his nomination for the presidency by the next national convention of his party as certain as any event so far in the future can be made.

A year must elapse before he can be quite sure of achieving the unique fame of being the first vice president of the United States who, after filling out the term of a president dying in office, was nominated to succeed himself. In a year many unforeseen and today unimaginable things may happen. At this moment, however, his nomination next year appears to be assured. States casting together 459 votes have already declared for him. Ohio's 46 votes are now as good as pledged, and that puts more than a majority of the national convention to his credit 12 months in advance of its meeting.

The Washington Post (ind. Dem.) does not agree with some newspapers which take the ground that Mr. Cleveland's reputation will be heightened by the third-term "boom," even though he should not be again nominated. "In permitting himself to be boomed for a third presidential term," says the Post, "when a word fitly spoken would have put a stop to that performance—to a booming that is generally regarded as worse than folly—Mr. Cleveland has grieved many of his judicious friends. They cannot imagine that he desires, or thinks it possible, to get another nomination, nor can they suspect him capable of believing that, if he were nominated, he could be elected. Why, then, they ask themselves, is he permitting this booming to go on? Why did he not suppress this mistaken zeal? The suggestion that it would be indelicate for him to decline, before he is formally asked, is nonsense."

+ + + +

The story that the Kansas Populists would vote for Roosevelt in preference to Cleveland is entirely credible, says the Kansas City Journal (Rep.). The truth is that most of the Kansas Populists will vote the Republican ticket next year no matter whom the Democrats may nominate. Populism in the west was an organized protest against policies which were believed to have brought hard times upon the country. It was a desperate remedy of agriculturists who were willing to try anything that affordes a hope of relief. The restoration of prosperity through the very agencies that the Populists had thought to be so destructive convinced them of their error, and now they desire the party under whose administration they are growing rich to continue in power.

In other words, the Populist party is a wreck, and most of its western members are now Republicans and can be depended on to support the Republican ticket in the next national election, regardless of Roosevelt or Cleveland.

It is intimated, says the Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.), that Col. Bryan will be satisfied if he is allowed to select the Democratic nominee for president next year. He was allowed to do that in 1900, although there was a tremendous contingency of delegates opposed to him. All that prevented the colonel from being defeated in the Kansas City convention was the utter lack of organization and leadership on the part of those who were against him. That was plain on the surface of the proceedings. The nomination of Col. Bryan was practically made in the all-night session of the committee on resolutions over the silver question. He won by the narrow margin of one vote in the committee, and that vote was cast by a delegate from the Hawaiian islands, who acknowledged that he did not know enough about American politics to decide for himself, but depended on others for illumination.

The action of the Pennsylvania Republican state convention, and the result of the controversy in Ohio in the withdrawal of all objection by Senator Hanna to the indorsement of President Roosevelt, are accepted all over the country as insuring the absolute certainty of the president's nomination next year, barring unforeseen and improbable accidents, says the New York Tribune (Rep.). Not only is there no competitor making an active contest for the prize which is the legitimate object of Mr. Roosevelt's ambition and the natural tribute to be expected from the people if they are satisfied with the discharge of the duties forced upon him by the tragic death of President McKinley, but there is no apparent chance for a competitor if he did care to test his popularity against the president's. Sixteen states have already in their state conventions declared for his nomination, or will certainly do so soon, and they will have 496 votes in the next national convention, or more than enough to nominate.

+ + + +

In the discussion of the southern question, says the Washington Star (Ind. Rep.), the assertion is sometimes made that had Mr. McKinley lived, or his methods been copied by his successor, several of the southern states would now be safe in the Republican column. We are asked to believe that a revolution was on the cards, and would speedily have been consummated. This is of the very essence of foolishness. It is opposed to both common sense and the record. That the southern Democrats admired Mr. McKinley is open to no question. Who did not who knew him? He was personally an irresistible man. But the southern men were not moved politically by him. The same southern states which had voted against him in 1896 voted against him four years later.

New Story of Carnegie.

From the New York World.

"There were two men whom I used to meet all the time, a few years ago," said an old New Yorker yesterday. "They weren't together, but on the day I'd see one I was pretty sure to see the other. I met them so often, by pure coincidence, that I took to speculating as to their identity. One was a big, blustering blonde chap, who ran to jewelry and who talked loudly on 'L' cars about his big deals in Wall street. The other was a little, reserved-looking gray man, quietly dressed in non-descript clothes. In my mind I 'doped' the big blonde to be a railroad president. The little gray man I sized up as a head clerk somewhere. Well, through a friend I found out the big, loud-voiced chap was an $11 a week bank messenger. And the little man? Oh! yes; I met him at a public dinner one night. I was introduced to him. I seemed to have heard his name before. It was Andrew Carnegie."

McKeesport's Great Expectations.

From the McKeesport News.

From a reliable source it is now learned that Mr. Schwab will donate to the city of McKeesport an industrial school in size and importance the equal if not the superior of that erected and equipped at Homestead by the steel corporation magnate. McKeesport certainly will appreciate the gift and stands ready to do whatever Mr. Schwab might consider the municipality's share in providing a site for the institution.

STILL WORKING ON RESERVOIR

Bigelow Says the Contractors Have Not Yet Finished the New Highland Basin.

CLAIMS GRANTED AHEAD

Supreme Court Has Already Decided That Final Estimate Must Be Paid—Water Bureau Says Reservoir Is in Bad Shape

Director E. M. Bigelow stated yesterday that Keeling & Ridge, contractors, still have a force of men at work on the new Highland reservoir, although the final estimates for this work were approved months ago by Director Bigelow's predecessor at the head of the public works department, Dr. J. Guy McCandless, and were the subject of recent controversy decided by the supreme court against Controller John B. Larkin.

The water bureau has reported that the new reservoir is in a bad condition and that the contractors have been forced to make some repairs since the work was accepted by Director McCandless. One employe of the water bureau stated yesterday that when the basin was filled and drained a large crevice was found in the wall toward the side where big leaks are located and that this crevice has been since plugged up, but that the basin is leaking as bad as ever.

Controller Larkin has not yet received official notice of the decision of the supreme court, which entered a decree against the controller last week. The controller states that he has not decided what he will do, but it is the opinion of the city officials that he can do nothing now but pay the contractors their estimates or go to jail for contempt of court.

It is probable that withing the next few days the controller will be formally notified of the decision of the highest court in the state, and when he receives this notice the Mercantile Trust Company, the surety for the contractors, will make an instant demand for payment. Unless the controller pays the money on the spot the legal representatives of the trust company will go before the court and ask for a writ upon the controller for contempt.

MAYORS ARE AGAINST RAISING OF BRIDGES

Hays, Wyman, City Councils and the Chamber of Commerce Make Protests.

Mayor William B. Hays of Pittsburgh and James G. Wyman of Allegheny protested against the raising of the bridges spanning the Allegheny river in these cities at the hearing given yesterday before Capt. William L. Siberf, United States engineer in charge of the river improvements in this district. Protests were also filed from the city councils, the chamber of commerce and property-owners along Duquesne Way.

The bridge company was represented by Attorneys W. B. Rodgers and W. K. Shiras, and Attorney M. A. Woodward represented the Allegheny River Improvement association. The Seventh street bridge was under consideration.

A mass of typewritten evidence was presented by both sides. All new evidence was read, which occupied much time. The contentions of the bridge company are that the raising of the bridge would entail a loss of $1,000,000 and but few people would be benefited by the change. It was also alleged that Duquesne way would be ruined by the grade and that the bridge, now a valuable piece of property, would be ruined and worth about $25,000. Heavy grades would have to be traveled, and the traffic over the bridges is worth several times the amount of boating done on the Allegheny. The ground was carefully covered by both sides.

The rivermen were represented by their attorney, and long speeches were made by Capt. Thomas M. Rees, Theodore Lampert, secretary of the association, Capt. W. B. Rodgers and Capt. John F. Dravo. The matter will be submitted to the secretary of war for decision.

THREE ARE PROMOTED.

High Officials Take Another Step Upward at the Edgar Thomson Plant.

Charles E. Dinkey, one of the well known junior partners of the Carnegie Steel Company, was yesterday formally appointed general superintendent of the Edgar Thomson steel works by President W. E. Corey. Mr. Dinkey, who has been assistant superintendent at the plant for the past three years, succeeds Thomas Morrison, who resigned about two weeks ago. The latter will leave for a European tour with his wife and family this week.

After Mr. Dinkey's appointment was announced he made the following promotions at the plant: John F. Lewis, master mechanic, to be assistant general superintendent; A. E. Maccoun, for the past eight years superintendent of the Edgar Thomson electrical department, to be master mechanic. A number of minor changes are expected as a result of the promotions announced. Mr. Dinkey and Mr. Lewis have filled a number of important positions since they entered the service of the company over 20 years ago. Both were made junior partners in the Carnegie Steel Company last year.

REPORT IN TWO DAYS.

Civic League Will Publish Correspondence With Mayor William B. Hays.

In a couple of days the executive committee of the Civic League will give to the public the result of its investigation of the recent alleged attempt of the Public Works department to break up a meeting in the Twentieth ward during the technical school fight and also of the alleged abduction of Select Councilman George S. Fleming by Superintendent John P. McTighe, Detective William Snore and others to prevent a quorum of select council while the technical school bill was before that body.

The Civic League committee has received from Mayor William B. Hays a letter in reply to an inquiry, and the mayor's answer and other correspondence will be given out with the report of the committee.

Braddock Pastor Is Satisfied.

The Rev. William G. Reagle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Braddock, has just refused a call from Cambridge, the county seat of Guernsey county, Ohio. Mr. Reagle is 35 years old and has been preaching for 12 years. Within the past year and a half he has received four calls from various prominent Presbyterian churches, among them Omaha and Cincinnati pastorates. The Braddock congregation will increase his salary.

BELLS WILL RING

No Lots Will Be Put On Sale Before Excursionists Have All Arrived

Shortly after the free excursion trains arrive a brigade of boys will be sent running to all parts of the property ringing bells, so that all can hear. The sale will start with the first ring of these bells. Shrewd persons, therefore, will lose no time after the trains arrive looking for choice spots.

Choice lots at this great sale will go at $25 up. Beauties will be offered as low as $25, $50, $100, $150, $200, $250 and $300.

Splendid lots on Ramsey, Patterson and Washington avenues and Murray street, the business thoroughfares, will be sold at $300 to $1,000.

Some extra choice sites will go as high as $1,500, but for none is there being asked a higher figure than $1,500. Very few will be offered at over $900. Very many will be offered at less than $600.

Terms are, 5 per cent to be paid down; 2½ per cent per month for balance; 15 per cent discount for cash.

The policy is not to see how much the lots can be sold for, but to see how fast they can be built up, so that there will be markets of supply for the incoming workmen and homebuyers.

STORES NEEDED.

The $450,000 which will circulate every month as workmen's wages will create an immediate demand for first-class meat markets, groceries and bakeries, for dry-goods houses, notion and shoe stores, for drug stores, for plumbing, painting, carpenter and cabinet-making shops, for upholsterers, china stores, hardware stores and more especially hotels and boarding houses.

COULD CONVINCED

He Saw That Gould City Would Be the Starting Point for 200,000 More People.

The present freightage, 70,000,000 tons per annum, and growing in a way that makes men marvel, with an outlet far too meager to allow it to be pushed out to the trade fast enough to satisfy demands, convinced George Gould and President Ramsey that their road was needed in the east both for the good of the country and the good of Pittsburgh, the growth of whose population has been kept back at least 200,000 souls by the discrimination of the other railroads.

SHOPS AND ROUNDHOUSES.

But where were President Ramsey and Engineer Patterson to find an area in this thickly populated city large enough to build shops and roundhouses, terminal yards, etc., for a system to operate on such a gigantic scale? Where were the thousands of employes associated with such an immense railroad industry to live?

BRIDGEVILLE, so situated geographically as to be the only practical location, occurred to them. BRIDGEVILLE just 11 miles outside of Pittsburgh on the Panhandle—but by way of the Wabash 8 miles or as close to the center of Pittsburgh as Wilkinsburg. BRIDGEVILLE, endowed by nature with every natural facility to this end.

GREAT CONNECTING LINK.

So the edict went forth that the great new terminal shops should be built next to Bridgeville, in what will be known as the City of Gould! Should absorb part of Bridgeville and the surrounding country! Should be the great connecting link of the Gould system between the east and west! BRIDGEVILLE, where in less than 10 years 35,000 people will be living and a metropolis created that will be larger than Altoona on the Pennsylvania main line! BRIDGEVILLE, where the real estate investor will soon be able to pick up lots at $100 that he can sell out of hand at $1,000!

READ ABOUT THE GREAT $50,000 FREE GIFT OFFER

As our past experience tells us that investors put off calling for excursion tickets until one or two days before the day of the excursion, making it impossible to provide a sufficient number of coaches to comfortably carry the crowds when there is a big rush during the finish or final hours, we have determined upon a plan which makes it to your interest to secure these tickets early.

We have decided to issue in combination with these free excursion tickets, three series of discount cards entitling you to special discounts on any and every lot you may purchase. The first series, Series A, will entitle you to a free gift of $15 on any or every lot you buy. The issue is limited to 1,000 tickets. After the last ticket of these 1,000 tickets has been given out, Series B will go on distribution.

The tickets in Series B entitle you to a free gift of $10, instead of $15, on any and every lot you may purchase. The distribution of this series will not stop until 2,000 tickets have been given out.

Then the distribution of Series C, entitling you to a free gift of $5 on any and every lot you may buy, will begin. Series C will embrace 3,000 tickets. No tickets will be given out to anybody after the last issue is exhausted.

The Passenger Department of the Panhandle Railroad, Pennsylvania Lines, has informed us that it will be impossible to provide adequate seating capacity for more than 6,000 people on that date.

The free distribution of discount tickets in conjunction with the free excursion tickets is made with the sole purpose of inducing investors to call or send in their requests for these tickets at once.

We are losing money by this operation, but feel that the loss is justified and warranted for the reason that the plan will give us ample opportunity to provide satisfactory accommodations for the crowds, no matter how large they may be.

We advise all who desire to secure tickets of the Series A issue, entitling purchasers to $15 discount, to lose no time making application. Do not forget that many a person will lose $5, $10 or $15 by putting off for an hour, or even five minutes, their application for these tickets. If you intend buying a block of lots you may lose $500 or $1,000.

The free discount tickets will be examined by conductor on the train, but not lifted.

A Cityized Suburb STUPENDOUS

The City of Gould Will Not Only Impress Speculators, but Will Be Looked Upon By Home Seekers as Another Bellevue

PROMINENT PITTSBURGERS HAVE HAD SUMMER HOMES AT BRIDGEVILLE FOR YEARS AND YEARS

The City of Gould will prove a more advantageous Suburban Home for the mighty armies employed in the great commercial circles of Pittsburg than Emsworth, Sewickley, Edgewood, Wilkinsburg or some parts of the East End, BECAUSE of the unequaled railroad service. Capitalists, merchants, professional men, etc., whose interests call them to Pittsburgh during the day can go to and from their places of business in a shorter time than is possible for those living down the Ohio river or up the Allegheny.

EIGHT MILES FROM TOWN.

As a result of the great Wabash System locating its terminals at Gould City, adjoining Bridgeville, the property will have the most complete train schedule of any suburban place in Western Pennsylvania. When the great new tunnels have been completed through the hills the Wabash System will bring the City of Gould practically but 8 miles beyond the center of Pittsburg—the new Bridal Route, reduces the Panhandle distance three miles. Another feature which will command unbounded interest will be the handsomely equipped Vestibule Cannon Ball trains which will beat the best record of other lines to Chicago by short 2½ hours.

TRAINS DAY AND NIGHT.

The City of Gould, as a natural sequence of these unexampled railroad facilities will be the home for business men employed in the cities and towns 20 to 30 miles distant, as trains can be had at all the principal points along this great Wabash road at almost any time of the day or night.

STUPENDOUS

Villars Avenue, In Gould City, Will Look Down on Railroad Activity Unprecedented

Nearly Half a Million Dollars Will Be Paid Out Each Month in Wages

It Is Conceded That Of The 70,000,000 Tons Of Freight Going Out From Pittsburgh Annually The Wabash Will Begin Operations With One-Eighth Of This Tonnage.

Judging from the past, the increase in tonnage in the Pittsburg district will be 10,000,000 tons per year. The Wabash portion of the present 70,000,000 tonnage, together with the very large business bound to accumulate by reason of opening up this virgin territory, rich in everything that has made the Pittsburg district the greatest in the world, would be 8,750,000 tons to start off with.

TRACK FOR 100 ENGINES.

The Wabash interests are planning to build in Gould City their own engines, their own cars, their own rolling stock. The yards will contain track enough for 100 engines to be in motion at the same time. Thus they will be equipped to compete with and some day secure the greater part of Greater Pittsburg's immense tonnage.

This great railroad interest at Gould City, when completed, will give employment to not less than 5,000 men. The first crew of 1,000 men will go to work about next December. The average disbursement in monthly wages will easily amount to $437,000.

KNOX IS HERE TO MEET ROOSEVELT

Attorney General Will Join the President the Latter Part of the Week.

RETURN TRIP HASTENED

Chief Magistrate Expected to Arrive in Pittsburgh Friday or Saturday and Stop Off for a Few Hours.

Attorney General P. C. Knox arrived in the city yesterday and will remain here to meet President Roosevelt, who is expected to reach Pittsburgh the latter part of this week on his return from his western trip. The return of President Roosevelt has been hastened, and it is probable that he will be in Pittsburgh Friday or Saturday. It is likely he will stop over in the city for a few hours as the guest of the attorney general.

Mr. Knox is quartered at the Schenley. He, too, was up early yesterday morning and soon after breakfast came down town. At the breakfast table he was greeted by Congressman H. Kirke Porter and other local acquaintances. He called at his former law offices in the Carnegie building in the afternoon and received a number of friends there.

Last evening he was tendered a dinner at the Union club in the Frick building by District Attorney J. S. Young and a number of other friends. The attorney general returned to the Schenley last night about 10 o'clock and retired immediately in order to be up early this morning to take the train for Brownsville, Pa., where some of his family are visiting. The attorney general is expected to return from Brownsville tomorrow evening. It is announced that after Mr. Knox has acted as host to President Roosevelt during the latter's expected short stay in the city, he will accompany him back to Washington.

The president is not scheduled to arrive in Washington until the first of next week, but from the announcement made last night in connection with the visit of Attorney General Knox the president will probably reach the national capital two days sooner than expected.

WIND AND WEATHER ARE AGAINST THE CARNIVAL

Cut Down the Attendance and Spoiled the Outdoor Attractions.

The cool weather and the high winds conspired against the united labor carnival yesterday. In the afternoon the outdoor attractions on the arsenal grounds were spoiled by the wind, which was blowing so strong that Marvellous Marsh, the bicyclist, could not make his famous dive, and Herr Granada, the high wire artist, was unable to put on his elephant suit, although he and Miss Alma Federa went through a number of difficult evolutions.

Another free attraction was added yesterday in the person of Miss Emma Correy, a skillful juggler, whose feats attracted a large crowd.

Last night the wind had subsided sufficiently to allow all the out-door events to take place, but the atmosphere was so excessively cool that the crowds were not more than half so large as on Saturday, the opening night. The attendance last night was between 3,000 and 4,000.

The effect of the comparatively slender crowds upon the side shows was marked. The barkers shouted themselves hoarse in their efforts to attract the people. A public marriage of a McKeesport couple is promised as one of the extra attractions for this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is stated that the couple will receive $100 in cash and a handsome bedroom suite.

INQUIRY ORDERED.

Gen. Davis to Ascertain Whether Lieut. Burbank Married Filipino Maiden.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The commanding general in the Philippines has been instructed to investigate the case of Lieut. Sidney S. Burbank, Sixth infantry, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., charged by a Filipino girl, who claims to be his wife, with desertion. It is alleged that the marriage occurred in the Philippines, Burbank was there with his regiment. The Filipino girl alleges that he abandoned her. She asked that the department compel him to support her. She filed a copy of what she claimed was the marriage certificate.

Burbank denies the marriage and characterizes the alleged certificate as a forgery. Gen. Davis has been instructed to ascertain the fact. Burbank is reported to be engaged to marry a young woman of Leavenworth.

THE DEATH ROLL

John S. Shaffer.

John S. Shaffer, 92 years old, for many years a prominent business man of Pittsburgh, died on Saturday at West Palm Beach, Fla., where he had been spending the past winter with his wife and sister. Mr. Shaffer was the father-in-law of Henry Phipps, the well-known Pittsburgh millionaire. He left here for Florida early and probably buried from his home in the East End. Mr. Shaffer was the last resident near Center avenue and Dinwiddie street in which locality he owned considerable property. For several years past Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer have been spending the winter at West Palm Beach, where they had a winter home. Mr. Shaffer was one of the original members of the Sixth United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, and at one time officiated as an elder in the church. He is survived by his widow and two children, Mrs. Annie Shaffer Negley and Miss Caroline Shaffer, Ada, was the wife of Frank N. Hofstott.

Mrs. Caroline F. Worthington.

Mrs. Caroline Fisher Worthington, aged 89 years, died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anna Meckel in Oakmont, of old age. Mrs. Worthington was a member of a pioneer family of Western Pennsylvania. She was twice married. Her second husband was killed in Missouri in 1863 by a band of guerrillas while inspecting some timber land. Mrs. Worthington was a member of the Fetchtly German Lutheran church, Allegheny. She is survived by four sons and three daughters, including John Fisher, of the East End; Robert Worthington and Robert H. Worthington, Allegheny, and Mrs. Anna Meckel of Oakmont. Funeral services will be held on 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Fetchtly Lutheran church, Allegheny.

Oliver Person.

Oliver Person, a former business man of Pittsburgh, died at his home near Sanford, Fla., May 17, aged 71 years. The late Dr. John L. Person, a well known homeopathic physician, was his only child. The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at Enola, Fla., where for the past 10 years Mr. Person had served as an elder.

Obituary Notes.

M. M. Pierce, a well known old man of McDonald, Pa., died of heart failure in Fairmont, Tex., Sunday. He was 87 years old and leaves a widow and three children.

Mrs. Mary Duff is dead at her home in North Beaver township, Lawrence county, Pa., after a long illness. She was the daughter of the late William Duff, a pioneer resident.

Moses C. Cook, 86 years old, a retired farmer, is dead at his home in Bridgeville, where he resided for 40 years. He was a member of the Mt. Lebanon United Presbyterian church. He is survived by four brothers, John, samuel, Mason and Dr. George Cook.

Mrs. Mary Gailey, 85 years old, is dead at Lisbon, O. Her husband was Alexander Gailey of Pittsburgh, whom she married 67 years ago. Five children are living, David S. Gailey of Lisbon, Mrs. Mary Matthews, Parkersburg, W. Va.; Mrs. Annie Todd, Lisbon; Mrs. Lizzie Mashew, Springfield, O., and William A. Gailey, Cleveland.

MILLIGAN IS BEING WATCHED

Employe at Stable Where Collins Roomed Is Under Surveillance.

Three Weeks After Murder Was Committed, Night Watchman Disappeared—District Attorney Knows His Whereabouts.

James Milligan, a boon companion of Frederick R. Collins, the coachman, who was foully murdered on April 5, is under police surveillance at a point about 125 miles from this city suspected of being implicated in the crime. The man was employed as night watchman at Schulenberg's stables in Henry street, near Craig, where Collins slept, and he disappeared about three weeks after the crime was committed.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker last night admitted that Milligan is being watched. He refused to say where he is located nor what clue led to Milligan's being suspected. The fact that he left Pittsburgh shortly after the murder happened, without a word to his employers, is now regarded as suspicious. When the inquest was resumed last Wednesday, Mr. Haymaker asked that it be postponed one week, which was done. This is thought to mean that the district attorney has something up his sleeve.

ALL THE MILLIGAN'S ARE MISSING.

Milligan formerly lived at No. 57 Blackadore place, Brushton, with his wife and two children. Three days after he disappeared Mrs. Milligan called at Schulenberg's stables and secured four days' pay that was due her husband. A few days later she and her children also disappeared and no trace of them has been found. They are thought to be with Milligan.

A year ago last March Milligan entered Schulenberg's employ. He had previously worked for other well-known East End liverymen and bore a good reputation. While working for Schulenberg he was very regular in his habits and was never known to do anything out of the way.

Collins was employed as coachman for the Rhodes family and had a room at the stables in Henry street. It was admitted last night that on different occasions he had taken women to his room. Milligan in his capacity as night watchman was thrown constantly into Collins' company and they became in a measure companions. Milligan knew of Collins' relations with several women.

When it became known that Collins had been murdered Milligan had little or nothing to say. His actions, however, were not such as to point the finger of suspicion toward him. He did his work just as regularly as he had always done, and no change was noticed in him whatever.

MILLIGAN'S WIFE DREW HIS PAY.

It is the custom at the stable to pay the men on Wednesday of each week. On Wednesday, April 22, Milligan drew his week's pay. He was on duty on the following Sunday night, but failed to appear on Monday. Word was sent to his home and Mrs. Milligan stated that her husband had left for his work at 6 o'clock that evening. The next night he again failed to put in an appearance and another man was hired.

On Wednesday Mrs. Milligan appeared and drew the four days' pay due her husband. She was not asked where her husband was, and volunteered no information. She was well-known to the proprietors of the stable, having been there often as had also her son, whom she had with her, and the money was paid over to her without question. Milligan's disappearance ceased to be talked about around the stable and the incident was regarded as closed, for it is not an unusual thing for men employed about stables to suddenly quit work and go elsewhere. Still such action was unexpected on Milligan's part, for he had always been such a steady fellow.

DETECTIVES START TO WORK AGAIN.

The detectives who had been working on the Collins mystery had about given up in despair when they learned of Milligan's disappearance. Detective Richard Kelly at once started out on a new line of investigation which led to his learning of the whereabouts of the night watchman. There being no other evidence than the fact that he had disappeared, no warrant was issued for Milligan's arrest and no arrest was made. He was and is being kept under surveillance, however.

As long as Milligan remains where he is, that is until there is sufficient evidence to warrant his arrest, he will be left alone. It is understood, however, that should he attempt to leave the place where he is at present he will be at once arrested. Neither the district attorney or Detective Kelly would say where the man is, although the former stated that he knows. It is thought he is between here and Altoona.

HISTORY OF THE CRIME.

The dead body of Frederick R. Collins, covered with bruises, was found on the morning of April 6 in an open field at Center avenue and Aliquippa street and the indications pointed to murder. He had a deep gash on his forehead over his right eye and gashes on the neck and body. The hair of the dead man was covered with burs, while a woman's breastpin and an old cap were found close to the body. There was plenty of evidence to show that Collins was assaulted while undressed; that his clothes were put on him and that the body was later taken from some unknown place to the spot where it was found.

On the Sunday night on which Collins was murdered he had been out driving until late with a party of men with whom he is not known. He returned and put the horses away at the stables and that was the last seen of him

TWO INJURED IN A RUNAWAY

McKeesport's Postmaster and His Wife Had a Serious Accident.

WERE ON A RURAL TOUR

Accident Took Place in Fayette County—Recorder O'Neil and County Controller Cunningham Were Along.

A tour in surreys which Postmaster William V. Campbell and his wife were making in Fayette county with a party of friends ended abruptly yesterday through a runaway accident in which Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were seriously hurt. The accident happened in the country, six miles this side of Uniontown.

The party left McKeesport on Friday. It consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. Campbell's brother-in-law, County Recorder J. Denny O'Neil, Mrs. O'Neil and their little son, and County Controller Robert J. Cunningham and wife of Sewickley. The party drove leisurely through Fayette county in two surreys, visiting friends and relatives, inspected old Fort Necessity, built by Washington, and after spending last night in Uniontown, started for home.

The Cunninghams and O'Neils were driving in one surrey, which preceded by about 200 yards the one in which the Campbells were sitting. At the top of a steep hill one of the lines on Campbell's horse broke, and as the vehicle pushed against the horse the animal began to go faster. Mr. Campbell jumped out of the surrey and ran forward and grasped the bridle. The movement scared the animal, which bolted.

Campbell kept his feet for awhile, but was at last dragged off them and fell between the horse's hoofs. Fortunately he was not struck by the iron shoes, but he was rolled at right angles with the rig and a front and rear wheel passed over his abdomen. Mrs. Campbell saw the accident and her first impulse was to go to her husband's assistance. In trying to spring out her foot caught in the lap robe and she was thrown out, alighting partly on her head and shoulders. The horse kept on and brought up against the surrey in which the others of the party were riding.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were lying in the dust of the roadway. Cunningham and O'Neil ran to their assistance assigning their wives and the boy to hold the horses. The two injured were put into one of the surreys, and the rest of the party walked and rode, leading the other horse, until a farmohuse was reached, where a line was borrowed, when the ride back to Uniontown was continued. There a doctor attended to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and the party returned to McKeesport by train last night.

Mrs. Campbell has a bad cut on the top of the head, and her shoulders and body are bruised. Mr. Campbell was also bruised and cut, but the physicians say the wheels of the surrey seem to have caused no internal injury. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will, however, have to stay in bed a week, the doctors say.

PITTSBURGHERS TAKE PART IN SERVICES

WASHINGTON, PA., June 1.—(Special.)—The united auxiliaries of the Pittsburgh district of the Christian church held interesting sessions today in the First church of Washington. Representatives are here from Pittsburgh, Waynesburg, Uniontown, Connellsville and many other points. This afternoon a paper on "The Church of the Future," was read by the Rev. J. H. Craig of Bellevue. Mrs. Phillips of New Castle and Mrs. Spangler of Allegheny, also gave talks. Tonight the Rev. W. J. Russell of East End, Pittsburgh, preached the closing sermon.

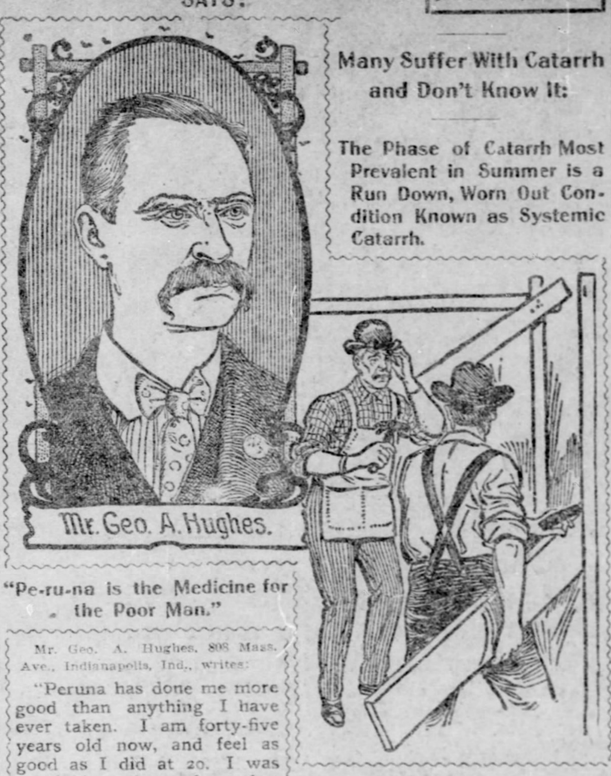
MR. GEO. A. HUGHES SAYS:

"I FEEL AS GOOD AS I DID AT 20."



Many Suffer With Catarrh and Don't Know It:

The Phase of Catarrh Most Prevalent in Summer is a Run Down, Worn Out Condition Known as Systemic Catarrh.

"Pe-ru-na is the Medicine for the Poor Man."

Mr. Geo. A. Hughes, 808 Mass. Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"Peruna has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I am forty-five years old now, and feel as good as I did at 20. I was very thin and run down, but Peruna acted just right in my case. I am a carpenter and sometimes need a tonic. Peruna is the medicine for a poor man."—Geo. A. Hughes.

MR. R. M. BAKER, a prominent citizen of Buckhead, Ga., writes in a recent letter his experience with Peruna to build up a broken down system. He says:

"Some time ago I was troubled with catarrh of the stomach and spent lots of money in buying so-called catarrh medicines and paying doctor's bills. Peruna was recommended to me by a friend, and after taking a few bottles I am happy to say that I am entirely cured.

"I can recommend Peruna, because I believe it to be the best catarrh remedy on the market. My whole system was out of order and my health generally was very bad, but since taking Peruna I am now enjoying better health than I can ever remember, and fully believe that Peruna did the work. I shall always speak a good word in its behalf."

A Congressman Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family.

Hon. Thomas J. Henderson, Member of Congress from Illinois, and Lieutenant in the Union Army for eight years, writes from the Lanson Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"Peruna has been used in my family with the very best results and I take pleasure in recommending your valuable remedy to my friends as a tonic and an effective cure for catarrh."—Thos. J. Henderson.

Catarrh assumes different phases in different seasons of the year. In the early summer systemic catarrh is most prevalent. That tired, all worn out feeling in nine cases out of ten is due to a catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes. Peruna cleanses the mucous membranes and cures the catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

HANNA ADHERENTS ARE A LITTLE SORE

Rumors at Columbus That They Will Retaliate on Senator Foraker.

LEADERS MAKE DENIAL

On the Surface All Is Plain Sailing for Roosevelt Indorsement. Platform Will Conform to Ideas of National Chairman.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., June 1.—Underneath the placid surface of Ohio politics, undisturbed by scarcely a ripple since the recent squall, there are some forces working that may yet liven up the Republican state convention, which opens here on Wednesday.

Following the announcement of Senator Hanna that he would not oppose the indorsement of the candidacy of President Roosevelt, a number of the Hanna lieutenants conceived the idea of retaliating upon Senator Foraker for his part in the indorsement controversy. They were of the opinion that the question was raised for the express purpose of embarrassing Mr. Hanna and they have been looking about for a chance to get even. First there were rumors that Gen. Dick would be elected permanent chairman instead of Senator Foraker, but this was denied by prominent members of the Hanna faction and now there remains no doubt that Mr. Foraker will be the presiding officer.

Tonight it is impossible to learn what plan is contemplated, but there are significant rumors that some means will be adopted to give Senator Foraker a spanking. It is possible that an attempt will be made to accomplish this by turning down Warren R. Harding, candidate for lieutenant governor. Mr. Harding was agreed upon by George B. Cox and Senator Hanna at their conference in Cleveland a few weeks ago, according to report, although he has always been considered a Foraker man.

WOULD SIDETRACK HARDING.

Recently some of the Hanna lieutenants concluded that there should be an old soldier on the ticket and have been booming M. M. Boothman of Williams county for lieutenant governor. This has given rise to the report that Harding is to be sidetracked to even up with Foraker, but leading politicians tonight said they thought the Cleveland agreement would stand and that as soon as Mr. Cox and Senator Hanna arrived here tomorrow the opposition will be called off. Mr. Harding will open headquarters tomorrow and take of his coat and rustle for votes.

With all the uncertainty over the outcome of the race for several places on the state ticket, real interest centers in the indorsement of President Roosevelt's candidacy and in the platform. While no clash is anticipated over the former proposition, yet it is attracting general attention for the reason that such action has a national significance.

State Senator Patterson of Pike county, who precipitated the dispute over the indorsement question, is here to attend the convention. Senator Patterson, although a strong adherent of Senator Hanna's idea, is satisfied with the peace arrangements, but insists that the indorsement of President Roosevelt can even yet be prevented if Senator Hanna so wills. He said that assurance had been received from enough delegates that they would follow Hanna on this issue to make it certain that the resolution would be defeated.

HANNA WILL CONTROL.

"Senator Hanna will absolutely control the convention," he said, "and he can swing it as he sees fit." However, Mr. Patterson said he was sure that the indorsement would be given and that it would be plain and positive enough to please the most ardent admirer of the president. John R. Malloy, state oil inspector, one of Hanna's chief lieutenants, said there would be room for no objection to the tone of the Roosevelt indorsement. He is pleased that an amicable adjustment has been made, although he was one of the men whose arguments against the proposition aroused the ire of Senator Foraker. But Mr. Malloy is an astute politician and he realized that while Senator Hanna could muster sufficient votes to defeat the indorsement, yet the fight would leave many sore spots and would prove damaging to the party interests in the state.

The platform this year will be watched with great interest, for it is expected that this document will embody the principles that will be the features of the national platform next year. Especially will the declarations on the trusts and the tariff be considered. Republican gospel, since they will be taken to represent the views of the chairman of the Republican national committee who it is to be supposed will have considerable to do with the framing of the national platform.

MCKINNON ON THE FIELD.

W. S. McKinnon of Ashtabula arrived on the ground today confident that he has the nomination for state treasurer tucked away in his vest pocket. He has been warned to beware of pickpockets, but he isn't worrying. Mr. McKinnon is speaker of the house and is generally believed to have the backing of Senator Hanna. He objects to being designated as a slated candidate. He says he isn't backed by the "big ones," but he admits he has the necessary votes. Sims of Columbus, however, is giving him a hard fight.

When Gen. Dick arrives here tomorrow he will have the state platform locked in his satchel ready for the scrutiny of the state leaders before presentation to the convention. The important features of it will be agreed upon before it goes to the committee on resolutions and it is not likely that many changes will be made by the committee. A number of delegates arrived today and the "big guns" are all scheduled to get in tomorrow. A big placard over the cashier's desk at the Neil house announces that Herrick headquarters are on the floor above. They will be active from now on. Harmony is still the watchword, but everybody is watching the sky with his weather eye.

TROLLEY ROAD ENJOINED.

Two Philadelphia Judges Take Decisive Action in a Street Car War.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—Common pleas court No. 2, President Judge Sulzberger and Judge Barratt presiding, issued a special injunction today against the Broad Street Rapid Transit Railway Company, restraining it, until the further order of the court, from constructing a surface trolley road on those portions of Broad street to which the Thirteenth and Fifteenth Streets Passenger Railway Company claims exclusive rights under its charter, and where there are now tracks, which the latter corporation laid, but which subsequently came under the control of the defendant corporation. These tracks are at the extreme northern and southern ends of the thoroughfare, and as the rapid transit company has admitted by counsel on both sides, compelled by law to have control over the entire Broad street route before laying any tracks on any portion of the line, the restraining order of the court evidently prevents the turning of a shovelful of earth until next fall, when the entire question of the surrender of the Broad street franchises to the state or the agreement that no railway should ever be constructed on that street, will be argued to a final determination.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED AT WESTERN UNIVERSITY

Trustees' Annual Meeting—List of Those Who Had Degrees Conferred.

Considerable business was transacted at the annual meeting of the trustees of the Western university yesterday afternoon in Mayor Hays' private office. The old officers, Alexander Dempster, president; the Rev. J. Crocker White, vice president; J. R. Park, secretary, and Prof. A. E. Frost, treasurer, were re-elected. New members of the board elected were Charles F. Scott, Thomas Patterson and T. H. B. McKnight, and they, together with T. D. Carnahan, J. H. Reed, C. B. King, R. W. Mellon, J. H. Lockhart, E. A. Schaefer, and J. D. Shafer were elected for the three-year term. The committee on betterment recommended changing the name from the Western University of Pennsylvania to the University of Pittsburgh. No action was taken on the result. The same committee reported that the matter of changing the location of the school was still under consideration. The question of establishing a summer school for nature study was favorably reported on and the chancellor and faculty were authorized to make the necessary arrangements for its location and opening.

The division of the school year into two terms instead of four as heretofore was finally agreed to, and the change will be put in effect in September. A resolution was adopted requiring the submission of a written thesis hereafter where master's degrees are conferred and the degree of Sc. B. will be conferred in all scientific courses instead of the general Ph. B.

The attendance for the year was 937, as against 892 last year. This year there will be 224 graduates, compared with 169 last year.

The board confirmed the following degrees conferred in the collegiate department:

B. A., James Garfield Houston, Mabel Elizabeth Morrow, Bertha Charlotte Schuck, Louisa Mary Smith.

Ph. B., Florence Irene Donahey, Harry Egbert Mall, Ralph Woodford Perry.

C. E., Willis Boothe, Thomas Howard Brown, Frederick Thomas Fitzharris, Norman Dravo McCutcheon, George Guy Todd, George Fulton Turner, Charles West Waggoner.

M. E., Edward Tudor Edwards, Emil Bieler Guenther, David Matthewson Hegg, Harry Frederick Wahr, Charles Cecil Warne.

E. E., Samuel Renwick Dodds, Adam Stein, Jr., Wilmot Sargent Worcester.

WESTINGHOUSE MEN TESTING NEW AIRBRAKE

Triple Air Power Contrivance for Stopping Trains Is Being Thoroughly Tried.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 1.—Chief Engineer Johnson of the Westinghouse Air brake Company and a large force of employes from the company's works at Pittsburgh are making tests of a new triple-power airbrake with an engine and train of four coaches on the Central Railroad of New Jersey at Allaire, a small station South of Cahlesworth. The party are making their headquarters here and journey to and from Atsion by special train every day.

The assistants who ride in the coaches while the tests are being made don't relish it at all. While enjoying a comfortable ride they are suddenly jounced out of their seats by the sudden stoppage of the train which means application of soothing liniments when they return at night. This bumping process has been going on for a week and will continue throughout the week.

The tests take place on a level stretch of track 10 miles long. The train is run at a high rate of speed and while in motion the brake is suddenly applied and a note made of its workings. Measurement is taken of the distance in which the train, running at a known rate of speed, is brought to a standstill after the brake is applied, and its effect on the running equipment of the sudden stoppage is studied by the chief engineer and his expects. This data is tabulated. The officials will not discuss the tests.

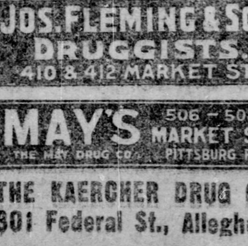
BLOOD WINE CURED HER OF GRIP.



"I had the grip and it left me a perfect wreck," says Mrs. Irving Mack of Cambridge, Mass. "My appetite was all gone; my nerves were all unstrung. I was wasted to a skeleton. Everybody said to me, 'You look like a ghost.' I couldn't sleep. I struggled against my sufferings, despite their growing intensity, but I failed completely, and I made up my mind that unless I soon received help I must die. The medicines I took seemed to do me no good, and I was truly a pitiable object. I was white as a sheet and so weak I could hardly walk along the street without staggering. My friends were constantly telling me that I had consumption or some mysterious incurable disease. At length, through the blessing of Divine Providence, I heard of the discovery of a medicine which would do wonderful things. This medicine was 'Blood Wine.' I sent for some of it and began to take it, and the result was simply marvelous. As true as I live, that medicine alone entirely cured me and made me a well woman. Lots of my neighbors who know all about it will stand by me in everything I have said. My health is now excellent, and I do my work with a light heart and a strong body. People need not talk about medicines. The medicine for all who are sick is 'Blood Wine.'"

William Siddle, 236 Broadway, Lawrence, Mass., writes:

"I had the grip about three months ago and it left me in a very bad shape. I had an aggravating cough that I could not get rid of. I tried all sorts of remedies, but received no benefit until I used your 'Blood Wine.' It was recommended by my druggist, and I have him to thank for my complete recovery."

Mr. John H. Heatley, 3-4-5 Brown Bldg., Fall River, Mass., says:

"I am very grateful to my druggist for recommending 'Blood Wine' to me. I was very sick with the grip and did not seem to get well. I became weaker and weaker every day. I can thank 'Blood Wine' for my recovery."

If you want to be cured, to stay cured, to get your system in a thoroughly healthy condition, you can do it with "Blood Wine," because "Blood Wine" begins at the bottom—it abstracts the germs from the blood and gives new life.

FREE BLOOD TEST.

You can have an expert bacteriologist examine your blood under the microscope, and give you a thorough and authentic report of what your blood contains, free of charge, by sending your name to the Louis Daudelin Company, Worcester, Mass.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting the National Casket Company the right to erect and maintain a weigh scale on the east side of Mulberry street, between Rebecca street and the Ohio river, Fifth ward.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the National Casket Company is hereby authorized to erect and maintain a weigh scale on the east side of Mulberry street, between Rebecca street and the Ohio river, in front of its property in the Fifth ward, to be placed in such position as the director of the department of public works may designate, provided that the scale shall not interfere with the water courses on said street, and shall not in any manner obstruct the street or pavement.

Sec. 2. Said scale shall be removed at any time by the city on ninety (90) days' notice and pavement restored to its former condition by the said National Casket Company, or its successors or assigns.

Sec. 3. That this permission is granted upon the condition that if at any time the city desires to make the above scales public or city scales, that they have the right and power to do so, under such arrangements as may be agreed upon by the committee on public works.

Sec. 4. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils this 21st day of May, A. D. 1903.

AN ORDINANCE—Amending section 5 of an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance granting the North Side & South Side Street Railway Company the right to lay street car tracks on certain streets in the city of Allegheny on conditions as herein provided," approved the 19th day of August, A. D. 1901, extending the time for the completion of the construction of said street railway.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That section 5 of an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance granting the North Side & South Side Street Railway Company the right to lay street car tracks on certain streets in the city of Allegheny, on conditions as herein provided," approved the 19th day of August, A. D. 1901, which reads as follows:

Sec. 5. The construction of the railway provided for in this ordinance shall be begun within one year from the approval of this ordinance and shall be completed within two years from that time," be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. The construction of the railway provided for in this ordinance shall be begun within one year from the approval of this ordinance and shall be completed within five years from that time.

It being intended by this amendment to extend the time for the completion of said railway until the 19th day of August, 1906, but not to extend or change the time within which the construction of the same was required to be begun by said ordinance.

Sec. 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

New York at Exposition Park.
Brooklyn at Chicago.
Boston at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.

The New York team which has been cutting quite an important figure in the pennant race made its first appearance of the season at exposition park yesterday and took the opening game of the series from the Pirates 10 to 2. It did not require much exertion on the part of the visitors to secure the victory, as it was handed over to them as a gift.

The champions again presented a patched-up appearance, Manager Clarke still being out of the game by reason of his doctor's orders, and Kruger was called on to fill the position. The little utility player of course put up the best fielding game he could, but he is not a Clarke by any means, and this was demonstrated when he allowed a fly to fall safe which would have been an easy catch for the Pirates' leader.

The Pirates had an off day in the fielding line and mistakes were made that were something awful to look at. The infield was largely to blame, and in the second inning the visitors were allowed to score six runs, when perfect fielding would have retired the side without more than one run at the most. Added to the bad fielding in this inning was some bad pitching, and this combination was pretty hard to overcome. Had the game been perfectly played it is doubtful if the Giants would have scored more than one run in the full nine innings, and there would have been a Pirate victory to record this morning instead of a defeat.

The visitors showed, however, that the position they hold in the pennant race is the result of good pitching as well as good, hard hitting on the part of the other players. Mathewson was the Giants' pitching selection for the opening game here, and the big fellow was in big finest form. He had the Pirates at his mercy in all but the sixth inning, when Beaumont, Sebring and Wagner got safe hits in succession, and two runs were the result. After this Mathewson settled down to solid work and the hits were few and far between. The big pitcher was given superb support by the Giants, who fielded in faultless style and ran bases like a lot of scared rabbits.

Doheny, who pitched the game for the Pirates, started out as though he intended to duplicate his performance in New York, when he pitched the champions to their only victory, and the 4,000 spectators looked for a pitchers' battle, but in the second inning the left-hander went wrong, and his bases on balls, together with errors by Ritchey and Phelps, gave the visitors enough runs to put them on easy street. The Giants' run in the third was due to a wild throw by Wagner, and their three runs in the seventh were the direct result of errors by Wagner and Doheny.

The Pirates' only runs were made in the sixth inning, when Beaumont singled after Doheny had gone down, and scored on Sebring's long two-bagger to center. Wagner's single to center scored Sebring. The locals had chances to score runs in the eighth and ninth innings, but the necessary base hit was not forthcoming. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Matthewson is quite a gum chewer and during the time he is in the pitcher's box his jaws keep working double time. The big fellow was in great form yesterday and pitched with an easy motion, as though it was nothing but play for him.

Eddie Phelps got a round of applause from the spectators when he chased back to the grandstand and gathered in Mertes' foul in the ninth inning. The catch looked like an impossible one, but Phelps, who is very speedy, got the ball all right.

Umpire Johnstone gave Beaumont a tough deal and beat him out of a two-base hit or better when he called his hit to left foul, in the third inning. The ball hit squarely on the line and was fair, but the umpire ruled otherwise and beat Eddie Phelps to the bench with a reprimand for insisting that the ball struck fair.

Babb and Gilbert, the new players presented by the Giants at short and second base, are a pair of fast youngsters, who are up and doing all the time, both showed fine form in the field as well as at bat, and they promise to become stars. McGraw made no mistake when he insisted on using the pair as regulars on his team.

It will be Deacon Philippe against Iron Man McGinnity this afternoon, and if the Pirates only put up the game they are capable of a rechot contest is assured. Both teams are after the games good and hard, and will fight every inch of ground. The Pirates' only victory in New York was off McGinnity, and they want to repeat that dose.

Johnny McGraw, the Giants' manager, was in uniform and occupied a seat on the players' bench, but he did not venture out on the coaching lines. The Giants' coaching was done by Van Haltren, who made a mistake when he had Gilbert try to make two bases on his single in the eighth inning. The second baseman was an easy victim from Kruger to Wagner.

Frank Killen, the ex-Pirate who was let out by Manager Watkins of the Indianapolis team because of an over supply of pitchers, leaves tonight for Atlanta, Ga., to pitch for that team. Killen is very anxious to become a National league umpire and thinks he is in every way qualified to fill the position, and will make application to President Pulliam for a place on his staff.

Bransfield's two-bagger in the second inning was a lucky one. The ball shot up into the air and was what is called a "Texas leaguer." Gilbert made a fine try for it, but failed to reach it, and the sphere dropped just back of him. Had Gilbert kept away Browne or Bresnahan might have made the catch. The hit availed nothing, however, as Bransfield was left on third base.

"Sandow" Merles' home run in the seventh inning was about as fluky an affair as has ever been seen on the home grounds. The Pirates were playing in at the time and the ball got by Ritchey and rolled to the outfield, where it was fumbled by both Sebring and Beaumont, who seemed afraid to pick it up. Under the hit should have counted for nothing better than a single.

The business end of the Giants' interests are looked after by Fred Knowles, the ex-secretary of that club. Mr. Knowles has been connected with the New York club for a number of years and he is always a welcome visitor in Pittsburgh, where he has made a host of friends. The veteran Sam Leever, who has traveled with the team for years, is missing on this trip.

That handsome leather couch which has been the cause of so much joshing to Jimmy Sebring for some time for his first home run on the local grounds, was finally turned over to the player yesterday, the presentation was in private and not in public. Pickering's man was on hand with the present and it was to be given to Sebring on his first turn at bat, but the management refused to permit that program to be carried out, so that the presentation had to be a private affair.

Manager Clarke watched yesterday's game from President Dreyfuss' private box and at its conclusion said, "Well, the boys can't always play faultless ball." The Pirates' leader is on a water diet and has not tasted an ounce of solid food in four days, though he says he is so hungry as a bear. He thought he would be permitted to don his uniform and take part in yesterday's game, but his doctor would not permit it and he does not know when he will be allowed to play.

Babb, the Giants' shortstop, had better quit trying to block baserunners or else he will get himself into serious trouble. In the sixth inning when the Pirates took to batting Matthewson's curves, and Beaumont was on his way home on Sebring's long double, Babb planted himself back of third base in such a way as to make Beaumont slow up a bit. Beaumont is an easy going player, who did not say anything, but there are others who are liable to take a fall out of Mr. Babb.

The Pirates started off yesterday's game like real champions and their play on Browne in the opening inning was a speedy piece of work. Browne had reached second on a hit into left which would have been easy picking for Fred Clarke. The Giant played well off second, when Phelps snapped the ball down to Wagner and Browne, seeing no chance to return, started for third, but Hans' throw to Leach beat him by yards. The play was a fast and pretty one, which the spectators fully appreciated.

Hans Wagner was guilty of careless work when he failed to cover second base in the seventh inning. Bresnehan was on first by reason of a fumble by Doheny, and McGann, the next batter, drove a grounder down to Ritchey. Claude made a fine pickup and there was a good chance for a double play. He ran to tag Bresnahan, but that player backed up and Ritchey was compelled to throw to first to head off McGann. Bransfield was ready to throw to second to head of Bresnehan, but Wagner for some unknown reason, had run to third base, leaving second uncovered.

CHANGES TO BE MADE IN CINCINNATI TEAM

Owners Insist on Having a Winning Club—Some Players Are Not Acting Right.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., June 1.—There is a "hen on" in the affairs of the Reds. President Herrmann is not satisfied with the recent work of the Cincinnati players and Manager Kelley is not only displeased, but deeply chagrined at the failure of his diamond warriors to render a better account of themselves of late.

What was probably the most important conference that President Herrmann and Manager Kelley have had since the local sportsman got the team was held today. Words were not minced and Manager Kelley told Mr. Herrmann just what he thinks is needed, and a change or two in the team is more than likely in the near future. The lines have been laid to corral star men for positions on the team that have not been filled to the satisfaction of the management.

Mr. Herrmann plainly told Manager Kelley that expense will not be spared and that he is more concerned in having a winning team than in realizing dividends on his investment. It is an open secret that certain members of the club are not making the best care of themselves. Another cause for regret is the apparent inability of one or two of the so-called stars of the team to play intelligent baseball. It is possible that new players may supplant those who have shown Manager Kelley that they can play mechanical ball only.

After the conference President Herrmann said: "We have decided on two or three moves of a radical nature, but we deem it it wise not to say anything at present which might prevent the consummation of pending deals."

LOST TO RIVALS.

Wash.-Jeff. Beats W. V. U. in the Ninth Inning.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 1.—(Special.)—West Virginia university students had planned a big demonstration tonight, but it did not come off, the reason being that their old-time rivals, Washington and Jefferson, administered a bitter defeat to the university nine, the score standing 7 to 3 when the smoke had cleared away. There was much feeling manifested on both sides in the game. The game was exciting throughout, Washington's team tieing the last inning, when a couple of errors and three hits gave Washington and Jefferson four runs and the game. Nelson pitched a clever game for Washington and Jefferson, being strong at critical times, while Cunningham was not at his best. Score:

LAST NEW HAVEN ROW.

Yale Crew's Start for Thames Quarters Today.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 1.—(Special.)—Yale's oarsmen this evening took the last row of the season on the New Haven harbor. The 'varsity eight tried to cover the 4-mile course but was prevented by rough winds crossing the tide and kicking up a heavy sea. Tomorrow the oarsmen will ship their shells and will leave Wednesday for their permanent training quarters on the Thames. Capt. Waterman of the Navy tonight picked the crews as follows to go to New London:

'Varsity eight—Stroke, Bogie; No. 7, Cross; No. 6, Miller; No. 5, Stubbs; No. 4, Judson; No. 3, Coffin; No. 2, Fish, and bow, Capt. Waterman. Substitutes—Auchincloss and Adams.

'Varsity four—Stroke, Whitney; No. 7, Weeks; No. 6, MacMahon; No. 5, Whittier; No. 4, Scott; No. 3, Morse; No. 2, Sweetson, and bow, Heelsher.

The 'varsity eight has been prevented by rough weather from covering the 4-mile course but once this season.

WILL PLAY E. L. A. IF HIGH SCHOOL CANCELS

There is a bare chance that the East Liberty academy and Kiski teams will meet Friday of next week. Assistant Manager Bunton and Third Baseman Alex McCracken of the East Liberty team, approached Capt. Meade Porterfield and Prof. Terrel of Kiski yesterday at Friendship park for a game. Kiski will take on East Liberty provided High school should cancel for next Friday, and this is the only condition that a game can be arranged. Kiski has a hard schedule this year and has but one pitcher, which is McLane, and it cannot afford to crowd events especially when such a strong nine as East Liberty is to be played.

Will Not Row at Henley.

HIGH SCHOOL BEATEN IN ANOTHER LOOSE GAME

McLane, for Kiski, Also Gets Bad Support, but Manages to Win.

It seemed that every bad and dumb play known in baseball was crowded into the game which the Kiskiminetas Springs school won from the Pittsburgh High school nine yesterday afternoon at Friendship park, 22 to 12. Bill McLane, for Kiski, pitched a game that with a good team behind him, would have won from most any college club. Will Orr, the erratic southpaw for High school, twirled nice ball at times and then again he did not.

It was the loose fielding that took the interest from the game. In the first inning Kiski found Orr for five hits and with an error resulted in five runs. The next round the visitors got three hits and the same number of runs that they did in the previous inning. It looked bad for High school, but in the second inning "Midget" Spuhler's crowd got five runs on three hits, three errors and a wild throw following, behind McLane, and raised the hopes of the rooters by getting four more in the fourth, bringing them up to within one run of tying. Right two high schools began up and down over the line, Peffer trying to run him down. Kirk was outfooting him down the line and when near the bag Peffer threw wild to Spuhler.

Double play—Caughey and Parker. Umpire, Charlie Lyons.

Notes of High School Game.

Peffer made a good catch off McLane's high foul in the third inning, taking the ball off the fence.

Kirk of Kiski got a lucky home run in the first inning. He shot the ball over the first bag which went to right and just as Arnold made a grab for it it hit a stone and went over the fence.

Meade Porterfield was robbed of a long hit in the fourth by driving the ball on a line into Tenney's hands. The sphere went like lightning and had it been ten yards on either side of Tenney it would not have been collected.

Bill Orr doubled in the second inning and then was caught off second by McLane to B. Porterfield. While being chased towards third Wilson gave Orr the shoulder, and although he was touched out Charlie Lyons called him safe because of interference.

Nearly all the Shadyside academy players were at the game. They all but a few rooted for High school. Tod Sloan pulled for Kiski because they also are also from Westmoreland county. When High school fattened to the game the Shadyside player began to root loud and yell encouragement to Spuhler's crowd.

Rube Henning almost got away with an ancient trick on Kirk in the sixth inning. Kirk hit to right and Arnold fielded the ball to Henning. Kirk played off the bag and Henning had him caught off by a throw to Peffer. Peffer began up and down the line, Peffer trying to run him down. Kirk was outfooting him down the line and when near the bag Peffer threw wild to Spuhler.

CALHOUN AN ENIGMA.

Indiana Normal Pitcher Lets Pittsburgh College Have Only Two Hits.

INDIANA, PA., June 1.—(Special.)—The Pittsburgh college team was defeated here this afternoon 6 to 0. Calhoun had good support. Only two safeties were secured off his delivery, while 11 were made off Gapen, though the latter struck out 14 men. Frankenberry did the most brilliant fielding of the day and accepted all his 17 chances. The same teams meet again at Pittsburgh next Friday week. Score:

BOTANIST KILLED BY UNKNOWN MAN

Prof. John F. Hicks Murdered at Home of His Fiancee in Wooster, O.

NO MOTIVE IS GIVEN

He Grappled With a Stranger Who Was Prowling About the House After Midnight and Was Wounded by Bullet.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOOSTER, O., June 1.—Prof. John F. Hicks, assistant botanist of the state agricultural experiment station, was assassinated here early this morning, and his unknown murderer escaped. The whole town is aroused, and a strong effort is being made to run down the guilty person. Prof. Hicks spent last evening with his fiancee, Miss Mary Gill, at the home of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boisgren. Shortly after midnight, as Mr. Hicks was about to leave the house, a man was seen to pass one of the windows. This was an unusual occurrence, as the house stood back from the street. Miss Gill was frightened and Mr. Hicks returned to the house to quiet her.

After a few minutes Hicks again started and as he was about to leave the front door, a man was seen to run across the lawn at the home of C. W. McClure next door, and run up the alley. Prof. Hicks, without a moment's hesitation, ran around the house to overtake the stranger and learn his business at such a late hour. The man was evidently hiding at the rear of the Boisgren house, for in a minute Hicks came running to the street and a moment later was grappling with the stranger.

The report of a revolver rang out. Miss Gill screamed, and the disturbance aroused Henry Boisegren, who came downstairs, just as Mr. Hicks staggered back to the porch. He was taken into the house and it was at once seen that he was badly wounded. Physicians were called, who found that the bullet had passed through the left groin.

Although very weak, Prof. Hicks was able to talk of the affair. He said he saw the man in hiding, grappled with him, and when they were struggling the stranger managed to get out his revolver and fired the shot. An operation was performed, but Hicks died from shock and loss of blood, his death occurring about 5 o'clock this morning. At the post mortem examination a 32-caliber bullet was found.

So far as can be ascertained, there was no known motive for the crime, unless it was jealousy, and those who are familiar with the parties insist that Prof. Hicks was Miss Gill's only suitor. However, within the last few days, Mr. Hicks has told of having trouble with men in Cleveland as a result of some disclosures in the handling of funds belonging to the Standard Water Purifying Company, in which he was interested.

Mr. Hick was 33 years old and his home was at Hicksville, Long Island. He came here several years ago from the botanical gardens at St. Louis. Just before he died Hicks told the officers he did not know his assailant.

Late this afternoon a pair of bloodhounds were used in an effort to trace the murderer, but with poor success. The animals struck a trail all right, but lost it a few hundred yards from the scene.

OVEREND IS CAPTAIN.

Chosen to Lead the Champion Shadyside Academy Hockey Team Next Season.

Clarence Overend, left wing on the Shadyside Academy Interscholastic Hockey league team, was yesterday elected captain of the seven for next season. Overend, who is one of the most aggressive wings in the league, succeeds Arch Williams as captain. Williams captained the team the last two years, last season winning the championship of the league and the school championship of the United States.

The election was held at the academy yesterday morning, and the following players were present to vote, but the election was made unanimous: Price, Williams, Ahl, Schmertz, McCutcheon, Donnelly, Hall, Drave and Overend. Youngson was the only player missing. With Overend's election all the teams in the league have now chosen their captains. Midget Spuhler will captain the High school seven and "Fewee" Bunton East Liberty.

COLLEGE BOYS CREMATED.

Building Containing Thirty-Three Students Burning in the Night.

LONDON, June 1.—Two boys, both 14 years of age, were burned to death in a fire which burned one of the masters' houses at Eton college early today. There were 33 students in the house and the survivors had great difficulty in escaping.

Many of the boys scrambled from the windows down the ivy-covered walls of the house. The work of rescue was considerably delayed owing to some of the windows of the house being barred. The incineration of the two students is attributed to this fact. The annual celebrations, June 4, have been abandoned.

King Edward, Queen Alexandra and the prince and princess of Wales, all of whom were at Windsor castle, were greatly concerned and sent frequent inquiries about the boys.

FRENCH SURROUNDED BY CHINESE REBELS

PARIS, June 1.—A dispatch received here from Saigon, capital of French Indo-China, says Gov. Gen. Beau has been detained in Tonquin by the serious conditions prevailing in the adjoining Chinese province of Yun-Nan, where the rebellion is spreading. Two hundred French subjects are surrounded at Yun Nan Fu and the Mong-Tze railroad works are interrupted.

Penn Avenue Building Damaged.

Fire damaged the two-story brick building at No. 919 Penn avenue shortly before 4 o'clock this morning. The loss is estimated at about $200. The blaze originated in the rear of the building and after burning considerable of the woodwork communicated with the elevator shaft and burned to the second floor. The greater part of the damage was done in the elevator shaft. Not much of the stock was damaged.

M'KEES ROCKS PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

Wire Mill of Kidd Brothers & Burgher Is a Total Loss. Several Houses Damaged.

The plant of Kidd Bros. & Burgher, of McKees Rocks was totally destroyed by fire early this morning and a number of houses near the plant were also burned out. The plant manufactured steel wire and employed a large number of men. At 2:40 o'clock the volunteer fire companies of the borough were pouring water on the ruins and the houses nearby. No estimate of the damage could be secured, although it is thought the loss will reach into the thousands.

The fire was discovered about 1:30 o'clock, but by the time assistance reached the scene the whole plant was in flames. The building was formerly used by the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad and was located in the rear of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie roundhouse. The structure was well soaked with oil and when attacked by the flames was quickly reduced. During the fire a three-story buff brick building occupied as a boarding house was also burned.

The trainmen about the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad yards and others living near the roundhouse were called upon to remove the big locomotives from the roundhouse, which for a time was threatened from the sparks from the burning wire mill.

Rhodes of Pittsburgh, who contributed the vesper and eucharistic candles; the Rev. J. D. Herron of Portsmouth, O., a former rector, who gave a memorial cross in honor of the late Miss Marietta Waite. Bishop Whitehead this evening confirmed a class of 32.

WRIGHT LOSES ROUND.

United States Supreme Court Refuses Writ of Habeas Corpus the Promoter

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The United States supreme court today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Whitaker Wright, the financial operator who was in custody in New York awaiting extradition on charges of fraud made in England. The opinion affirms the decision of the circuit court for the southern district of New York, which held that the crime alleged against Wright is an extraditable offense.

Wright is charged with having committed fraud in England while acting as a director of an English corporation. Chief Justice Fuller said that it is true that both by the general principles of international law and the treaty of 1890 the offense must be made criminal by the laws of both countries. The offense charged in this case, however, he held is made criminal by a British statute and also by the penal code of the state of New York, in which state Wright was apprehended, the statute in both cases being essentially the same.

KILLED WITH A CLUB.

Boarding House Boss in Fayette County Charged With Murder.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., June 1.—(Special.)—Another fatal fight occurred Sunday night in Fayette county. At Reno, near Masontown, along the Monongahela river, a quarrel took place between Marshall Kivich and Thomas Dehoiski, in which Kivich secured a club and, it is claimed, struck Dehoiski over the head, the latter dying today from the effects of the blow. Dehoiski is the boarding house boss at the works, and Kivich boarded with him. There was a dispute between them as to the amount of money which Kivich owed for board.

County Detective McBeth made an information before Justice Miller against Kivich, charging him with murder. Kivich was arrested this morning at Leckrone by Constables Brown and Hostler.

CAPTORS RELEASE KIDNAPED MAIDEN

NEW YORK, June 1.—(Special.)—Louisa Steiziniero, the 15-year-old Italian girl who was kidnaped over a week ago from her home in Harlem and whose supposed hiding place in Mott street was searched on Friday afternoon by the police, has been returned to her home. She said that she had been released by her captors after the police visited the place. She did not know the number of the house in Mott street where she was detained.

MEAT ADVANCES BECAUSE OF FLOOD

CHICAGO, June 1.—(Special.)—Meat prices began to advance today as the result of the western floods. Prices paid for cattle, sheep and hogs on the hoof were from 5 to 25 cents higher and retail men were informed that they would have to pay from a half to one cent per pound more for dressed meats.

SHARON MURDER MYSTERY PUZZLES THE POLICE

Slayer of Aged Mrs. Roseberry Is Yet Unknown to the Sharon Authorities.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, PA., June 1.—Although the police believe that the murderer of Mrs. Isabella Roseberry will be apprehended within a short time, there still exists the greatest doubt in the public mind, not only because the motive for the crime is not apparent, but also because the facts in connection with it are meager and disputed.

Probably no information will be made or any one arrested until after the inquest, which Deputy Coroner T. O. Hazen of Sharpesville, says will be held the last of this week or the first of next.

The authorities are making a very rigid examination and tonight have some evidence which they will not disclose. They admit that the most mystifying part about the killing of the woman is the disappearance of the instrument with which the cut on her arm was made. The physician who examined the wound adheres to his former statement that no razor was used, but a dull-edged tool.

Robbery is doubted as a motive, for Mrs. Roseberry, it is said, gave her son all the money she had when he went to Sharon. The theory of suicide is losing ground. Everything in the immediate vicinity of the tragedy indicates that there was a terrible struggle. The funeral of the victim was held today and was largely attended.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

YORK—The planing mill of German & Brohru was destroyed by fire. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $8,500.

CHILDREN'S HOME READY FOR DUTY

IT ACCOMMODATES 350

Unfortunate Infants of Large Cities Are Given 10 Days of Fresh Air, Good Food and Medical Attention.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 1.

The children's seashore home will open for the summer tomorrow, and although it is early in the year there is a large waiting list of children ready to enter as soon as the doors open. The little ones are gathered up in the large cities and brought here where they are given free medical attendance and board besides the benefit of the sea air. This institution last year took care of 1,765 sick children, and each child stayed at the shore on an average of 10 days. There are accommodations now for 350 children.

THE PULSE OF ATLANTIC CITY.

"The boardwalk is the pulse of Atlantic City and by it appearance one can always tell just how full the town is." This is a favorite saying of the owner of the ocean pier and he repeated it today when asked his opinion as to the outlook for the season. Whoever comes to Atlantic City goes to the boardwalk and they get there as quickly as they can. If it is a robust man, he takes it all in the first day from the inlet to Chelsea on foot. The next day he does it in a rolling chair and every day while he is here he sees a good portion of the walk. The ladies have a different way of seeing the boardwalk. It would be too fatiguing for them to walk its entire length every day, so they start out as soon as they can and stop at the first Japanese auction store. The next day they pass the first store and get to the second. It takes them a week to get to all these places, and then they have finished the boardwalk.

PERSONALS

The commemoration of the Johnstown flood was fittingly observed last night by the correspondents who sent out the facts of the disaster. The event occurred May 31, 1889, and every year since that time the correspondents hold a dinner. This year it was in the Hotel Henry. Among those present were Thomas M. King, formerly president of the Pittsburgh & Western railroad; Robert Pitcairn, now resident assistant to President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad; William R. Thompson, treasurer of the Johnstown flood commission; J. L. Patton, formerly superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio; J. Hampton Moore, formerly a correspondent, but now treasurer of Philadelphia; Ernest H. Heinrich, now with the Westinghouse Electric Company; Andrew S. McKeehan, now with the Philadelphia Company; Capt. L. L. Carson of Beaver Falls; J. S. Ritenour, proprietor of the Uniontown Genius; Col. W. C. Connelly, manager of the Associated Press, and John H. Johnston. Mr. McKeehan acted as toastmaster. Letters of regret were read from Michael Trump, general superintendent of transportation of the Pennsylvania railroad; S. S. Marvin of Bryn Mawr; Peter Fulton of the Philadelphia Record, John Tregaskis of the New York Herald, James S. Henry of Washington, and many others. Those present gave reminiscences of the flood. Many pathetic incidents were recited that were never seen in print.

The metallurgical class of the mechanical department of the Columbia university of New York, about 40 in number, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning on a tour of inspection of the various iron industries. Upon the close of the tour their course in the study of metallurgy ends. The students are in charge of Prof. Bradley Stoughton. It has been the custom of the institution to have the students out on an inspection trip the last week of their course. The metallurgical class chose Pittsburgh for their outing. They will visit all the important plants before returning. Today will be spent at the Duquesne works of the United States Steel Corporation.

Dr. Robert C. Craig left last evening for Salem, Va., where he will attend the convocation exercises of the University of Virginia. After a one month's sojourn in Virginia, Dr. Craig will take an extended trip to eastern cities. He will return about July 15.

S. C. Long, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, returned last night in his private car from a several days' business trip to Philadelphia.

The Sigma Chi Fraternity will hold a luncheon at noon today at the Hotel Henry.

PENNYPACKER CLAIMS APPOINTMENTS ILLEGAL

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—(Special.)—It became known today that Gov. Pennypacker has taken exception to some of the appointments of deputy factory inspectors made by Capt. John Delaney, the chief factory inspector. Among others affected by the governor's ruling are David Weaver of Pittsburgh and Representative Selby of Philadelphia. Gov. Pennypacker holds it is said, that no member of the legislature can be appointed to a position under the state government during the term for which he was elected, this being a provision of the constitution.

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful. I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, MRS. MAY FAIRBANKS, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." (Mrs. Fairbanks is one of the most successful and highest salaried travelling saleswomen in the West.)

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For over two years I suffered more than tongue can express with kidney and bladder trouble. My physician pronounced my trouble catarrh of the bladder, caused by displacement of the womb. I had a frequent desire to urinate, and it was very painful, and lumps of blood would pass with the urine. Also had backache very often.

"After writing to you, and receiving your reply to my letter, I followed your advice, and feel that you and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have cured me. The medicine drew my womb into its proper place, and then I was well. I never feel any pain now, and can do my housework with ease."—MRS. ALICE LAMON, Kincaid, Miss.

No other medicine for female ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THOMAS A. EDISON, the inventor, in mapping out the problems of the future, gives first place to the necessity of fighting the bacteria which gives us our diseases. Next to the actual bacteria of disease, the mosquitos and flies are the most dangerous enemies of man. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria, yellow fever, and other fatal troubles. The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid, cholera and other plagues of the human race. The bacteria of disease we can see only through microscopes. The bacteria of consumption is represented in the left-hand corner of the sketch above. The bacteria of influenza, or grip, is shown on the right. These little organisms can point to victories by the million, which lie in such numbers in our cemeteries. Thus far scientists have not been able to fight these bacteria very well. The best thing we can possibly do individually at present is to keep ourselves in such a state of health as will enable us to fight the bacteria with our own vitality.

GOOD RED BLOOD OUR AMMUNITION.

The blood which flows through our veins and arteries should contain healthy red blood corpuscles which are capable of warding off the attack of the disease germs if they get into the system. While we keep our blood in good condition and our little army of fighters in order we can resist fairly well the attacks from the outside. In preparing ourselves against bacterial attacks there are many important things to be thought of—proper nourishment of the blood, nerves, lungs, heart and liver. Important to us is proper food for the stomach, pure air for the lungs, exercise and cleanliness at all times. Good wholesome air taken into the lungs helps oxidize the blood and make it strong. Sunlight is also important for our well being. If our stomach is "out of whack," if the blood does not get the proper nutriment out of the food eaten, we at once weaken our defensive forces and the germs of catarrh, consumption or grip readily enter.

Dr. Pierce, the eminent physician of Buffalo, N. Y., says, "if each person will consider his system as an army of men which he controls as a general, and will see to its proper provisioning and that it has plenty of ammunition in the shape of good red blood, he will be able to overcome the enemy in the shape of the germs of disease." Every healthy person has five million red blood cells or corpuscles to every cubic millimeter of blood. The number of red blood corpuscles in the average human being is so great that it is almost incomprehensible. However, their numbers increase with health or decrease with illness or mal-nutrition. The best tonic for increasing the red blood corpuscles and building up healthy tissue is no doubt Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine has been on the market for over a third of a century and numbers its cures by the thousand.

A tonic made up largely of alcohol will shrink the corpuscles of the blood and make them weaker for resistance. A cod liver oil makes the stomach groan because it is irritating. What is needed is an alterative extract made of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, that will assist the stomach in assimilating or taking up from the food such elements as are required for the blood, also an alterative that will assist the activity of the liver and cause it to throw off the poisons in the blood. When we have accomplished this we have put the system in a fortified condition so strong that it can repel the germs of disease which we find everywhere—in the streetcars, the shops, the factories, the bedrooms, wherever many people congregate, or where sunlight and good air does not penetrate.

ONLY HEALTH CAN RESIST THEM.

Recent experiments have proven that the germ of consumption was present in the mouths of physicians and nurses who were in attendance on tubercular patients. They were not themselves infected on account of their power of resistance, due to perfect health. The breath one inhales from the lungs of another may contain germs of disease. You will not only be able to resist the germs of consumption, but many thousands of cases have been known where persons who were suffering from incipient phthisis, or the early stages of consumption, were absolutely cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains a person's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate the proper nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and relieves indigestion, and the person is thereby saved from fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common.

$3,000 FORFEIT

Will be cheerfully paid in lawful money of the United States, by the undersigned, proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; if they cannot show the original testimonial and signature of the individual volunteering that published below, and also of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing attesting the superior curative properties of their several medicines, thus proving the genuineness of all the multitude of testimonials volunteered by grateful people, in their behalf.

World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. R. J. Hall, of Roxboro, N. C., writes: "I suffered nearly two years with jaundice and indigestion; in fact, my health failed completely. I tried everything for relief, including several doctors. Did not improve, but grew steadily worse and was given up. Was unable to do any work, and at night (after sundown) was blind, so that I would walk against chairs, etc. in room with lamp burning brightly. My husband finally wrote to Dr. Pierce, and under his advice, I began taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Am happy to say that after taking six bottles I was cured. All my friends who saw me when sick and see me now, wonder at the result of your great and grand remedy. I was given up by all, doctors included, and had lost all hope myself. I feel that I owe my life to Dr. R. V. Pierce and his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I recommend it to all my friends and to every one suffering from similar ailments."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

THE P. & A. TELEPHONE CONTROL PASSES TODAY

J. G. Splane Will Leave the Standard Oil Company to Become President.

COMPANY MADE LOCAL

Baltimore Independent Telephone Syndicate Headed by G. R. Webb Sells Out Interests Here to One Headed by R. C. Hall.

Pittsburgh interests will take formal charge of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company at a meeting to be held at the offices of the company in Seventh avenue today. J. G. Splane, who has for years been in charge of the telegraph and telephone lines of the Standard Oil Company, will give up that position to become president of this company. S. B. Brown, who has been vice president and general manager of the P. & A. Company, will remain in that position. The new board will be composed mainly of Pittsburgh busfness men.

The negotiations which led to the control of the telephone company passing from the Baltimore interests, prominent here also in the Philadelphia Company, were conducted by Robert C. Hall, the Pittsburgh broker. He is the manager of the syndicate which now assumes control of the company. This syndicate bought $2,000,000 of the preferred, and practically $2,000,000 of the common stock of the company. Of each class there was an authorized issue of $2,500,000, but $500,000 of each still remains in the treasury. There are also $1,500,000 of bonds. Over two-thirds of the stock is therefore in the possession of the Hall syndicate.

PAYMENTS MADE IN BALTIMORE.

Payments in connection with this deal were made to the Central Trust Company of Baltimore on May 28. This company acted as the intermediary between the syndicate headed by George R. Webb and the Hall syndicate. It was reported from Baltimore last evening that $1,700,000 in cash was paid for the stock secured by the syndicate. With this new interest the remaining stockholders are friendly, thus insuring the business being conducted without friction.

Mr. Hall said last night: "The company under its new control is particularly fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Splane as its president. I consider him the most capable man for the position outside of the Bell Company. He has built thousands of miles of lines and has been the active head of the best independent telephone system in the world."

MEANS PROGRESSIVE POLICY.

"The new control of the company means an aggressive and progressive policy on its part. The business now to be done here is greater than both companies can handle. The Pittsburgh & Allegheny, under its old management, did not have the money to carry on the work that was to be done. From now on there will be no letup in carrying on the new enterprises. The McKeesport work will be taken up at once, as will other plans all over the county.

"It needs but 60 miles of new construction to connect the Pittsburgh & Allegheny, at Johnstown, with independent lines reaching Baltimore and Philadelphia, and the whole eastern part of the state. On the north only 40 miles of new lines are needed to reach Buffalo. These connections are to be made soon.

"The reports that the Inter-State Telephone Company has secured a portion of the stock of the Pittsburgh & Allegheny are absolutely without truth. Not a share of its stock is owned by that company. The control is entirely in Pisburgh. The company will be for local interests."

SPLANE TO LEAVE THE STANDARD.

J. G. Splane, who will today become president of the new company, will resign his position with the Standard Oil Company, to be effective July 1. He will devote his entire time to the telephone company. He leaves the Standard Oil Company after 18 years of service, which started when he entered that company's employ as a messenger boy. He worked up through the telegraph and telephone department until he became manager. He has during his service there constructed about 8,000 miles of lines in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Maryland. The excellence of that company's system of communication between the various important points is a matter of common knowledge, and there is general agreement in crediting this result to Mr. Splane. Who his successor with the Standard will be is not yet announced.

TIDE TURNS BACK IN PENNSY'S NET

Increases Shown in All But One Company's Report for April.

DECREASE SINCE FALL

P. R. R. Lines Directly Operated, P. W. & B. and W. J. & S. S. and Lines West All Show an Increase in the Fourth Month.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's comparison of gross and net earnings for the month of April and for the four months ending April 30, with the same period of last year, shows that the tide of decrease in net earnings which set in late last year has begun to turn. The April reports of the Pennsylvania companies directly operated show for April an increase in net earnings of $688,600. For the four months, however, the net earnings show a decrease of $352,100. In the case of the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington, the West Jersey & Seashore and the lines west of Pittsburgh directly operated the net for the month increases, but in the case of the Northern Central there is a decrease in the month's net as well as in the four months. The full report follows:

Pennsylvania Company's lines directly operated: April, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $1,967,000; expenses, increase $969,200; net earnings, increase $688,000. Four months ending April 30, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $4,781,000; expenses, increase $5,133,100; net earnings, decrease $352,100. Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington Railroad Company, month of April, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $138,000; expenses, increase $94,000; net earnings, increase $44,000. Four months ending April 30, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $301,900; expenses, increase $515,800; net earnings, decrease $213,900. Northern Central Railway Company, April, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $193,700; expenses, increase $130,000; net earnings, decrease $62,200. Four months ending April 30, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $355,-389; expenses, increase $457,500; net earnings, decrease $101,610. West Jersey & Seashore Railroad Company, month of April, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $48,200; expenses, increase $20,800; net earnings, increase $18,400. Four months ending April 30, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $80,400; expenses, increase $106,600; net earnings, decrease $17,200.

Lines west of Pittsburgh and Erie, directly operated, month of April, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $621,600; expenses, increase $571,000; net earnings, increase $50,200. Four months ending April 30, 1903—Gross earnings, increase $1,761,100; expenses, increase $2,161,500; net earnings, decrease $400,400.

CALLED NEW CASTLE MAN.

East End Presbyterian Church Wants the Rev. Samuel Moore for Pastor.

A congregational meeting of the East End Presbyterian church, Franklin street, near East End avenue, was held last night and after some deliberation extended a call to the Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Moore of New Castle, Pa. Much discord has existed in the congregation over the selection of a new pastor to succeed the Rev. Alfred Nicholson, who resigned a few weeks ago. A meeting was called two weeks ago, but on a technical objection by Maj. R. M. Ewing, no call was extended. Since then Maj. Ewing has resigned from the church and has gone to the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church, of which the Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry is pastor. About 150 members were present last night and there were but three dissenting votes.

Now that the call has been made and it is assured that it will be accepted, it is expected that harmony will be restored soon. The salary offered is $2,000. The Rev. Joseph T. Gibson was moderator of the meeting.

EPISCOPALIAN HAPPENINGS.

Interesting Services at St. Matthew's Church in Homestead Today.

Interesting exercises will be conducted in St. Matthew's Protestant Episcopal church, Homestead, today, when the Rev. Charles A. Bragdon will be instituted as pastor; the sacrament of communion will be administered and the largest class in the history of the congregation will be confirmed. The installation ceremony will be in charge of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cortlanot Whitehead, assisted by the Rev. George B. Richards of Buffalo, N. Y., and a large number of other ministers from the Pittsburgh diocese. Mr. Bragdon was formerly connected with the Buffalo diocese.

Communion will be administered at the morning services, and in the evening confirmation will be administered by Bishop Whitehead. An elaborate musical program has been arranged.

Off to Inspect Zinc Mines.

A party of 20 men from Pittsburgh, Braddock and Homestead left on a private car last night for Marion county, Ark. P. C. Campbell, a real estate man of Pittsburgh, was in charge of the expedition. The party will inspect 280 acres of land in that county on which two concentrating zinc mills are located. There are two mines on the property and if the investment satisfies the investigators a company will be formed, capitalized at $500,000 and known as the Silver Hollow Consolidated Zinc Company.

Narrow Escape from Electrocution.

ONLY TWO THEATERS OPEN

Duquesne Garden—"Rob Roy."

Reginald DeKoven did not, we suppose, intend "Rob Roy" to be a comic opera. Endeavoring to keep his music in line with the locale of the story he has abused the theme musically for light opera purposes. There is some exceedingly imposing concerted numbers in the composition, however, and the opera carries a sort of prestige on account of its successful premier and the strength of its original presenting company. At the Duquesne garden last night the stock opera company gave an excellent rendition of the piece, and if it did not create great enthusiasm it was not the fault of the singers. They entered into the spirit of their work with great vim. The chorus has been enlarged and enlivened at the same time and last night caught up the big voluminous strains of DeKoven's Scotch war melodies and fairly made them ring. By long odds the best chorus that the Duquesne garden has yet had is promised in the crowd that Manager Reynolds has gathered this season. They go astray sometimes and tangle the harmony, and many of them have not learned the art of moving about easily with stage clothes on, but there is a certain robustness and willingness about their singing that promises well for the season.

Among the principals last night Miss Mary Carrington, an old Pittsburgh favorite, received the largest share of attention and repaid it by singing finely the numbers allotted her, especially the pretty patriotic love song in the first act, for which she received an enthusiastic encode. Miss Hattie Ladd as Flora Mc-Donald sang better than she acted. Miss May Lutz makes a gallant and shapely English officer. Of the male voices Mr. Dunsmure's is by far the best. His big, strong, bass voice does not seem to lose force and melody from its much use. Hubert Wilkie is a capital actor, but his voice shows unmistakable signs of the "sere and yellow leaf." Mr. Joseph W. Smith's tenor is pleasant in some of its notes but not distinguished for either strength or melody. Fred Branson as the Mayor McWheeble, Frank Wooley as Tammis and Charles P. Swickard as Sandy, furnished the comedy and did it well. Branson's mayor is an especially clever piece of work.

Miss Mabel Arndt is the soloist in the Palm garden and sang the inevitable "Hiawatha" with much sweetness and expression.

Bijou—"The Drummer Boy."

Here is a war play that never seems to wear out. Its author, A. F. Nail, asserts that it has been played more than 3,000 times and yet a good-sized audience at the Bijou theater yesterday afternoon and last night cheered to the echo its patriotic and stirring scenes or hissed the villainous rebel sergeant whose bloodthirsty vow brought about such suffering to the Howard family. The play is a favorite medium for military benefits and as such it is being used this week in Pittsburgh. Battery B, National Guard of Pennsylvania, being the beneficiary, and it is gratifying to know that the seat sale for the week already shows a large attendance. Beyond the compliment and assistance to our citizen soldiery the entertainment is in itself a pleasing and exhilarating one. The old play has been put forward in thoroughly capable style, the presence of picked men in the battle scenes and drill exercises from the Duquesne Greys, Company I and Company D, Fourteenth Regiment, adding enthusiasm and military realism to the stirring events depicted in the Nail drama. The acting talent is thoroughly good. W. J. Boyd as Farmer Howard, that excellent actor Ed S. McKim as Mart Howard, Walter R. Brown as Harry Howard and Miss Anna E. Colbaugh as Johnny Howard, the drummer boy, all displayed fine skill and thorough knowledge of their work. Miss Colbaugh's Johnny is an excellent piece of work, bright in its comedy and with well expressed emotionalism in the darker scenes in Andersonville. Walter Brown makes a manly Harry Howard, and is a young amateur who gives promise of useful work higher up in the profession. The Major Rutledge of J. Frank Wilson, Frank Rutledge of M. C. Hock, and Fatte Schmidt of George Dorsch were all well played roles, as was also the Mrs. Howard of Bessie Hartford, Mrs. Mark Howard by Miss May Reardon and the Jennie Howard of Miss Blanche Langdon.

The central figure in the play, however, is undoubtedly that of the devoted old negro slave, Joe, so finely played by A. F. Nail. In Mr. Nail's hands this character has become almost a classic, rivaling in its force and pathos Mrs. Stowe's famous Uncle Tom. In scenic and stage equipment the play at the Bijou is thoroughly well handled. The battle scene is noisy, the appearance of Gen. Grant a little stiff as to regimentals, but sufficiently real to call for applause, while the horrors of Andersonville are given with a realism that gives one the creeps. There is a life and vitality in the old play that is not found in some of its more modern imitators, and the company at the Bijou this week seems fully capable of giving an intelligent and satisfactory interpretation. Battery B should reap a substantial benefit under such circumstances and patriotism receive a fresh impetus from a presentation so full of inspiring military memories. The specialties in the way of tableaus and singing are all well put forward and add to the interest of the performance as a whole.

Southern Park.

At Southern park there was an enthusiastic crowd who seemed to enjoy thoroughly the bill there. The Princess Chinquilla headed the list, and she is a charming Indian maiden—in fact the only Indian from the reservations, in vaudeville. Ed Newell assisted her and proved himself capable. The DeMuths are whirlwind dancers who dance about the stage in a manner that really does make the heads of their audience whirl. Martin and Quigg, Irish comedians, kept their audience in a good humor all the time they were on the stage, while Miss Viola Haynes proved herself a pleasing singer of illustrated songs. Manning and DuCrow did a bar act that was applauded generously.

Oakwood Park.

The Oakwood bill was headed by a troupe of clever dancing girls, known as the Ansell troupe, and they were very pleasing. Their dances were artistically executed. Frank Whitman is a very funny fellow and at the same time a good musician. He dances, sings and plays a violin at the same time. Henderson and Ross are a team of comedy high-class specialists who have their turn fixed up like a sketch and call it "Fun at Griggs." Mr. Henderson does a remarkable somersault on the tight rope. Katherine Milley sang several songs in a pleasing way and Wyman and Turner, two German comedians, are very funny.

A Successful Benefit.

The benefit of the Eighteenth regiment, N. G. P., at the Alvin theater last week proved a huge success, both from an artistic and financial standpoint. It was the most successful entertainment of its kind ever given in Pittsburgh. A pleasing feature of the farewell performance Saturday night was the presentation by the regiment to William Ingersoll of a handsome set of solid silverware, comprising over 200 pieces. It was to have been presented to Mr. Ingersoll over the footlights, but for the fact that the engraving was not finished in time. The present was in recognition of Mr. Ingersoll's services which he gave entirely gratis. Col. Rutledge of the regiment made a very appropriate speech on the Alvin stage Saturday night, when he took occasion to thank all who had contributed in any way to the success of the performance. He was especially grateful to the press of Pittsburgh for their generous support.

Highwaymen in Homestead.

Jacob J. Conroy of the South Side was held up and robbed by three men in Second avenue, Homestead, late Sunday night. Conroy was walking along the street when three men halted him and demanded his valuables. He refused to comply with the demand and was struck on the head by a stone and rendered unconscious. Conroy says the men had their faces covered with handkerchiefs and he would be unable to identify them.

Anniversary of Children's Home.

The anniversary of the Home for Colored Children will begin today at 2:30 p. m., at the Home in Termon avenue, Allegheny. Songs and recitations will be rendered by the children. The officers of the Home are Mrs. Ormsby Phillips, president; Mrs. J. W. Campbell, Mrs. Robert Munroe; Miss Mary D. Oliver, vice presidents; Mrs. John K. Blair, secretary; Mrs. John D. Carson, treasurer.

Jim Dumps and wife, invariably,
Had "Force" for Sunday evening tea,
When cook went out that afternoon.
"'Tis but a saucer and a spoon
Or two to wash—a task not grim—

BIG FIGHT FOR RENO OIL ASSETS

Creditors Object to Vacation of Order Making Company a Bankrupt.

$500,000 IS INVOLVED

Answer to the Petition of D. J. Geary Filed, Alleging He Secured Property Worth $330,000 for $165,000.

Attorneys C. C. Dickey, William P. Schell, Jr., and Francis S. Bennett yesterday filed an answer to the petition of D. J. Geary, a director of the Reno Oil Company, to have the order adjudicating the Reno Oil Company a bankrupt vacated. The Reno company is the oldest company of its kind in existence, and the present fight is said to involve over $500,000 worth of property.

In the answer of the Reno Oil Company and C. V. Culver they allege that Geary has no right or standing to file such a petition. Culver states that he is a creditor of the Reno Oil Company, bankrupt, for $5,000 salary as president, which was duly authorized by the board of directors, and for large sums otherwise due for expenses incurred in the business of the company.

The respondents admit that it is true the property was sold by the sheriff of Venango county for $165,500, but that the property sold was worth more that $330,000, being purchased by D. J. Geary, who, as holder of all the bonds of the company, secured by mortgage, is therefore twice paid. The property was all the real estate of the company except some small pieces.

MAKE CHARGES AGAINST GEARY.

It is further alleged that the Reno company has no property since this sale except about 200 acres worth about $3,000, the charter and franchises of unknown value, and interest in corporate stocks having no value at the present time.

The company says that it is not true that Geary is practically the only creditor, or that if the court retains jurisdiction of the property, its assets will be depreciated, frittered away and lost, but that if the order as prayed for is granted, the petitioner would cause the sheriff to seize the other assets and they would be lost to the general creditors of the company.

The respondents then allege that Geary, immediately upon the filing of the petition in bankruptcy, had actual knowledge thereof and failed to appear. He made no objection, they say, until after he had succeeded in taking property of the Reno Oil Company, worth over $500,000, for a price less than $166,000; that within four months prior to this Geary caused judgments to be entered in the courts of Venango county, issued on the same, after the filing of the petition in bankruptcy, and without leave of the United States court, sold all the personal property of the Reno Oil Company to himself for $441, it being worth at the time over $50,000; also that he obtained from the sheriff over $2,000 out of the surplus in the sheriff's hands of the payment of the mortgage debt, which sum was applied to confessed judgments within four months of this date, and constituted a preference prohibited by the bankrupt laws of the United States.

It is further alleged that Geary has obtained judgment notes from the company for $16,000, since the execution of the bond set forth in the petition, and has entered the same on the records of Venango county; that he only substituted himself a creditor of the company in the place of those he had paid, and has not reduced the indebtedness of the company a particle.

It is then alleged that the purpose of Geary in attempting to have this adjudication in bankruptcy revoked, is to seize the franchise and remaining assets of the company, and to purchase them at a nominal sum at sheriff's sale, before any judgments can be obtained or execution issued by other creditors of the company, and also to escape the penalties of the bankrupt act for said illegal preference in buying in said personal property; that said petition is an attempt, not only to obtain preference for himself to the exclusion of all other creditors and stockholders of the Reno Oil Company, but to secure all the assets and franchises of the corporation.

BANKRUPTCY TRUSTEE WANTED.

Respondents say they believe that a trustee in bankruptcy would be able to realize for the general creditors of the corporation something on its charter and franchises, they having been granted by special acts of assembly before the constitution of 1874; but that if these are sold by the sheriff they will be purchased by Geary and realize nothing for other creditors.

The company denies that C. V. Culver, Edward J. Evans or F. C. Negley, or any of them, are liable or indebted to the company for about $90,000, nor have they received any money from the corporation for which they have failed to account, but that the company is indebted to each of them in a large amount, which will be proven before the referee in bankruptcy. The respondents ask that the petition for revocation be dismissed.

The rule to show cause was returnable yesterday, but as sufficient time had not been given, on argument of Attorney William P. Schell, Jr., Judge Joseph Buffington held the matter over for a few days.

Atlantic City Excursion Dates; Pullman Rate Is Much Higher

Announcement was made yesterday of the confirmation of the Pittsburgh-Atlantic City excursion dates of the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads by the Trunk Lines passenger department. These dates are:

Baltimore & Ohio—June 25, July 9 and 23, August 6 and 20, and September 3.

Pennsylvania railroad—July 2, 16 and 30, August 13 and 27, and September 10.

The plan exclusively reported in The Gazette two weeks ago, by which the price of the excursion tickets good on Pullman cars would be increased has been adopted, and is announced for this time. For years it has been the custom to charge $10 a ticket for the 16-day round-trip between Pittsburgh and Atlantic City. With the growth of this business to its present tremendous proportions the trouble of securing sufficient Pullman accommodations has become very great and the extra cost of handling such trains has induced the railroads to increase this fare. The charge for the 16-day rate, good on coaches will be as in former years, $10, but the tickets to be used in Pullman cars will cost $12. This is in addition to the Pullman fare of $2 each way. Otherwise the conditions in the two classes of tickets are identical.

Full details as to the stop-over privileges are not yet known definitely. The Pennsylvania railroad desired to have a stop-over privilege at Philadelphia included in the ticket to offset the Baltimore & Ohio's Washington stop-over, but this was opposed on the ground of its interference with regular New York traffic. It was claimed that Washington is naturally, on account of the character of the city, a stop-off place.

WILL GIVE DINNER.

Traffic Club to Entertain Departing Members and Have an Excursion, Too.

The Traffic club of Pittsburgh, the organization of the freight officials of Pittsburgh and vicinity, has two important plans on foot. One is a dinner to three of its members who are about to leave for new fields. They are: Edwin P. Bates, the new general freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad; A. G. Fallant, who leaves the Pittsburgh general agency of the Northwestern to accept a similar position in New York; and R. M. Large, who takes a new position in the freight service of the Pennsylvania. The exact date has not yet been announced, but it is likely to be the evening of June 13.

The second plan is an excursion to Detroit. This is to start June 17. The party will leave here that evening, Wednesday, and return Saturday morning. The route will be the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Erie to Cleveland and a steamer of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Company to Detroit, returning over the same route. Thursday night will be spent at the St. Clair flats.

The regular business meeting of the club will be held Monday evening. Both of these plans will probably be perfected at that time.

MEETING IS FORMAL.

Pennsylvania Company Stockholders Will Elect Directors Today.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Company, the corporation which operates the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh and holds the control of the Southwest system also, will be held today at the general offices in the Union station building. The meeting is little more than a formality. All the stock of the Pennsylvania Company is owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and its year's results have been shown in the report of that company.

The 13 directors to be elected will be, so far as known now, the same who have held the position for the past year. They are: A. J. Cassatt, James McCrea, Joseph Wood, J. Lowry Turner, F. B. Taylor, John P. Green, W. J. Barnes, Charles E. Pugh, N. P. Shortridge, George Wood, C. Stuart Patterson, Samuel Rea and D. F. Lorez. Mr. Lorez is president of the Baltimore & Ohio. His position on the Pennsylvania Company board shows the close alliance of the two companies.

Pennsy's Passenger Force Here.

Passenger officials of the Pennsylvania system to the number of about 50 will meet at the Hotel Schenley this afternoon preparatory to starting on a trip to St. Louis. As already announced, the object of the trip is to obtain information in regard to the coming St. Louis world's fair, so that the men who will have charge of the Pennsylvania's large business will be well fortified in advance to give needful information. This is the first time for years that the entire passenger force of the system, both east and west, has met here. The special cars bearing the officials will leave the Union station this evening. The Pittsburgh members of the party are expected to return Saturday.

B. & O. Motive Power Men Advanced.

The promotions resulting from the appointment of J. M. Muhlfeld as general superintendent of motive power of the Baltimore & Ohio, are announced. Mr. Muhlfeld's successor as superintendent of motive power at Newark is G. A. Schmall, who has been master mechanic at the Mt. Clare shops, Baltimore. C. T. Turner succeeds Mr. Schmall. G. J. Du Vilbiss is made master mechanic at Newark, to succeed J. W. Delman, resigned. O. F. Mess is appointed master mechanic at Cleveland, to succeed Mr. DeVilbiss.

New Agent for D. & H. Company.

Circulars are out announcing the appointment of a new commercial freight agent of the Delaware & Hudson Company at Pittsburgh. Stephen V. Baldwin is the new man. He comes to Pittsburgh from Philadelphia, where he has been for some time collecting freight agent of the company. The appointment is effective June 1. He is succeeded in Philadelphia by F. Fuller Woodward.

Railroad Notes.

F. M. Tristram, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash, is back in Pittsburgh after a week's business in Ohio.

The newly appointed officials of the Pennsylvania railroad took formal charge of their new positions yesterday. In a number of cases, however, personal supervision will not be given for some days to come.

One fare for the round trip is the rate granted by the Central Passenger association for the meeting of Travelers' Protective league at Indianapolis June 8 to 10, and the American Society of Civil Engineers at Asheville, N. C., June 5 to 7.

The schedule of the New Manhattan Limited, the Cincinnati-New York train of the Pennsylvania, shows a time of 18 hours between the two cities. This is the same schedule time given by the Cincinnati connection while the Pennsylvania special was still running. The train now connects at Pittsburgh with the Pittsburgh limited.

FIRST GLIMPSE OF FALL CARPETS

A Growing Tendency Toward Lighter Colors.

While there is little likelihood of a return to the pastel shades so popular a few years ago, it is evident that the coming year will witness a growing tendency to favor the lighter colors in floor coverings.

This is seen in the new fall carpets now on display at Campbell's—and on sale at the spring carpet prices for a time, despite the share advance in the wholesale figures. Better look at them at once if you have any floors to cover.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY

A DELIGHTFULLY informal entertainment yesterday afternoon was the 4 o'clock tea given by Mrs. Bruce Millard of Amberson avenue, Shadyside, in honor of Mr. Millard's mother, Mrs. Alexander Bruce Millard of Kirkcaldy, Scotland, who is making a six weeks' visit with her son and daughter-in-law.

The tea had been originally arranged as an exclusive porch affair, but owing to the coolness of the weather the guests confined themselves principally to the interior. The receiving party stood in the drawing room, a dainty white and gold apartment, which was decorated with large clusters of exquisite white roses and rose buds. In addition to the hostess and honor guest the party included Mrs. William Bruce Negley, a cousin of the guest of honor, with whom Mr. Millard made his home previous to his marriage a few years since; the young hostess' grandmother, Mrs. Maxwell K. Moorhead, and her sister, Mrs. J. Lindsey Craige of Philadelphia. Young Mrs. Millard was daintily gowned in a blue silk organdy trimmed in cream lace, while the elder Mrs. Millard was in a lace-trimmed black silk. Mrs. Negley was also in black silk. Mrs. Moorhead's gown was a combination of black and white lace, and Mrs. Craige wore silver gray crepe de chine.

Mrs. William Palmer, another cousin of Mrs. Alexander Millard, poured tea in the dining room, which is finished in mahogony and decorated with yellow daisies. Red peonies were used in the library, which is also finished in mahogany and upholstered in green. The tea also served as a house warming, as it was the first large entertainment Mrs. Millard has given there. She will give a large evening reception a little later in the season. The guest list yesterday, which numbered about 50, was made up entirely of her elder friends in the neighborhood. An informal dinner followed the porch tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Millard after their wedding a couple of years ago went abroad for their honeymoon and before returning to Pittsburgh visited the elder Mrs. Millard in Scotland. Early in July Mrs. Millard and her little daughter, Marie Carmichael, will go to one of the New England coast resorts to spend the hot months.

Reception to the New Pastor.

A reception will be given next Monday evening, June 8, by the members of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, to the new pastor and his wife, the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge and Mrs. Partridge. The reception will be held in the chapel. During the evening several short addresses of welcome will be dsiivered, the Hon. Henry Kirke Porter speaking for the members of the Fourth Avenue church, the Rev. Dr. Benjamin F. Woodburn for the churches of the Pittsburgh Baptist association, and the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young for the churches of other denominations in Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

Dr. and Mrs. Partridge will arrive in Pittsburgh on Thursday evening from Cincinnati. A reception was given in their honor by the members of the Ninth Street church in Cincinnati, whom Dr. Partridge is leaving for his Pittsburgh charge. The members of the church presented them with a complete silver service, while the ushers of the church gave to the pastor who is leaving them a gold-headed cane. Last evening Dr. Partridge delivered an address at the meeting of the Baptist Social union of Cincinnati and tonight makes the commencement address at the H. Thane Miller institute in Cincinnati.

The Ursuline Garden Party.

The annual garden party at the Ursuline academy opened last evening and the beautiful grounds in Wineb1ddle avenue, East End, were brilliant with electricity, both arc and incandescent lights being used, while myriads of gorgeously colored Japanese lanterns were hung among the old oak trees. With the exception of the candy booth, which was in white, the various marts were gaily festooned with bright colored buntings.

Mrs. A. S. Rodgers, Mrs. John C. Reilly, Miss D. J. Cullihan and Miss Grogan were in general charge of arrangements, while the sub-committees were as follows:

Ice cream—Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Jacob Mohn, chairmen; Mrs. A. P. Rafferty, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Francis Torley, Mrs. Daniel Wilhere, Miss May Rodgers, Miss Emma Hoyl, Miss Anna Hagan, Miss Eleanor Brady, Miss Edith Keating, Miss Emily Keating, Miss Camille Painter, Miss Annabel Painter, Miss Travers, Miss Sarah Murphy, Miss Nellie Friel, Miss Edsall, Miss Jennie Patterson, Miss Birdie Loughney and Miss Florence Lanahan.

Candy—Miss D. J. Cullihan and Mrs. John Galvin, chairmen; aids, Mrs. Charles Drummond, Mrs. John A. Clinton, Miss Mary Maloney, Miss Allen, Miss May McAleese, Miss Kate Cullinan, Miss Kate Maloney, Miss Marie Butler, Miss Mary Shaughnessy, Miss Anna Seely, Miss Jennie Coyle, Miss Mary Dillon, Miss May Broderick, Miss Katherine Golden, Miss Anna Bevans, Miss Ada Fay, Miss Kate Grant, Miss Nellie Kane, Miss Stella Hall, Miss Jennie Hall, Miss Anna Haggerty, Miss Pauline Barton, Miss Gertrude Plummer, Miss Anna Brophy, Miss Gertrude Roman, Miss Katherine O'Mara, Miss Anna O'Mara.

Floral booth, Mrs. John C. O'Mara Reilly and Mrs. Edward A. Frauenheim, chairmen; aids, Mrs. Vincent Maher, Miss Katherine Vilsack, Miss Johanna Reilly, Miss Camilla Frauenheim, Miss Elizabeth Heyl, Miss Pauline Donnelly and Miss Alice Lauinger.

Fancy and common sense booths—Miss Grogan and Mrs. J. E. Digley, chairmen; aids, Mrs. Cornelius Kane, Miss Nellie Digley, Miss Mary Jiles, Miss Marie Mageriter, Miss Katherine McCormick, Miss Lucille McKeever, Miss Emma Schrieber, Miss Mame Schrieber.

A feature of the affair was the euchre, conducted in the auditorium of the academy, which was decorated with flags and red, white and blue bunting. The committee in charge included Mrs. John C. Reilly, Mrs. August A. Frauenheim, Mrs. Charles Dixon, Miss Ella G. Mahoney, Miss Katherine Vilsack, Miss Johanna Reilly, Miss Camilla Frauenheim, Miss Mary Schmidt, Miss Edith Schmidt, Miss Bertalott, Miss Gertrude McCaffrey, Miss Anna Heyl, Miss Patterson, Miss Munhall and Misses Janet O'Bryan. A repetition of the entertainment will be given this evening and tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock a special invitation euchre will be given at which handsome prizes have been provided similar to those for the evening euchre.

Wedded in Rome.

ROME, June 1.—Miss Edna Telfener, daughter of Countess Telfener and niece of Mrs. John W. Mackay, was married today to Signor Gino de Martino, son of the former under secretary for foreign affairs. The civil ceremony was performed at the capitol by the mayor. The bride's witnesses were Lewis N. Iddings, secretary of the United States embassy, and Count Macchi. The bridegroom's witnesses were the duke of Terranova and the duke of Sermoneta.

The religious ceremony took place in the private chapel of the Gabrielli palace, where the Telfeners live. Mgr. Stoner, canon of St. John Lateran, officiated. The bride's witnesses at the ceremony were the former premier, the Marquis Di Rudini, and Prince Colonna. The bridegroom's witnesses were the duke of Grazioli and Count von Quadt, former secretary of the German embassy at Washington.

The palace was magnificently decorated with flowers. The presents were numerous and of great value. Many members of both the clerical and liberal aristocracy of Rome were present.

Special Car of Guests.

A large party of guests left in the Babcock private car, Courier, yesterday, for Reading to attend the wedding today of Miss Mary Dundore Arnold of that city and Edward Vose Babcock of Pittsburgh. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raymond Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Holmes Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benton Shidle, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stone, Judge and Mrs. William Plummer Potter, Miss Marguerite Haymaker, Miss Jean Stone, and Talbot Graham of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Babcock of Ashtola, Miss Katherine Babcock, Miss Harriette Babcock and Miss Mary D. Fronheiser of Johnstown. Mr. Babcock is a member of the Duquesne, Union, Country and Pittsburgh Hunt clubs. He is at the head of the Babcock interests and makes his home chiefly at his country place at Ashtola. Miss Arnold, the daughter of William A. Arnold, is prominent socially in Reading. She made her debut a couple of years ago and has traveled extensively.

An Edgewood Wedding.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Mary Katherine Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cooper of Maple avenue, Edgewood, and Dr. Elmer E. Wedding in Sewickley.

The marriage of Miss Grace Emilie Ogden and William Whitehead Titus, both of Sewickley, will be solemnized today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson, in Broad street. The latter is a sister of the bride. Mrs. Richardson will be the matron of honor, and the best man will be Walter Titus, a brother of the bridegroom, while the small son and daughter of the house, Master George Ogden Richardson and Miss Mary Stirling Richardson, will complete the wedding party. The Rev. Albert Titus of Trenton, N. J., father of the bridegroom, assisted by the Rev. William O. Campbell of the Sewickley Presbyterian church, will officiate. On their return from a wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Titus will be at home in Thorn street, Sewickley.

Will Wed Today.

The marriage of Miss Edna Moore Stoney, youngest daughter of the late R. J. Stoney, and Harry Howard Hamlen, will be solemnized this evening at the home of the bride, in South Negley avenue. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Mr. Faris, assistant rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church.

Miss Grace E. Ogden and F. William Titus of Sewickley will be married today at the home of Mrs. Charles Richardson, a sister of the bride, in Sewickley.

Miss Ruth Pruyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pruyn of Albany, who has visited at Oak Manor, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirke Porter, and David Marvin Goodrich of Boston, are to be married today in St. Peter's church, Albany.

Wedding Announcement.

Cards have been received in Pittsburgh announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Arvilla MacKown, daughter of the late Alfred MacKown of Bridgeville, Pa., to Elden Edwin DuRand of Chicago. The wedding took place on Thursday evening, May 28, at the home of the Rev. Dr. Griffith H. Evans in Oakley avenue, Chicago, the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Varparaiso, Ind., officiating. Mr. and Mrs. DuRand are now spending a couple of weeks among the lakes of Wisconsin and will come to Pittsburgh later. The bride is a sister of Mrs. George Owen Loeffler, Mrs. Charles Owen Treat and Miss Katherine Lenore MacKown, whose marriage to Jacob Strader, Jr., of Buffalo, will be solemnized on Wednesday.

Astronomical Photography.

"Some Recent Results in Astronomical Photography," will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered Thursday evening before the Academy of Science and Art by Dr. G. W. Ritchey, instructor in practical astronomy in the Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago. The lecture will be delivered in the lecture room of the Carnegie institute. Dr. Ritchey has given this lecture before 24 different audiences in the east this year, including Johns Hopkins, Yale and Columbia universities, the Smithsonian institution and others. Nearly 100 lantern slides will be used, some of them being the finest ever obtained of astronomical objects.

Wedding Next Week.

The wedding of Miss Emily Hill and Dr. Malcolm Harvard Barr will take place next Tuesday, June 9, at Rosedale farm. The marriage will be solemnized by the Rev. D. P. Marsh of Greensburg. Dr. Barr and his bride will make their home in Avalon.

Notes of Society.

The members of the Women's Press club formed a party at Duquesne garden last night to hear "Rob Roy."

Mrs. John T. Porter entertained the Valley Whist club yesterday afternoon at her home in Beaver street, Sewickley.

A strawberry social will be held this evening at the Young Women's Christian association, No. 215 Collins avenue, East End.

The Monday Afternoon Euchre club of Sewickley was entertained by Mrs. Robert Wells at her home in Bank street, Sewickley. About 20 members were present.

The Kings Daughters of the Shadyside United Presbyterian church will give a strawberry and ice cream festival on the church lawn, Atlantic avenue and Cypress street, Friday evening.

The sixth studio recital of the pupils of Gilden R. Broadberry will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the studio in the Stevenson building, Center and Highland avenues, East End. The vocalists will be Miss Elizabeth J. Johnstone and Miss Alice V. Walsh.

THE Tourist club has disbanded. For some time there has been talk of dissolving the club, but many of its members had become so deeply attached to the club, which, with the exception of the Woman's club, is possibly the oldest woman's club in Pittsburgh, and wished to continue it. At the annual outing of the Tourists yesterday afternoon at Kennywood park a resolution was presented and carried by the majority of the members present, thereby dissolving the club.

For 17 years the members of this club have traveled year after year throughout the world, their programs of study taking them from country to country in the old and the new world, the past year being given up to the study of the Islands of the Sea, including the most northern, Iceland, and the islands of the tropics, the West Indies, the Sandwich Islands and the Philippine archipelago. Each season has closed with the club outing, usually held in Riverview park, Allegheny, but this season Kennywood park was chosen. The members were also members of many of the other clubs in Pittsburgh, and many of the women have taken an active part in the work of the Civic club and permanent civic committee. But the Tourist club itself has remained a purely literary and social club throughout its history.

It is possible that in the fall the club will be reorganized, as many of the members still wish to keep up the literary club as distinct from the department club with its civic and educational interests.

Interesting Exhibit at Bellevue.

The Civic Improvement league of Bellevue will hold an unusual exhibit of flowers and potted plants next Saturday afternoon and evening in Masonic hall. The various committees are hard at work soliciting exhibits from local residents, it being the intention to have every resident send flowers for exhibition. The general committee in charge of the affair consists of the following: From Bellevue—J. F. Tilley, Frank Young, E. M. Butz, Mrs. F. W. Kiefer, John Gullet, Fred Burkl, J. H. Brandon, Mrs. George F. Wright, William A. Hadley, Avalon—R. M. Jones, W. G. Gibson, Mrs. John Coleberry, Miss E. A. Miller. Ben Avon—H. P. Joslin, Mrs. H. S. Harper, Mrs. T. G. Evans.

Carnegie Club Election.

The Monday club of Carnegie held its final meeting this season yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. D. Walker. The officers elected for next year are President, Mrs. E. M. Powers, who was re-elected; first vice president, Mrs. Marian Carnahan; second vice president, Mrs. T. J. George; recording secretary, Mrs. George Gow; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H. Robert; treasurer, Mrs. William Hill. The program committee consists of Mrs. Hogan, Mrs. Ezrett and Miss Marie Stroup. Mrs. Walker served refreshments and the club adjourned until the first Monday in September.

Alumnae Excursion.

The board of managers of the Western Pennsylvania hospital, medical and surgical department, Charles S. Howell, superintendent, has issued invitations to the graduating exercises of the class of 1903, in the training school for nurses attached to the hospital, which are to occur next Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at the hospital. The members of his year's class are Elizabeth C. Patrick, Henrietta M. Reinemann, Bertha E. Shirey, Lucy Cole, Florence M. Dowkontt, M. Henrietta Irwin, Florence Weller, Lillie E. Crock, Maud Plummer, E. Anna Taylor, Miriam E. Young, Virginia M. Clinger, Bertha Buckingham and Celia M. Frease.

Sail for the Balkan Sea.

A party of Pittsburgh people will sail, August 6, for Hamburg where they will take ship for the Balkan sea. In the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, Mrs. Alfred E. Clark and Miss Edith Bailey. Mrs. Sarah Clark had planned to sail a month earlier, but that trip was abandoned for the one which will begin in August. The party will be abroad until late in the fall.

DENTAL FREE WORK
JUST to introduce my new gauze Aluminum Plate—an entirely new method of making full sets of teeth—I make this most liberal offer: For one month I will make no charge for Dental work. Time is the item dentists charge most for. I will simply ask you to pay for dental material used. A word about my new gauze aluminum plate. It is the lightest material ever used in plate construction and gives perfect ease and comfort to the mouth. In fact it is a revelation to the dental world.
FINEST EQUIPPED DENTAL ESTABLISHMENT IN AMERICA
I GUARANTEE TO GIVE YOU BETTER DENTAL WORK THAN ANY OTHER DENTISTS WHO CHARGE HIGH PRICES.

I GIVE A 25-YEAR GUARANTEE ON ALL MY FULL SETS OF TEETH.
I can truthfully state that I have the finest and most completely equipped dental establishment in America. No expense has been spared—everything modern and up-to-date. All dental instruments thoroughly sterilized, thus avoiding danger of contracting decayed tooth poison.
MY METHOD OF PAINLESS EXTRACTING
Is a decided innovation in dental practice, being used by myself exclusively.
GOLD CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK. This branch of dentistry has been one of my special hobbies and I pride myself in the fact that I have yet to meet one dissatisfied patient. I execute Bridge Work (teeth without plates) in a manner that gives the teeth so natural an appearance as to deceive the most critical eye. I can save broken and decayed teeth by crowning them at a very nominal expense.

SECOND AVENUE FRONTAGE SOLD

Jones & Laughlin Company Purchased a Plot for $50,000.

BUYER ON NORTH SIDE

Braddock Deal of $125,000—New Highland District Coming—Store Building in Masters Way—$20,000 Ice Plant at Leetsdale—Gossip of the Brokers.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. has bought from the Consolidated Gas Company a plot 180x360 feet in the north side of Second avenue for $50,000. The deal was negotiated by Charles Crosby. The property adjoins the present holdings of the Jones & Laughlin Co. and has erected on it a number of old buildings. No intimation was given as to what disposition would be made of the site further than it was secured for additions to the company's buildings as they are needed.

Russell H. Boggs of the firm of Boggs & Buhl proves to have been the buyer of the three lots at Nos. 514-518 Federal street, Allegheny, which were sold for $100,000 two weeks ago by A. B. Hay, Jr. Mr. Boggs gets title to the property from J. W. Chesawright, who in turn bought them from E. C. Mercer, S. C. Grier and Fred C. Kiefer. The lots have a combined frontage of 40 feet by a depth of 100 feet, making the rate of sale $2,500 a front foot.

OLD LANDMARK TO BE SOLD.

The titles are being examined preparatory to making a sale of one of the most valuable and interesting properties in Braddock. It is known as the old Robinson property and is now owned by the Wood heirs. The property occupies an entire square with the exception of 50 feet and extends from Braddock avenue to Maple alley and from Robinson street to Thirteenth street. Near the center of the plot is the old Robinson mansion, a three-story brick house of 25 rooms, which was used for years as a hotel and in the sixties was a favorite stopping place for many noted men. The plot is the largest vacant property in Braddock and its location, only a short distance from the Edgar Thomson steel works and on the principal street, makes it desirable for business or residence purposes. The property is valued at $125,000 and the prospective buyers are a syndicate of Braddock men who intend to plot the property and build a number of business houses and three rows of tenements.

CHOICE FRONTAGE NEAR THE PARK.

A new Highland district is coming to the front rapidly in improvements on the Alexander King tract of 50 acres situated between North Negley and Haights avenue. The former street is now being paved from Hampton street to Highland park, the width being now 65 feet instead of 57 feet as formerly. This avenue affords a direct entrance to the park without the steep grade that is found in the regular North Highland entrance. To the right and left of this street roads are to be run around the new reservoir to connect with the boulevard at the 200-foot street in the west side of Negley avenue is also being paved and Elgin avenue is now all paved. The entire 50 acres had been plotted in lots, the smallest of the lots being 50x150 feet each, the ideal being to keep the frontage in 100 feet blocks as much as possible. On Negley avenue no buildings will be allowed within 46 feet of the street and on the cross streets the limit is 35 feet. The plan, which is called Baywood, has been successfully executed, with perfect drainage and gas connections. Just south of this tract is the McKelvey plot of about 15 acres, which is also being made ready for desirable residence sites.

STORE BUILDING FOR MASTERS WAY.

Bids are being taken in the office of Architect F. C. Sauer on the building which Frank McCann will erect in Masters way in the rear of the Guthrie building at the corner of Fifth avenue. The McCann building will be a three-story brick structure, 50x170 feet, and will adjoin the Haslage block. It will be designed especially for stores and in this locality is certain to be a ready renter.

The same architect is taking bids on the three-story brick hotel which Michael Murphy will erect at Clinton at an estimated cost of $28,000.

The Haven Methodist Episcopal church in the Thirty-fifth ward has commissioned Architect James T. Steen to prepare plans for an addition to the present church building for use as a Sunday school room.

A $20,000 ice plant will be erected by the Leetsdale Ice Company at Leetsdale on a site of one acre which the company bought yesterday for $5,000. The property was secured from Tate Jones & Co. through the agency of Henry I. Adair. It has a frontage of 280 feet on the Beaver road lying between it and the Ohio Valley tracks. The plant, which will be one of the best equipped around the city and will have a capacity of 40 tons a day.

PHYSICIAN SELLS PROPERTY.

Dr. B. M. Hanna has sold to Thomas McDunn two properties for $12,300. One of them consists of a lot 33x85 feet at Nos. 173-177 Thirty-sixth street, for which $6,500 was paid. The other is a 12-room frame house on a triangular lot facing 50 feet in California avenue at the corner of Somerset street, Allegheny, which was sold for $5,800.

C. C. Snyder & Co. have delivered the final papers in the sale of the Frank McCann holdings at the corner of Penn avenue and Seventeenth street, the price being $60,000. The lot is 60x100 feet and the transaction nets Mr. McCann $15,000. The present owner is Joseph W. Harrison.

The old F. C. Miller homestead in Center avenue, facing Erin street, is to be plotted at once and put on the market. The Aronson Realty Company will have the agency for the property and several offers have already been received for the plot as a whole.

John R. Hale of Westmoreland county is reported to have bought 10 acres of land on the north side of the Pennsylvania railroad between Hawkins and Copeland for about $20,000. Two acres of the tract will be reserved as a site for a summer home which the owner will build next year, and the remainder will be improved with houses costing from $3,500 to $5,000 each.

Simon D. Rosenfield bought of Dr. J. J. Buchanan, through the Fifth Avenue Realty Company, a two-story brick building at No. 911 Fifth avenue, on lot 22x115, for $36,500.

ONLY ONE TRANSFER.

A singular record was made at the register's office in city hall yesterday, only one deed of $1,600 being left for registry. The usual average is from 25 to 40 deeds a day, and the absence of business was the more remarkable yesterday, as it followed a holiday, when usually a double list of deeds is expected.

Kirkpatrick street—S. Arnold sold for Henry Fitzpatrick to a local business man Nos. 637-639 Kirkpatrick street, Eleventh ward, four new brick houses on lot 55x60 feet for $8,750. The same broker sold for Mrs. M. McEvatty to Jacob Friedman Nos. 38 Townsend street, Eighth ward, two brick houses on lot 19x100 feet for $5,500.

Allegheny—W. L. Scott & Co. sold for Mary A. Haynes to a prominent business man No. 560 East Robinson street, Allegheny, a nine-room brick house on lot 20x70 feet for $5,000.

Allegheny—The Allegheny Real Estate Company sold for the heirs of Eliza A. Brown to John Ingoldsby two brick houses, lot 31x61 feet, for $4,000.

TEXTILE WORKERS STRIKE.

Manufacturers, However, Prepared to Withstand Strikers' Demands.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—A general strike of textile workers was inaugurated here today, involving about 90,000 operatives. Of the 600 firms affected 47 have granted the demands. Their plants, employing about 15,000 hands, are in operation. The 63 ingrain carpet mills are idle affecting directly 5,000 weavers and 10,000 hands in other departments. The dyers are on strike, with the exception of those of the Berkshire mills, which has conceded the 55 hour week and increased the wages of the men from $12 to $13 a week. The ingrain carpet weavers are asking, besides the 55 hour week a 10 per cent increase in wages.

The mill of John and James Dobson, employing 2,000 hands, was closed indefinitely today. The workmen were notified that they could return to work at the present rate of wages, otherwise the mill would remain inactive.

Thirty-nine branches of the textile trade are affected by the strike and the capital invested in the mills is estimated at $100,000,000. The daily loss in wages will amount to $125,000. The manufacturers admit that the operatives are in a position to close all mills not granting their demands. A member of the manufacturers' executive committee said:

"The large manufacturers are a unit and will keep their mills shut for a year, if necessary."

SUCCEEDS WAYLAND.

Henry W. Rogers Becomes Dean of Law Department of Yale University.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 1.—(Special.)—Henry Wade Rogers, LL. D., professor of equity and corporation law in Yale, was today named for dean of the law department of the university to succeed Prof. Francis Wayland, resigned.

For more than a year during former Judge Wayland's continued illness Prof. Theodore Woolsey has been acting dean. Prof. Rogers will continue to give his lectures in equity and corporation law next year. Not many months ago he was offered the presidency of Boston university by the trustees, but declined the honor. Prof. Rogers was graduated in 1874 from the University of Michigan, of which law school he was dean from 1885 to 1900, when he was elected president of the Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. In 1900 he came to Yale.

NO RELIEF POSSIBLE.

Justice Holmes Passes Upon Copyright Case Involving Brother's Works.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The United States Supreme Court today decided the two cases brought by Houghton, Mifflin & Company, publishers, against other publishers involving the charge of infringement of copyright in the publication of Oliver Wendell Holmes, "The Professor at the Breakfast Table," and of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's "The Minister's Wooing."

Houghton & Mifflin were the assignees in both cases. Both works were originally published serially without being copyrighted, and for this reason the court held that no relief could be granted. A son of Dr. Holmes was one of the justices who passed upon the case involving the copyright of his father's works.

MOVEMENTS IN TRADE.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Heidelberg, Ickelheimer & Co. announce an engagement of $250,000 gold coin for shipment to South America.

NEW YORK, June 1.—At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Federal Telephone Company held in East Orange it was decided to reduce the par value of the stock from $100 to $10 a share.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The director of the mint today purchased 350,000 ounces of silver on account of Philippine coinage at an average of 53.303 cents an ounce.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Kidder, Peabody & Co. of Boston, through their New York agents, Baring, Magoun & Co., have engaged $500,000 gold for shipment to Europe on Thursday.

DOVER, DEL., June 1.—Certificates of incorporation were filed here today as follows: The United Municipal Utility Company of Philadelphia, capital $1,500,000; the Esmeralda Mining Company of Oaxaca, Mexico, capital $100,000.

NEW YORK, June 1.—J. P. Morgan & Co. announce that a majority of the common stock of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad has been deposited with them on the terms of the Rock Island purchase, and that the plan is now operative.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The stockholders of the Amalgamated Copper Company held their annual meeting in Jersey City today. The old board of directors was re-elected, with the exception of Robert Bacon, who was succeeded by George H. Church.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The total receipts of the government for the month of May were $44,113,969 and for the disbursements, $40,586,966, leaving a surplus for the month of $3,526,973. The total receipts for the 11 months of the present fiscal year were $510,533,471 and the expenditures, $471,586,852.

WIFE DOES NOT THINK HUSBAND WAS MURDERED

Richmond Was Victim of Heart Trouble— Cases of the Coroner.

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary is looking into the death of Frank Konescek, who was found dead on Sunday morning in the rear of the house in which he roomed, No. 20 Bridge street, Etna, the coroner developed circumstances which led him to suspect that murder was committed.

Konescek came to America four months ago to marry a Hungarian girl, but finding that she had received the attentions of other men his ardor cooled. Saturday night, it is alleged, he attended a ball and three men were observed following him. Another story is that he was hit on the head with a beer bottle while trying to force his way into the room of a woman. Konescek's father in Hungary is said to be a man of wealth and position.

Coroner McGeary held a partial inquest into the death of Edward Brown, who died at the county home in Woodville May 17. The assistants of J. J. Flannery, the undertaker, had discovered that Brown's neck was broken and that he had received other injuries. The county home authorities said the bones were broken by the undertaker's assistant in putting the body into the coffin, while Flannery said that he called the attention of the man's relatives to the condition of the body, which he would hardly have done if his assistants had mutilated it.

John S. Flannery testified that the box used to remove Brown's body from the home was amply long and wide enough. The assistant, Henry Kraeling, who handled the body, said it went easily into the box. The inquest will be resumed at the county home Saturday.

The inquest into the death of Mrs. Lena Wolf will be held today at 11 a. m. The woman was found dead Friday night in her house, No. 77 Magee street, with marks of strangulation on her throat. Her husband, Morris Wolf, who was in jail, was released on $1,000 bail. He said he found his wife dead, but the rope which the latter admitted he had found about the neck, was discovered in his pocket. The coroner believes Wolf hid the rope to conceal that the wife had committed suicide.

J. K. Strauss, freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at the Pittsburgh transfer station at Wall, yesterday identified the body of the man who died at St. Francis' hospital from injuries received in Wilkinsburg late Friday night as that of Archibald G. Richmond. Richmond was a clerk at the transfer station.

Richmond lived with his wife and son, aged nine, at No. 329 Hale street, Brushton. He left home Friday evening, telling his wife he was going to the country for a day or so. Mrs. Richmond did not think her husband met foul play. She said he had little money when he left home. Richmond was subject to heart failure, and it is thought he received an attack from this ailment and fell unconscious, being then struck by a car.

Richmond had been in the railroad business for many years. He came here from Philadelphia two years ago and since then had been employed at Wall. He was 35 years of age. He is well connected in Philadelphia. J. G. Richmond of No. 1335 Reed street, Philadelphia, a stock broker, and J. A. Richmond of Philadelphia are brothers.

WORSE THAN ROBBERY.

Negro Wanted at Braddock for Stealing Is Held at Richmond for Murder.

Chief of Police William Bennett of Braddock yesterday received word from Richmond, Va., stating that G. W. Dougherty, a negro, who is wanted in Braddock to answer to a charge of stealing a number of diamonds, was in jail at that place on a charge of murder.

Dougherty robbed Mrs. William Christian of Pitcairn street, Braddock, two months ago and the description of Dougherty sent out by the Braddock police resulted in his arrest for a murder which he is said to have committed several years ago.

CAN SLEEP ALL NIGHT NOW.

What a Blessing to Be Able To.

"For a long time I was obliged to get up several times during the night.

"I suffered so severely from Kidney and Bladder Trouble, relief seemed doubtful.

"Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was recommended to me for this terribly distressing disease.

"I took it but a short time and found almost immediate relief.

"Instead of getting up a number of times I can now sleep all night."

GEORGE STEVENS,
Co. i, National Soldiers' Home, Va.

Bright's Disease, Gravel, Liver Complaints, Pain in the Back, Rheumatism and Bladder Troubles, too frequent and painful passing of the water and Dropsy, are all caused by disorders of the kidneys. LOW PRICES FOR EASTERN STOCKS

No Decided Selling Pressure, but Support Was Absent—Flood Damage the Main Factor—Local Stocks Quiet.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a continuation of liquidation in the eastern stock market yesterday with the resumption of business over the double holiday. The London stock exchange remained closed, but it is estimated that foreigners were sellers to the extent of about 10,000 shares. The only important development over the holiday was the damage caused by the floods in the Missouri valley. Initial prices were not much changed, but shortly after the opening of the market weakness appeared in the granger stocks, and these were the greatest sufferers throughout the day. Union Pacific was rather heavily sold, and declined below 82, the lowest price for two years, in the face of an increase of $1,5,482 reported in gross earnings for the second week in May, and an increase of $434,000 in gross and $288,000 in net earnings for April. Atchison also sold down to the lowest price in two years, although late in the day officials of the company were quoted as saying that the reported damage along the company's system was greatly exaggerated, and that a resumption of train service would be made today. The directors are scheduled to meet tomorrow to declare the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on the preferred stock. Missouri Pacific was another weak spot and sold down to the lowest of the year. Canadian Pacific broke from 128⅝ to 121⅛, and the street is still bearish on the stock. Reading and Wabash preferred each declined 2 points. Louisville & Nashville sold off from 143 to 142, in the face of an increase of $170,000 in net earnings for April. The industrials held fairly well during the morning session.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The Chicago board of trade was closed on account of the election in that city, but other grain markets were open, and the advance of 3 cents in July wheat, 2 cents in corn and 1½ cents in oats in the St. Louis market gave color to the reports of crop damage, and was the basis for a renewal of the selling of stocks late in the afternoon. The lowest prices of the day were recorded during the closing hour, and the stocks which were weakest in the morning continued to lead the decline. The weakness was aggravated by the break in United States Leather stocks, the common selling down to 8 and the preferred to 85½, the lowest prices for two years. The decline was attributed partly to disappointment over the proposed plan for raising additional capital, and partly to a report that a young speculator who has made several plays in the stocks, and who is supposed to be the largest individual holder of the common stock, being "frozen out." Amalgamated Copper moved within a range of less than 1 per cent, there being no developments on the ambalgamating having a bearing on the market. The entire list of active stocks were also comparatively dull. The opinion seemed to prevail that the market had seen the last of the bull movement, and that the tone of the market was bearish under which traders were looking for a chance to sell on the new rally in the leading stocks, such as St. Paul, Reading, United and Pennsylvania, all of which gave indications that the liquidation, so far as these were concerned, was complete. There was a revival of the stories current last week as to the position of certain large speculators, to whose forced selling has been attributed the prolonged weakness in the market, but there was nothing absolutely new in this respect.

Call money rates remained unchanged at 2¼@2¾ per cent. Yesterday was the date when, according to the rule adopted by the New York clearing house, the trust companies whose checks are cleared through the institutions were required to have and maintain 5 per cent of their deposits in cash. When the rule was adopted there were 27 trust companies enjoying clearing house privileges. Before the date for the rule taking effect, however, nine institutions with $251,000,000 deposits withdrew, while the deposits of those remaining foot up only $146,000,000. The cash reserve required against the latter sum is only $7,300,000, whereas about $20,000,000 was the amount estimated at the time of the adoption of the rule. The accumulation of cash for the purpose of complying with the rule, therefore, had no effect whatever upon money market conditions. Engagements were announced yesterday of $250,000 gold for shipment to South America and $500,000 for Europe. The latter will not be shipped until Thursday, and the amount is likely to be increased before that date.

Only one stock in the local list furnished as much as 1,000 shares to the day's total. This was River Coal common, which sold at 10½, and was in demand at that price bid. The preferred was unchanged at 40. Pittsburgh Coal was dull, the common selling at 27¾@27⅞ and the preferred at 86⅜@86⅞. Westinghouse Electric was the weakest stock on the list, selling off from 94 to 92½ and closing within a small fraction of the lowest. The steel stocks were moderately within a narrow range. Crucible common declined to 16 and closed at 16⅛. The preferred sold at 81¼. United States Steel common sold at 31@31⅛ and the preferred at 81, closing nominally unchanged. Manufacturers Light and Heat was steady to firm, selling at 42 and closing at 42⅛ bid. There were small transactions in Ohio Fuel Supply at 44¼@45, and in Philadelphia Company at 41⅜, the latter closing at 40½ bid, 41½ asked. Union National Gas Corporation advanced ½ to 105 bid on the action of the directors in declaring a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent following the approval by the stockholders of the proposition to issue $1,000,000 new stock. National Fire Proofing was unchanged at 25¼@25½ for the common and 36¾@38⅜ for the preferred.

The principal activity in the banking list was in German American Savings and Trust, which advanced from 163 to 165, and Federal National, which was a fraction higher at 170. A small lot of Colonial Trust sold at 620, a decline of 20 points from the last previous sale. Union Trust advanced from 158 to 159, and Merchants Savings and Trust to 75½. There were no transactions in American Trust and the stock was nominally offered at 530 asked. Equitable Trust was unchanged at 184, and North American Savings at 152@152½. In the bond list Philadelphia Company 5s sold at 108½, a decline of ½, and Allegheny County Light 6s at 110½, unchanged from the last sale. There were sales of 5s of Westinghouse Electric rights at 2½@2¾, a decline of ⅛ from last week. The market as a whole closed dull and about steady.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Of a score or so of prominent Wall street commission houses having private wire connection with Pittsburgh, only one continues to express bullish opinions. Two of them say that the bearish side of the market is becoming overdone and that good stocks may now be bought for a permanent investment. The remainder do not look for more than a trader's rally in the general list. The latter is a pretty safe prediction. There has been so much stock bought on the decline of the past two months that as soon as the speculative holders see a quarter or two profit they will be glad to take them. The absorption of these offerings by actual investors will be a comparatively slow process. There is reason to believe that a large number of the big speculators are hard up for ready cash, and the disappearance of their paper profits has produced a mood not conducive to fresh operations. Every important stock which has recently been jacked up by the manipulation of the big traders is now selling below the lowest average prices for two years. As a rule the individuals composing the various bull pools were left holding. When their specialties began to decline they scorned to run and take the first loss. They put up additional margins and bought more to average their original purchases. Now that they spread out their available funds in other enterprises. The continuous decline necessitated the sale of investment holdings to take care of speculative carries. As a result, we could feel assured that this liquidation was finished, the market would quickly turn. Until this assurance comes the market is likely to make slow upward progress, even after the turn has come for good.

The annual report of the Pennsylvania commission of banking shows that Allegheny county had 81 state banks and trust companies at the close of 1902. This was an increase of 25 during the year, or a little more than half the total increase in the entire state. It is further to note that Allegheny county now has more state banks and trust companies than were in operation in the entire state in 1882. Since the commissioner's report was compiled 4 state banks have been chartered in Pittsburgh and suburbs.

Union Natural Gas Corporation stock advanced to 105 bid on the local board yesterday following the announcement of the approval by the stockholders of the proposition to create an additional issue of $1,000,000 stock, and the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. This dividend, however, is not payable until October 15, to stock of record August 15. The new stock will not participate in this dividend, since the third and last instalment on subscriptions to the new stock ought be made on or before September 15. As investigation of the ownership of the new stock is introduced a certificate for the stock held for will be issued for re-third of the stock subscribed, instead of issuing temporary receipts. The amount of each installment credited thereon, and no fractional parts of shares will be issued.

A call for a statement of state banks and trust companies has been looked for every day this week. It is also probable that the national banks will be called upon for a statement by the end of the month. It would seem possible the comptroller may make up his statistics if both calls were made for the same date.

Manufacturers Light & Heat and Ohio Fuel Supply gas stocks are both quoted higher in the market than Philadelphia Company. The stagnation of the latter is a matter of frequent comment in the street.

The local coal stocks have been holding up remarkably well, considering the weakness in the general market. Both Pittsburgh preferred and River preferred pay dividends next month, the former 1¾ per cent quarterly and the latter 3½ per cent semi-annually.

A Washington dispatch stated that the supreme court had granted the motion to advance the date for the hearing of the Northern Securities case to December 1st, instead of next October, as originally decided to by on the New York coal yesterday.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Speyer & Co. and other large bankers are over here looking for desirable specialties in the eastern markets yesterday.

The sales on the New York board yesterday amounted to 402,140 shares.

German American Savings & Trust closed at 164@165, and Iron City Trust at 158 bid.

Said a Fourth avenue man yesterday: "There has been a great deal of talk to the effect that the public is not in the stock market, that it is a rich man's toss that is being liquidated. One of the big Sunkenspop men told me today that they had more 'long' on their books at the beginning of business this morning than at any time for a year. In this way, he takes as a gauge, then the little men as well as the big ones are pocketing losses. I believe the public's interest in the market is much larger than generally supposed.

Since the completion of the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven & Muskegon Electric railroad, some of the most attractive sections of Michigan have been opened up and many investments for summer homes have been made. One of the latest purchases has been made at Spring Lake, which is directly on the route of the railroad, by Mr. W. H. Dupee, a Chicago millionaire, who contemplates the erection of a $50,000 residence. The Grand Rapids, Grand Haven & Muskegon railroad was built by the Security Investment Company of Pittsburgh and the securities of the company are largely held in this city.

The combined capital of companies incorporated in seven principal states during the month of May is estimated at $385,250,000. Of this total $181,000,000 represented South Dakota companies.

In connection with the weakness of United States Leather it was said that certain important interests had refused to support the plan for an issue of new bonds, partly for working capital and partly for paying off the back dividends on the preferred.

It is said that the next Manhattan dividend on which action will be taken about 10 days hence will be at the rate of 8 per cent. The company for this quarter is earning in excess of 2 per cent, or at the rate of over 8 per cent per annum.

One of the early features of the eastern stock market was the purchase of about 10,000 St. Paul and 5,000 Rock Island for what appeared to be the bear party. This was responsible for the strength of both issues during the first hours. The same sort of buying was also detected in Amalgamated Copper, but as the entire list weakened early in the afternoon it was the opinion of many that the buying orders in these issues might have been intended as a ruse so as to get a fresh basis to sell on.

Announcement is made of the dissolution of the firm of Watson & Gibson, of New York. Mr. George Gibson retiring. The new firm, composed of Thomas L. Watson and William A. Alpers, the latter being a member of the firm as Wetson & Alpers. The senior member has been at the head of the old firm for nearly a quarter of a century. Mr. George R. Gibson, the retiring member, has many friends in Pittsburgh.

The Philadelphia News Bureau has begun the publication of a series of articles in that paper relating to traction and related corporations, the securities of which have a market in that city. The latter aims to attain a position toward Philadelphia securities similar to that occupied by Boston toward copper stocks. Philadelphia furnished much of the capital that was needed to introduce rapid transit in Pittsburgh, and is largely interested in traction enterprises in other cities. In an article on Philadelphia Company securities, the News Bureau quotes Alexander C. Humphreys as saying: "It is difficult to say that the success of the company does not depend upon the maintenance of the natural gas supply. Pittsburgh occupies an almost unique position in this regard. It is the great market for furnace coke, and the immediate neighborhood furnishes an unlimited supply of coal suitable for the manufacture of furnace coke in by-product ovens, a system long since thoroughly established in Germany and now securing a firm footing in the United States. A gas of good calorific value is produced from these ovens as a by-product and can therefore be obtained at a cost absolutely not possible with natural gas. The Philadelphia Company already owns a valuable gas manufacturing site of some 176 acres. The present natural gas mains will be available for the distribution of by-product coal gas and it therefore have not hesitated to say that if the necessity arises, coke-oven gas can be substituted for natural gas without placing any additional capital upon the company."

The new banking house of the Real Estate Savings & Trust Company at No. 342 Federal street, Allegheny, will be opened tomorrow. The Union National bank has been appointed as the clearing house for the Real Estate Savings & Trust Company.

The National Bank of Western Pennsylvania at Pittsburgh, announces the election of Samuel R. Shumaker as second vice president of the bank, to take effect June 1.

STRAWBERRY MARKET GLUTTED WITH STOCK

Creamery Butter Quotations Advance — Cheese Prices Seeking Lower Level.

Fifty-eight carloads of strawberries reached the Pittsburgh market yesterday and the situation was weak, with prices badly broken. On Saturday over 30 carloads arrived, and many of these were held over until Monday. Dealers who had purchased at shipping points suffered losses, for it was impossible to realize a fair price on stock yesterday, so much of it was offered. The top for fanciest berries was 10 cents, and this price was obtained only in a few transactions. Berries of fairly good quality went as low as 4 cents, while many crates were sold at 3 cents. Shipments were principally from Maryland, with some consignments from Delaware and New Jersey. Fruit canners were in the market buying freely, and it may be that conditions will be improved today, unless there are heavy arrivals again to hold the quotations down. Cantaloupes are coming in freely and prices are lower. Cucumbers have declined. Home-grown beets are in the market, and are selling at 90 cents a dozen bunches. Home lettuce is lower. String beans are in heavy supply, and prices are much lower. Florida tomatoes are taken another drop on account of more liberal offerings. Fresh peas are offering at lower quotations.

Flour holds steady at former quotations, and there is no change in sugar prices. The demand for refined sugar is lighter than the usual at this time of the year, probably owing to the lateness of crops. Coffee is quiet and jobbers complain of a lack of orders. Navy beans are steady at quotations of last week.

Packers have commenced to issue statements regarding shortages in coming packs of canned goods, and are stiffening up prices for certain lines. They make the claim that the peaches in the east will be a failure, and that the tomato crop will be short. These assertions are received with a few grains of salt by jobbers, who cannot forget so quickly experiences in the last two years, when so many stories were issued in regard to tomatoes when there was a superabundance of stock. Local prices are not changing, and there is a general tendency to wait and see what will be the outcome of growing crops before investing too largely in purchases made on the strength of statements which may have to be changed.

Receipts of hay and grain were not large, considering the fact that the bulletin covers three days. There was an increase in the average of corn arrivals. All prices remained without alteration, and the market was steady for every line.

Poultry opened the week without a change in selling figures. Receipts are only moderate and sellers have the market well in hand.

Creamery butter prices advanced a half cent at Elgin yesterday, and local quotations are changed accordingly. Eggs remain at prices of last week. Another decline has occurred in the cheese market, and quotations are gradually seeking a lower level.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The drygoods market does not open very briskly after the holiday. Buyers are operating conservatively and although they are accepting the new level of prices as warranted by the conditions they are not ordering with any degree of freedom. The jobber is receiving only a moderate store trade and reports are not bright for the near future.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, June 1.—(Special.)—Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,951,000; payment by banks to government, $7,350,000; balance on the day's transactions, $601,000, paid by government to banks.

Cattle.

Cattle receipts this morning were of the same amount as receipts of last Monday. The supply was steady and all quotations remained unchanged. No special features were developed, the demand being just about equal to supply.

Choice, 1,400 to 1,500 lbs., $5 30@5 40; prime, 1,200 to 1,400 lbs., $5 00@5 20; good, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs., $4 75@4 85; fair, 900 to 1,100 lbs., $4 50@4 70; common, 700 to 1,000 lbs., $3 75@4 40; bulls and cows, $2 00@4 40; fresh cows and springers, $20@50.

Hogs.

Forty double-deck loads of hogs reached the Central stock yards this morning, and demand was very active, all arrivals being readily sold. Prices were strong at an advance of about 10 cents as compared with figures prevailing a week ago.

Prime heavy hogs, $6 35@6 45; medium, $6 25@6 30; heavy Yorkers, $6 20@6 25; light Yorkers, $6 20@6 25; pigs, $6 25@6 30; roughs, $4 00@5 50.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were not quite so large as those of a week ago, and the market was firm at higher quotations. Prices have been steadily gaining in strength for several days, and were 10 to 20 cents higher than last Monday for best sheep. Veal calves were in light supply and much higher.

Best wethers, 95 to 100 lbs., $4 40@4 60; good mixed, 85 to 90 lbs., $4 10@4 30; fair, 75 to 80 lbs., $3 50@3 90; choice lambs, $5 75@6 00; fair to good, $4 75@5 50; spring lambs, $4 50@7 00; veal calves, $6 50@7 25; heavy and thin, $4 00@4 50.

In the Oil Fields

On the west side of the Pine Grove extension, in Wetzel county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company's test on the Lida Lemasters farm is a fine producer and the district will show wonderful activity in the near future. Ten or 12 locations have been made in that vicinity by the South Penn Company, the Kanawha Oil Company and the Southern Oil Company and Gressiee. It will call for the drilling of a large number of wells to the east, between the new producer on the Lemasters farm and the older part of the pool to tension. In the lower end and on the east side of the development, the South Penn has drilled its test on the Hannah Shreve farm through the Gordon and has a producer good for 125 barrels a day.

L. S. Hoyt & Co. have completed their No. 70 on the S. Hoyt tract and have a 100-barrel producer.

In the Richwood run district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled in its second test on the C. Kendall farm and has a very strong gasser.

On the west side of the Smithfield district and southeast of the Fallen Timber run district, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the Susanna Hull farm is holding up at 100 barrels a day. The same company's No. 12 on the Fairfield-Petersgen farm is producing 15 barrels a day from the Keener sand.

North of Mannington, Marion county, the South Penn has completed its No. 5 on the E. A. Blackshere farm and has a gasser in the fifth sand. In the same district the Ohio Oil Company's No. 10 on the John Blackshere farm is holding up at 80 barrels a day from the Big Injun.

In the Big Flint district, Doddridge county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the Joseph Underwood farm through all sands and found nothing except a small showing in the Big Injun. They will shoot and test the west sand this formation and if it does not prove a paying producer will abandon it.

In Indian creek, in the Kyle district, Tyler county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 4 on the Andrew Seckman farm, reported through all sands and dry, was shot in the Gordon last Friday and developed a very strong gas pressure.

In Meade district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 3 on the John Ankrum farm is holding up at 120 barrels a day.

The Buffalo Oil Company has completed its No. 6 on the Volcano oil tract and has a show for a 25-barrel producer, or better, in the Berea grit.

On the Ohio side, in the Benwood district, Washington county, the Berea Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the Ames heirs' farm into the Big Injun sand and has a show for a 30-barrel producer.

In the Clay district, Morgan county, the A. B. Allen Company has completed No. 16 on the S. & J. R. Bell farm and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper in the shallow sand. In the same district the Midland Company has completed Nos. 185 and 186 on the E. R. Dale tract. The first is a duster and the last a very small pumper in the first Cow Run sand.

The local fields have little to offer. In Enon valley, Beaver county, the Davis Oil Company has a contract on the Elder farm and has a light gasser. The Enon Valley Oil Company has completed a test on the Z. D. Zah farm and has a duster. In the same district, near New Galilee, W. R. Reed & Co. have completed No. 3 on the James McGeorge farm and have a very small pumper.

Back of Beaver, Allegheny county, the McCafferty Oil and Gas Company's No. 1 on the M. J. Thomas farm is producing 12 barrels a day.

In the Mt. Morris district, Greene county, Gerrard, Longnecker & Co.'s Firm No. 1 and have a 40-barrel producer in the deep sand.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Frank Kreider reports that at a depth of 715 feet the New York-Tonopah shaft at Tonopah, Nev., penetrated pink porphyry last week. There is every indication that a ledge will be struck within a very short time. The porphyry assays from $3 50 to $5. The shaft has passed through the second flow of andesite, and is now entering into what is the true lode porphyry or ore bearing formation of Tonopah.

The $2 assessment on Michigan was payable yesterday. The $200,000 thus raised will be used in the development of the mine.

Advices from the Dragoons state that the Black Diamond smelter has been blown in and is turning out in the neighborhood of 15 tons of blister copper a day. Additional furnaces have been ordered from the east and will be installed as fast as received. The controlling stock has been acquired by Michigan copper men and they expect to make a custom smelter out of their plant and treat all ores from the Dragoons. A large amount of copper and silver ore has already been received at the smelter for treatment for outside parties.

There is much excitement at Loomis, Wash., over the rich strike made in the Security mine. The force working in the mine ran into a quartz lode that is full of free gold and assays at over $5,000 per ton. The vein is three feet wide and the ray streak two feet wide. This is said to be the richest strike ever made on the famous Palmer mountain.

It is reported in Salt Lake that the Ophir Queen has resumed work. The manager, Mr. Hunt, says he expects the mine to make a better showing than it has in the past.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 1.—In the absence of London advices, owing to the continued holiday there, business was generally quiet in the New York markets and prices remained at last Friday's level. Copper is nominally unchange at $14 12½@14 87½; the sales quiet but steady at $27 75@28 00. Lead was dull at $4 37½. Spelter ruled steady at $5 75. Iron was dull and unchanged, with No. 1 foundry northern quoted at $20 00@21 00; No. 2 foundry northern at $19 00@20 00; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $20 00@20 50. Exports of copper for the month of May were 9,187 tons, making 59,234 tons for the five months this year, against 80,380 tons for the same period in 1902.

NUNCUPATIVE WILL IS FILED

S. F. McCaulley Was Too Weak to Write Bequest to His Wife.

C. H. DUNCAN LOSES CASE

Bill in Equity Against Officers of the Manufacturers' Gas Company Involving $575,000 Dismissed—Constables' Reports.

The nuncupative will of S. F. McCaulley, late of Knoxville, was yesterday filed with Register George H. Stengel. This is the third oral will made a part of the records of this county.

The decedent was an oil operator, and went to Allegan City, Mich., last March to take up some oil and gas leases. While stopping at a hotel he became dangerously ill. On March 21, McCaulley was informed by Dr. A. L. Robinson that he could not recover. Being unable, from his weakened condition, to sign his name he made his physician and the hotel proprietor, H. D. McDuffy, a statement, which will be recorded as his last will. The witnesses swore to the following paper:

S. F. McCaulley states, with a full knowledge of the dangers attending his sickness, and in the presence of H. D. McDuffy and A. L. Robinson, that he wishes all of his property to be given to his wife, Mrs. Clara McCaulley.

NEW TRIAL ASKED IN LAPPE CASE.

Application was made for a new trial in the contested will case of John C. Lappe, in which a verdict was rendered for the contestant, Mrs. Anna M. Gfeller, a step-daughter of the decedent. One reason given is that Mrs. Gfeller, during the trial, engaged in conversation with one of the jurors.

Application for a new trial was made by the defendants in the case of James Humbird and others, against E. J. Davis and W. E. Griffith for an accounting of a Mexican mining deal.

Judge R. S. Frazer handed down an opinion dismissing the bill in equity filed by Charles H. Duncan against H. B. Beatty, S. Y. Ramage and O. H. Strong, for an accounting. The defendants were officers of the Manufacturers Gas Company when it purchased the interests of the Peoples Light & Heat Company for $575,000. The bill alleged the defendants, as individuals made $200,000 by the transaction.

The court says it can see no reason why a director should not sell to his corporation property which is necessary for its uses, if the sale is free from fraud and no advantage is taken of the corporation, and that no profit should be permitted to be realized by the director, if the transaction shows a breach of trust. It is stated by the court that the two companies were competitors to only a small extent, and that the acquisition of the Peoples company was not necessary for the purpose of either abating competition or restoring or upholding prices, and under the circumstances, the court says, it is unable to see any good reason for precluding Beatty and Ramage from purchasing the property, because of their positions in the Manufacturers company.

BEATTY AND RAMAGE HAD RIGHT.

Having that right, the court continues, the right to sell the same to the Manufacturers company necessarily follows.

It is stated the purchase was advantageous to the Manufacturers company, and that the purchase was made after a full, fair and open examination of the property. The court says in conclusion that no effort was made to persuade stockholders or directors to vote for the purchase, and that neither Ramage nor Beatty participated in the election; also that the plaintiffs did not satisfactorily explain the delay of two years in instituting the proceeding, and that the delay is sufficient to estop him from carrying on the action.

The hearing of the quarterly returns of the constables was taken up and their reports showed the last crusade on the slot machines had been fairly effective. Very few returns of liquor law violations were made and the constables, as a rule, contended their bailiwicks were free from speakeasies. A number of them, among them the constable from the Fourteenth ward, Pittsburgh, and the Fifth ward, Allegheny, were questioned about specific places, but the constables professed ignorance of any violations.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury for the June term began its session yesterday morning with Francis J. Torrance as foreman. In the afternoon the following true bills were returned: Larceny from the person, Washington Johnston; assault and battery, George Hermann, Harry Schleisninger; pointing firearms, Joseph Johnson, John Pevarc; larceny, Thomas Armstrong, Michael Hordich, Tony Cicco (3), Frank Fritz, Laura Gallo, George Horner, Harry Churchfield; misdemeanor Harry Schleisninger, Joseph Bartel (3), Thomas Murray, William Quinn; aggravated assault and battery, Ella Wilson, William Wilson; entering a building with intent to comit a felony, Joseph Johnson, Charles Nelson, Samuel Smith; felony, W. F. Cousin; felonious assault and battery, Michael Sindrich, Rochier Delancy, Peter Loncas, Frank Voltrenko, Peter Podesky; robbery, George Parker, Grant Evans; fraudulently making and uttering a paper, etc., W. J. Noel.

The ignored charges were: Selling liquor illegally, Michael Baldurch; assault and battery J. D. Edwards, Mary Dean, F. Foamer; aggravated assault and battery, John Demarsico; misdemeanor, Luther Diggison.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

James S. Campbell took out letters of administration on the estate of Robert C. Campbell. Attorney D. S. McCann represents the estate.

Letters of administration on the estate of Louise Ebert were taken out by Charles P. Ebert, who is represented by Attorney Charles A. Locke.

The Dollar Savings Fund & Trust Company of Allegheny took out letters of administration on the estate of John Gura. Attorney J. W. Collins represents the administrator.

Thomas McCafferty sued Charles C. Hamilton for a commission of $400 in the sale of the property of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church at Penn avenue and Seventeenth street.

Wilhelmina Koerber sued August Goldstrohm of Duquesne to recover $48 for boarding and loading the defendant's children, Goldstrohm, it is said, having ejected them from his house.

Several members of the congregation applied to court of common pleas No. 2 for a charter for the Free Methodist church of Mt. Washington. Attorney Andrew S. Miller is the solicitor.

The case of the Jonathan Clark Sons Company against the city of Pittsburgh, to recover for work done on the Highland reservoir, was continued, owing to the illness of one of the attorneys in the case.

Members of the Gladden United Presbyterian congregation and the First United Presbyterian congregation of Swissvale, have applied to court of common pleas No. 2 for charters of incorporation. Donaldson Bros. are solicitors for both churches.

J. McAteer & Son and others, creditors of the Albert J. Thrasher Mercantile Company, doing business in Grant street, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court against the concern. The petitioners say their claims aggregate $1,146 18, and ask that a sale of the property on a $1,000 judgment be stopped.

Executions were issued as follows: Westmoreland Guarantee Building & Loan Association vs. Waldburger Kelly, $417 42; Mrs. R. M. Gibson vs. R. S. Dickson, administrator, $1,516 80; Harriet Wilson vs. Clara S. Huddleston, $7,608 30; Henry C. James vs. Frank and John James, $434 01; Samuel Stewart et al vs. same, $527 10.

Italians Sued for Beating Alderman.

Adam Lesco, Frank Martin, Joseph Lesco, Andrew Godark, Michael Gingo and John Battersack, Italians, were committed to jail yesterday by Alderman H. Lynch of Woods Run, Allegheny, who charges them all with aggravated assault and battery. The men got into a fight on Petrel street on Sunday night and when Alderman Lynch, who was nearby, tried to make peace, they jumped on him and gave him a bad beating. All were fined $1 before Alderman Abernathy yesterday and were rearrested at once by Alderman Lynch.

A BOOTBLACK GONE COST 20 SHINES TO A PITTSBURGHER

"A bootblack gone cost me 20 shines," exclaimed a local business man, yesterday, as he emerged from a barber shop with a friend.

"What ho! Methinks thou'rt vexed. Why so?" came back the friend, trying to imitate the Shakespearean style as did the troubled one, who got his suggestion from Shylock's statement in the "Merchant of Venice;" "A diamond gone cost me 2,000 ducats."

"List, and I will to thee a tale unfold," began the poetic man. "On Saturday I was in the barber shop we just left, and I made a wager on today's ball game with the barber and the bootblack. I took the New Yorks against the Pirates, 20 shaves and 20 shines being the amount of the stake. If I won I was to pay nothing for 20 shaves and the same number of shines. If I lost I was to pay double price for each of the 40. I won, but as the porter of the place has left I will have to pay for my shines, although I will get my shaves for nothing. Come along and help me drown my sorrow in a few highballs." Then they passed into the nearest hostelry.

It is surprising the amount of betting that goes on in barber shops in this city. Hundreds of barbers hold money every day of customers in their places who meet and bet because they have differences of opinion, generally on ball games or horse races. Many barbers, too, do considerable wagering themselves, and are always ready to bet on shaves with customers on the same conditions as did the admirer of the bard of Avon.

PAYNE DISPROVES ABSURD CHARGES

No Excessive Rentals Paid for Postoffices in New York State.

FIGURES ARE PRODUCED

Total Amount Expended on That Account Is $34,000 Less Than That Alleged to Have Been Stolen or Extorted.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.

In order that there may be no delay in bringing the case of A. W. Machen, the accused superintendent of free delivery, to trial for bribery, the witnesses against Machen will be sent before the Federal grand jury on Wednesday, and it is expected that a true bill will be found this week. As the case will not be tried before September Machen will probably be admitted to bail.

Postmaster General Payne today demolished the report that there had been rascality in the rental of postoffice locations in the state of New York and that the government had been defrauded out of excess rentals to the amount of $500,000. The postmaster general turned to the report of the auditor and showed that the total amount paid for rents, including light and heat, was only $466,000, or $34,000 less than the sum alleged to have been stolen.

The head of the postoffice department found himself besieged by a large number of members of congress today. He has created a panic among them because he has decided that the new rural free delivery routes which were to have gone into effect under the Machen regime July 1, have been held up under stop orders, because only in that way can the deficiency be kept under the $100,000 mark for the year.

Many congressmen fear that since attention has been called to the manner in which the expenses of the free delivery system are growing that it will be abandoned. Representative Landis of Indiana said today that he is ready to give the postmaster general a fight on this question if anything is done toward abolishing the rural free delivery.

Pistol Practise

Is becoming more popular among women. The reason given is that a woman should know how to use the pistol for self protection. The theory should be carried farther. Where a woman is in danger from assault once she is in danger from disease every day of her life. Women have not only to run the risk of diseases which threaten husband, brother, and son, but they have also to guard against diseases which are peculiar to womanhood.

From these diseases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effectively defend women. The use of this medicine preserves as well as restores the womanly health. It corrects irregularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I cannot say enough for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Ida M. Tutt, of 406 Franklin Street, Crawfordsville, Ind. "I could hardly walk alone or do my housework when I heard of your wonderful medicine. I used five bottles of each and several vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and can say I am a well woman. I thank Dr. Pierce for his advice for he helped me to live. May many thousand women take my advice and when in poor health or suffering from any female trouble take Dr. Pierce's wonderful medicines."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps (expense of mailing only), for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CALL FROM LONDON FOR AID FOR KISHINEFF JEWS

Letter from English Divine to Be Read at New Covenant Mission Today.

At the monthly prayer meeting of the New Covenant mission, to be held at the Mission Home, No. 333 Forty-second street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon an offering will be taken in behalf of the suffering Jews at Kishineff. The Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry, pastor of the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church, will speak. The friends of Israel are invited to make a hearty response to the cry of the distressed Kishineff Jews.

The following letter was received yesterday from the Rev. Samuel H. Wilkinson of London, England, who writes from Russia concerning the scenes witnessed at Kishineff after the massacre. Mr. Wilkinson is a thoroughly reliable person, and his tale of horror confirms all that has been reported concerning the awful barbarities at Kishineff.

I have just come from Kishineff. I have passed through perhaps nearly two miles of streets where every Jewish house stands desolate and waste. To add insult to injury (for it is not in this case insult), and to identify their work with their creed, the Christians have daubed or chalked crosses, Greek and Roman, on the Jewish dwellings. Possibly nearly 20,000 than 10,000 Jews are ruined; for this work touched with some exceptions only the poorest Jews.

I have walked through the wards of the Jewish hospital and seen the work of brute hands which have left their mark in hideous wounds and shattered lives. Eyes gouged out, nails driven up the nostrils and into the top of the head, with other nameless horrors. This was the sport of the Christian populace with Jewish men and women. Forty-four Jewish corpses lie in the Jewish cemetery, and that may not be the full tale of death.

I have listened to stories of eye-witnesses and sufferers, told quietly and without exaggeration. There was no need of exaggeration; the evidences of torture and suffering were all too apparent. "Thou hast made us as the off-scouring; and refuse in the midst of the people; all our enemies have opened their mouths against us; fear and a snare is come upon us, desolation and destruction. Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water for the destruction of the daughter of my people." Lament. 3:45-48.

It seems that for the moment the best Christian testimony toward Israel, and against this horror, is a practical share in the work of relief. The Jews are doing and will do much, if any Christian offerings are made to help them. I am convinced that in this case they could go through no better hands than those of the leading Jews of Kishineff—amongst whom Dr. Muchnik is recognized as an honorable and worthy leader.

Clerks Appointed in Allegheny.

City Treasurer Andrew L. Robinson of Allegheny yesterday appointed as clerks in his office M. E. Diebold, T. D. Leckey, M. Doreland, H. W. Stratman, J. M. Lowry, Charles Bupler and Harry E. Speidel.

AN IDEAL FUEL

is natural gas. No dirt, no smoke. Doesn't heat the house up in warm weather. Economical. The coal wasted in letting the fire die out after a meal would pay for the gas to do the same work. HAYS AND MOORE MADE PROMISES TO PREACHERS

City Officials Say They Will Make Efforts to Carry Out Suggested Reforms.

At the meeting of the Presbyterian Ministerial association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny in the Second church, Pittsburgh, yesterday, the Rev. J. T. Gibson reported on the work of the committee which was appointed yesterday week to call upon Mayor William B. Hays and Mayor James G. Wyman with a view to provide for better Sunday observance in the two cities.

Dr. Gibson stated that Mayor Hays and Director Harry Moore of the safety department of Pittsburgh promised that they would do all they could to see that the recommendations of the ministers are carried out. All violations of the Sunday laws should be at once reported to the mayor, he said.

Representatives of the Methodist Protestant and Congregationalist denominations discussed the proposed union of these churches with the United Brethren church. Dr. George Shaffer, Dr. Lyman T. Davis, Dr. C. E. Wilbur and Dr. J. J. Murray of the Methodist Protestants; Dr. B. G. Newton and Dr. Thomas Clayton of the Congregationalists taking part.

"Missions in Cuba" was the subject of an address by the Rev. M. R. Mosley, a Baptist missionary at the Baptist minister's meeting. Miss Johanna R. Moore, who for 40 years has been engaged in missionary work among the freedmen of the south, also addressed the meeting.

At the Lutheran meeting inquiry was made as to the whereabouts of the Rev. Paul S. L. Johnson, who was dismissed from the Ohio synod about two weeks ago. It was stated that he intended coming to this city from Columbus and would found a sect that would follow him in his views that Christ will return to earth and after ruling for 1,000 years in Palestine the end of the world would come.

None of the local preachers knew the Rev. Mr. Johnson personally and would not discuss his strange doctrine. They were unanimous in their opinion that he would not profit much by a visit to this section. The Rev. Mr. Johnson was dismissed from St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Columbus, O., as soon as he announced his views. The Rev. W. N. Harley of Capitol university was elected his successor.

The Man Who Never Makes Mistakes

Manufacturers Make Them—
Buyers Make Them—No Matter How Careful—
Sometimes 'Tis the Style,
Again It's the Color,
Dame Fashion is Coquettish.

DOES NOT BELONG TO THE DRY-GOODS BUSINESS—

WHEN THE MANUFACTURER MAKES MORE THAN HE CAN SELL, OR THE BUYER TAKES MORE THAN THE STORE CAN GET RID OF,

PRICES MUST DROP

This most always happens just about the time something particularly good is badly needed to feed a great June Sale.

With this preface which mentions no names, but implies a good many things, we offer you:

AT $5.75—A stylish new line of Ladies' Nine-gore Walking Skirts, in fine all-wool coverts—black, light gray, Oxford, tan, castor, brown and blue—garments for which we ought to get $7.50.

AT $15.00—Wonderful suits. Worth over cent of $25.00—fine Foulards, plain-colored Taffetas, plaid Taffetas. Handsomely trimmed.

AT $5.98—Greatest bargain. You can not match it. India Silk Suits in shirt waist styles. Neat figures.

TWO LOTS OF WRIST BAGS—We captured these in New York last week from a manufacturer who was eager to put six days' business into five days, so that he could enjoy Decoration Day.

LOT ONE—The manufacturer's complete made-up stock of walrus, seal and morrocco Wrist Bags, in black, gray and tan, which were made to fill in 75c and $1.00 retail lines. They are moire-lined with inside pockets and some of them containing coin purses of the same leather. Your choice for 59c

LOT TWO—A finer line of Wrist Bags, in genuine seal, genuine walrus, suede and morocco—Black, tan and gray—lined with elegant moire silk—containing purse and card case of same leather. Values $1.25 and $1.50—Your choice for 95c

UMBRELLAS—Because an Eastern manufacturer had too many long ivory and pearl handles, trimmed with sterling silver and gold-plated metal, he let us have these handles at half-cost and fitted them to umbrellas at net cost. Here's a lot of ladies will get lovely piece-dyed Taffeta Silk Umbrellas with taped edges, in black, with all the accessories of elegance—choice of more than a hundred styles of handles in pearl and ivory. Really worth about $2.50—for $1.69
